'Gambling Lady' To Be Shown in Northville

A charming new pair of screen lovers have been brought together by Warner Bros. in the persons of Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea. They appear for the first time together in "Gambling Lady," which comes to the Penniman Allyn Theatre, Northville, on July 14.

McCrea, the handsome leading man, who stands six feet, two inches in his stocking feet, is an excellent foil for the delicate beauty of the slim and fragile Miss Stanwyck.

The two stand out in contrast not only physically but emotionally, Miss Stanwyck being cool and self-possessed under the most trying circumstances, expressing her inner emotion with some subtle change of face and voice, while McCrea is the gay, the debonaire, who is boisterously happy, violently happy, violently angry or bitterly depressed.

The two have the roles of lovers in the picture, who are supposed to be in love, but she gets the blinded husband into a mess from which the wife extricates him by sacrificing her own love.

Pat O'Brien shares honors with McCrea as one of the masculine leads and the unsuccessful rival while Claire Dodd plays the part of the unscrupulous and flirtatious homewrecker.

There is a strong supporting cast throughout, others including C. Aubrey Smith, Phillip Reed, Philip Faversham, Robert Barrat, Robert Elliot and Ferdinand Gottschalk.

Archie Mayo directed the picture from the screen-play by Ralph Block and Doris Malloy, which is based on Miss Malloy's original story dealing with the gambling syndicates that infest the large cities.

NEW BANK'S RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

started. While income is continually accruing, only a small amount was received in cash during this first 37 days of operation.

Item 10 is the total amount of deposits as of the date of this statement. These are composed of 125 commercial accounts and 245 savings accounts or a total number of accounts of 370. Of this amount $12,755.21 is municipal deposits, that is, City, Township, School Districts, etc.

The bank at the present time has only three employees, the Cashier, Byron E. Lapham, Teller and Mrs. Arvale Tipper, Clerk and stenographer. The total monthly payroll for the three is $298.33. The Cashier is not on the payroll of the Receivership of the old Farmington State Savings Bank. The rental cost of the banking office at the present time, including heat and janitor service is $39.00 monthly.

We feel that the support given to this institution since it opened has perfectly justified its organization. We expect to continue to exert every effort to extend all services consistent with safe banking. It is rather difficult at times to be obliged to disapprove some applications for loans, but we feel that our first duty is to protect the funds of our depositors and the investment of our stockholders, and that our assets at all times consist of 100% investments. We do, however, have funds to loan, and are always very glad to make a loan on unquestionable collateral or to a borrower who beyond the question of a doubt will be able to repay the loan in full at maturity.

We are pleased to present to our stockholders this detailed report, which is in line with our policy to keep them informed at all times regarding the condition of the bank. We appreciate the stockholders support of the bank and if you have friends who are desirous of making a banking connection, suggest the Farmington State Bank to them. It is volume of business which will make profits for the bank and dividends for the stockholders. We will welcome any inquiries or suggestions from you regarding the bank and its operation.

Sincerely yours,

Howard M. Warner
Z. R. Aschenbrenner
Bruce S. Dickie
Emery O. Hutton
Floyd H. Nichols

Directors

Since the drawing up of the above report, which is as of June 30, the government bonds on which a profit of $746.86 is reported, have gone still higher in value, increasing the bank's profit on them to nearly $1,000.

In issuing the above statement, Mr. Knickerbocker said: "This is the way this bank is being run, with everything laid out in the open for all the stockholders to see at all times, and that's the way it will continue to be run—right out in daylight so anyone can find out what's being done at any time."

The more detailed, official report to the Banking Department is published elsewhere in this issue.

Refreshments were served picnic style with Frank Steele and Henry Trombley officiating in the cook's shanty.

The next course consisted of bags of nuts labeled to suit the particular brand of "nut" to which the recipient belonged, there being no lack of variety. After dining and discussion, plans for next year's forum were begun.
