Garden Club Will Sponsor Flower Show Next Week

Annual Event Will Take Place At Methodist Church Tuesday Afternoon

Farmington Garden Club will sponsor a September flower show at Farmington M. E. Church Tuesday, September 11, according to plans announced by Mrs. Kar G. Ritter, president of the club. The show will be educational in character, Mrs. Ritter said.

Classifications have been limited to a few classes of artistic arrangements and specimen blooms of dahlias and gladioli. Each arrangement will be graded according to a score card as to quality of flowers, color harmony and relationship of flowers and containers. Competent judges will pass on each arrangement. Specimen blooms must be named and one bloom to each display exhibited in milk bottles, it was explained.

Several of the nearby commercial growers have been solicited to make special exhibits of named varieties of dahlias and gladioli. The dahlias particularly, should be in their prime, it was pointed out.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there will be a lecture and demonstration on flower arrangement by an authority on the subject.

An invitation is extended to bring vases and flowers for individual problems in arrangement and an opportunity to arrange flowers for criticism will be afforded.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. Church, will serve dinner that night from 5 to 6:30 o'clock.

Classifications will close at noon on Tuesday and the judging will follow immediately, committee members stated.

CLASSIFICATIONS

September Flower Show, M. E. Church, Tuesday, September 11, 1934.

Class A. Artistic Arrangements

1. Arrangement for dining table in low bowls more than eight inches in diameter.

2. Arrangements for breakfast table in low bowls less than eight inches in diameter.

3. Arrangements for living room to be viewed from all sides.

4. Console or mantel arrangements built to place flat against wall to be viewed from sides and front only.

5. Arrangements in white and pastels.

6. Arrangements of a few flowers in small-necked vases.

7. Miniature arrangements not to exceed more than seven inches in any diameter, including container.

8. Arrangements in baskets or for jars for the floor.

9. Arrangement of fruit or vegetables for the table.

Class B. Specimen Blooms. Bloom to each display, exhibited in milk bottle.

1. Specimen bloom of named variety of dahlia.

2. Specimen bloom of named variety of gladioli.

Classifications close at noon Tuesday. Exhibitors are asked to leave their arrangements intact until the show closes at 9:30 p. m.

Entries will be judged in the following manner: quality of flowers, 30 per cent; arrangement of flowers, 50 per cent; relation to container, 20 per cent.

The judges will bear in mind that the colors should be clear, no faded blooms or foliage and free from insects or signs of disease.

In the arrangement of flowers, the following will be noted by the judges: Pleasing color combinations, proper use of foliage, and a proper balance of color and blooms; a good combination of different flowers.

CONTAINER. The container will be judged only in its relation to the proper receptacle for a particular flower combination. Avoid using vases with vivid flowers painted on them. Always have the arrangement brighter than the container. Bear in mind it is the flowers that are exhibited, not a beautiful vase.

DEDICATION SUNDAY. Dedication of the new Herbert R. McKinney Memorial building will be held Sunday, Sept. 9.

An invitation is extended to all American Legion Auxiliary members to attend the program which starts at 3:30 o'clock.

Legion Holds Its Annual Installation Of Officers

Officers to be installed are: Homer Eisenlord, commander; Charles Elkin, senior vice-commander; Henry Miner, junior vice-commander; William C. Carpenter, adjutant; William Bauer, chaplain; Fred Wendlandt, treasurer; and Spencer LeFevre, sergeant-at-arms.

Plays With Fire, May Lose Sight

Farmington Township Lad Suffers Burns From Gunpowder

A 12-year-old Farmington Township lad is repenting today for his folly for having played with gunpowder.

With his eyesight imperiled by the flash and suffering from painful facial burns, he is on a cot in St. Joseph's hospital in Pontiac.

The boy, whose family name is Lint (It was impossible to learn his given name) lives on North Gate Road near Eight Mile Road. According to Dr. J. W. Norton, of Farmington, who attended him, young Lint had removed the powder from a shotgun shell and touched a lighted match to it, the powder igniting and flashing over his face.

Dr. Norton said it was "probable" whether or not he would be able to see again. He will be kept at Pontiac until the seriousness of his burns is ascertained.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MOTHER OF NINE CHILDREN

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Mrs. William Spaller, who died suddenly Sunday. Mrs. Spaller was 81 years old. Services were held at the home and at Salem Evangelical church. Rev. William Breitenbach officiating. Interment was made at Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Spaller was born April 21, 1853 and in 1878 was married to William Spaller. Her native home was at Vorpommern, Germany. Surviving Mrs. Spaller are nine children, Mrs. Louise Schweitzer, William Spaller, Mrs. Anna Pauline, Henrietta Sharp, Paul Spaller, Jessie Greenwood, Emma Turner, Walter Spaller and George Spaller. In addition there are 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren surviving the deceased.

EXPERIENCED MUSIC INSTRUCTORS FOUND SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The Farmington School of Music, with two well-known Farmington people at its head, opened this week. Rev. W. Breitenbach, pastor of Salem Evangelical church, and Mrs. Florence Edgar, are its sponsors. They will be assisted by Ernest Ham.

In making the announcement of the opening of the school, the sponsors say the instruction in piano, organ, voice culture, violin, introduction in Sacred and Religious Oratorio, Italian, French and German opera, Wagner's music drama, classical in music appreciation and history and theory of music will be offered.

Rev. Breitenbach studied music at Tuebingen, Germany and for many years has given instruction in music. At one time he was a critic for a Chicago daily newspaper and is at present director of the Evangelical Choral society of Detroit.

Mrs. Edgar is a graduate of the Cleveland School of Music, has taken post graduate work at Baldwin-Wallace University and has taught piano for several years. Ernest Ham will instruct in violin.

HARRY MCCRACKEN

McCracken Heads Leonard Backers

Committee Optimistic Concerning Candidate's Chances At Polls

With the hour of the Primary election close at hand, members of the Farmington Leonard-for-Legislature committee are making their closing drive in an active campaign to send Archie G. Leonard to Lansing as representative of the First Oakland County District.

The committee, headed by Harry N. McCracken, as chairman, and Mrs. Martha Warner as secretary, has taken by more than two score prominent citizens of Farmington and vicinity, is optimistic concerning the chances of its candidate to win the Republican nomination, according to a spokesman of the committee. Friends of Mr. Leonard are especially hopeful for a large vote in this part of the County, they said.

One committeeman commented, "A large vote, especially from Farmington and vicinity, would be regarded as highly advantageous to Mr. Leonard's candidacy. A commanding lead established in this part of the County would go far toward insuring his nomination. If voters in this vicinity have no other incentive in voting Tuesday than to vote for Archie, we want to impress upon them the importance of so doing, even if that is the only vote they cast."

FIRST PLACE STILL HELD BY PARKER'S MIDGETS IN LEAGUE

Still undefeated in league competition by virtue of a 17 to 7 victory over the A. & P. team of Northville last week, Parker's Midgets moved into the final two weeks of their league schedule with a firm hold on first place in the standings. The victory was the Midgets' seventh in succession and left them with a record of seven wins and no losses.

This week the Midgets are slated to play the Northville Infants in what should be an easy game. Next week's contest between the Midgets and the Lutheran church runner up in the standings, promises to be an excellent contest and a fiery game is promised.

On Labor Day the Midgets took time off from their league schedule to engage in the Legion tournament and left them with a record of seven wins and no losses. Two Pay Fines In Court For Disorderly Conduct

Edwin Sukowski, 23 years old, of Northville, and William Hazen, 38 years old, of Novi, paid fines of $10 each in Justice John J. Schulte's court Tuesday after pleading guilty to charges of disorderly conduct.

They were arrested early Tuesday morning by Special Deputy Marie Pettus at a beer garden owned by James Fanzini, located at the western limits of the Cutoff and Grand River Road.

City Pays $4192 In Back Interest On 3 Bond Issues

Action Of Commission Wipes Off Two-Thirds Of Interest In Default

Farmington City Commission voted Wednesday night to pay interest, which in some cases has been in default since February 1933, on water and sewer bonds totalling $4,192.50. The back interest was due on three different issues, two on water bonds and one on sewer bonds.

The interest was paid Thursday morning on the different issues as follows:

Water Bonds, dated January 15, 1922.

Interest due August 15, 1933, $528.75.

Interest due January 15, 1934, $528.75.

Water Bonds, dated August 7, 1924.

Interest due February 1, 1933, $285.00.

Interest due August 1, 1933, $285.00.

Interest due February 1, 1934, $285.00.

Sewer Bonds, dated August 1, 1930.

Interest due August 1, 1933, $1140.00.

Interest due February 1, 1934, $1140.00.

The payment of this sum does not wipe the City's interest slate which is due on bonds entirely clean, but it does eliminate a large portion of it. The last semi-annual interest payments on each of the three issues totalling $1,925.00, still due, but members of the committee would be of the opinion that this too, would soon be taken care of.

BIRMINGHAM MAN KILLED WALKING ON GRAND RIVER

George Wright, 844 Pine Street, Birmingham, was struck and killed Saturday morning by an automobile on Grand River Road near Eight Mile Road, a half mile east of Middlefield, as he was walking across the highway.

Wright was thrown 30 feet, according to Special Deputy Marie Pettibone, who took the injured man to Redford Receiving hospital. Wright died 20 minutes after being admitted. The driver of the car that struck Wright was W. J. Davis of 431 East Canfield avenue, Detroit, who told officers that he did not see Wright quickly enough to avoid the crash.

Wright had been visiting friends at the Fred Gieseking home, 28905 Grand River avenue, near where the accident took place.

THOUSAND REFUNDS STILL UNCLAIMED IN STATE OFFICE

Approximately 1,000 state warrants representing weight tax refunds are still held in the unclaimed file of the Department of State. This represents slightly less than $5,000 which Michigan citizens can secure by sending proper addresses to the department.

Each warrant being held in the unclaimed file was mailed to the address given by the automobile owner in securing 1934 plates and has been returned unclaimed because the motorist moved without leaving a proper forwarding address.

If motorists who have not received refund warrants send proper addresses to the department, the warrant will be remailed.

Three Are Jailed For Larceny-Disorderly

Harry Durecka, 22 years old, 3765 Cass Ave., Detroit, was sent to jail for 30 days when he pleaded guilty Tuesday before Judge John J. Schulte to a charge of simple larceny. General Ledford, 18 years old, of Novi, received a sentence of 30 days for the same offense, stealing gravel from the Taft gravel pit.

Peter Soroka, 34 years old, Sixteen Mile Road and Dequindre Road, was sentenced to spend five days in jail for being disorderly. Special Deputy Marie Pettibone found Soroka asleep in the center of Ten Mile Road in an automobile.
