My Dear Mr. Levinson:

Wish to thank you for publishing "Father's Last Letter." It seemed like a last message from him. I saw him writing the letter, but little dreamed what was to come of him.

Father was so young in body and mind, I know that if his heart had been as good as the rest of him, he could have lived a century, but in the midst of his busy life of interest in public affairs, gardening and driving, he was stricken. He was able to call to me and I immediately gave stimulants and called the doctor, but the weak heart did not rally much and at the end of twenty-four hours he passed away very peacefully, never realizing his condition.

He was very interesting to associate with as his war experiences as an orderly at General Thomas' headquarters along with his remarkable memory was a never failing source of entertainment.

Last rites for him were held at the Masonic Temple with officers of Tyre Lodge reading the services. His casket was draped with the "Colors he loved so well," and he was followed to the grave by three comrades of the G. A. R. His last resting place is a beautiful spot in Oak Grove Cemetery overlooking the lakes to the north.

He will be missed in his home city as he was "Coldwater's Grand Old Man." Of his passing I will quote from one of his own poems the last verse.

'But when the orders came to march
Life's last long weary mile,
We'll give a cheer and answer
"Here!"
And meet them with a smile."

WEST FARMINGTON

Miss Viola Bachelor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bachelor, who has been very ill is slowly improving.

The North Farmington Auxiliary which was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Carey on North Farmington Road was well attended. The next meeting will be Oct. 16. Place to be decided later.

Edward Baker's tractor caught on fire while he was working in the field with it. Mr. Baker was not injured but the tractor was badly damaged.

Patrons in this community who are interested in Walled Lake school attended the teachers' reception Friday evening, which was held in the high school gymnasium.

Lee Giegler, Mr. Graybeal and Miss Marion Graybeal called on Mrs. Edith Graham Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shock, who formerly lived on Oakland Road, have moved into the Universalist parsonage on Warner Ave.

Mrs. W. B. Farmer and Mrs. Phillip Kemp of Pontiac, Mrs. George Watson and Mary Watson of Sylvan Village, Mrs. Arthur Stewart and Miss Pauline Kerton, of Clarkston, and Misses Anna and Gertrude Richardson, of Farmington, spent Wednesday with Mrs. W. L. Richardson.

SUFFICIENT FUNDS ALLOTTED BY FERA FOR U. EMPLOYMENT

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has allotted sufficient funds to the University of Michigan to provide part-time work for more than 900 students during the coming year, according to Professor L. M. Gram, director of FERA administration here.

Last year 752 students were employed at the University in many fields of work. A government ruling this year stipulates that half of the funds be paid to students who were not enrolled in a college or university during January of 1934. Based on October, 1933 enrollment figures, it is expected that aid can be extended to about 12 per cent of the student body.

The rate of pay to students will be 40 cents an hour, with work limited to 8 hours in any day or 30 hours per week. The government allotment of funds to colleges is based on $15 per month to each student. The faculty administrative committee may vary this to a maximum of $20 or reduce it, depending on the needs of the individual student, according to President Alexander G. Ruthven.

BUILD 2000 MILES OF TRAIL

Nearly 2,000 miles of truck trails were constructed by CCC enrollees at camps administered by the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work up to July 1, according to a report to the Department of Conservation.

The report shows that the workers also built 200 miles of telephone lines and 470 miles of firelines.

A small fire that warms you is better than a large one that burns you.
