Pre-Holiday Crash Kills One; Weekend Safe

FARMINGTON The Christmas holiday weekend expired without any serious incidents in the Farmington area, although Farmington Township did experience a traffic fatality earlier on Dec. 22.

Mrs. Ellen R. Christoph, 27, of Detroit, was killed when her car rolled over about 10 times Wednesday morning on westbound I-696 near Middle Belt.

FROM NOON Dec. 24 to midnight Dec. 26 there were only minor traffic accidents and disorderly persons incidents in both city and township.

During that period, the city had five minor traffic accidents and three disorderly persons reports. The township had 14 traffic accidents, mostly property damage, and seven disorderly persons reports.

Mrs. Christoph, who works for Volks Stamp and Stencil at 24435 Halstead, Farmington, was en route to work when her car went out of control, rolling over and throwing her from the vehicle.

She was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital of multiple internal injuries including two punctured lungs.

Witnesses report her car was driven onto the right shoulder and was abruptly maneuvered back onto the roadway shortly before going out of control.
