

School Treasurers Lose Their Places

secretary, and Mr. Ujlayan as treasurer. Walter Headlee, president, Elmer Dohany, and H. W. Earle, trustees, will continue to fill out unexpired terms.

The consolidated school at Walled Lake is anticipating approximately 35 more students for the coming term from the West Farmington and Eagle districts. Cecil Cox was unanimously re-elected to the Board and will continue his duties as president, and William Glover was re-elected to serve as treasurer. Kenneth Rysel, as treasurer, E. V. Mercer, and Mrs. Clara Stoffel, as trustees, remain in office.

An interesting outcome in Fairview School District No. 4 meeting is that a woman succeeds her husband on the board. Electors unanimously chose Mrs. Pearl B. Gibson to succeed her husband, Thomas Gibson, when he declined the nomination for the office. Guy Dargan was chosen to fill the unexpired term of Shell Gates who resigned because he no longer qualifies for the office. Ernest Blanchard continues on the board.

Earl Banks was re-elected as moderator on the Board of the Novi School District No. 1 at the meeting Monday night. It is planned to send the children from that district to the Novi school as was done last year. James Erwin will continue his term as director and Fred Duffee continues as treasurer.

Electors gave Archie Leonard their unanimous vote for reelection as trustee on the Board of the Bond School District No. 6. Ernest Arthur Cox will continue to serve as president; Isaac Bond, secretary; Arthur Ruby, treasurer; and Robert McCrum, trustee. It is expected that there will be a slight increase in enrollment when the fall term begins.

According to the last school census, the Pierson school district No. 2 will have its enrollment increased by 15 or 20 more pupils. However, because of a shortage of room, the ninth and tenth grades will be discontinued. The voters re-elected Adolph Nacker and Martin Breitmeyer to the board. Jesse Zeigler will serve as president, Ernest Ash, treasurer, and Fred Garbow, trustee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Erwin and son Bobby left Thursday morning for a visit with Mrs. Erwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kidder at Alexander, N. Y.

Camel's Hair Is Alive

With Static Electricity
Camel hair is a most excellent conductor of heat and cold. Each hair contains what is known as a medullary ray, which is enclosed by a double-walled sheath in the same way that the inner container of a thermos bottle is surrounded by air space. Further, states a writer in the Boston Herald due to its insulative properties, camel hair is alive with static electricity which makes it peculiarly active and adaptable to varying and sudden atmospheric and temperature changes.

The sturdy Bacterian camel travels long distances across snow-covered mountain passes, comfortable and warm beneath his soft, shaggy coat. He likewise sheds skin with impunity, without blinding desert suns, his temperature-resisting coat serving to protect him also against the heat.

Each individual hair is very fine and very strong, so that a large number of fibers can be pressed into small space, thus making possible the soft, luxurious nap which distinguishes camel hair fabrics. The natural color of the camel hair is a pale tan. This pure color sometimes varies due to food, seasonal or climate conditions; small shipments of white camel hair are occasionally received in this country. Certain Indian camel hair is almost black, and in sections of Mongolia the hair sometimes takes on a pinkish coat. By and large, however, the natural color for camel hair is pale tan.

PIGMY ELEPHANTS WITH CIRCUS IN DETROIT

With one hundred double-length railroad cars, bearing 1600 people, African pigmy elephants, African ponies, seven hundred and thirty camels, 1000 menagerie animals and 700 horses, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus will arrive in Detroit, July 18 - 20 - 21 for afternoon and night exhibitions.

The circus is especially elated this season over the amazing success of the Big Show's sensational new super-feature—the first herd of African pigmy elephants (tiny tusked) that years ago attained their full growth over to leave the depths of darkest Africa, and the first herd of African elephants ever to set foot in America. The weird midget pachyderms are accompanied by a herd of miniature African ponies, world's smallest beasts of burden. These new importations have taken America by storm.

The Big Show's big top, seating 16,000 persons, covers seven rings and stages, a huge hippodrome and an exciting grandstand, and is one of 31 great tents, among them the menagerie, sheltering the world's largest traveling zoo. In its center this season will be seen Col. Tim McCoy's Indian Village, with Sioux and Blackfoot warriors and camped Col. McCoy, the screen's most outstanding western star, will himself lead his congress of rough riders of the world in the wild west.

The Greatest Show on Earth of four forces of foreign features this year, including the Natives, the Royal Bokaras, the Imperial Vienna, an assemblage of 60 free-running horses, ponies and elephants; the largest aerial ballet ever produced, Fresh from Europe, are the Walkmans, the Antelopes, the Buemrangs, the Romeros, the Maschinos, the Robertos, the Wilsons, the Torrence-Victorias, the Rooneys, aerial novelty sensations. The Loyal Novels, the Riffen, the Walters, famous bareback riding troups; the two Guice aerial comedy troups on the lofty bars; the two renowned Wallenda troups of high wire thrillers; the Otaris, who fly in miss suits, acrobats from an aerial crowd; the Flying Concellos, with Antoinette, only girl to accomplish a two-and-a-half mid-air somersault to a hand-to-hand catch; the Flying Comets; Dorothy Herbert, madcap rider of reindeer jumping horses and over fire burles, and Hugo and Mario, human projectiles—these are some of the most prominent features of the superb 1936 Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey program.

First Bathub "Health Menace"

America's first bathub was built in Cincinnati in 1842. It was an encephalic, flood with sheet lead, and was exhibited at a party. Next day, local papers denounced it as "luxurious and democratic vanity." That men took up and put upon the bathub a "menace to health." In 1843, Philadelphia undertook by public ordinance to prohibit bathing between November 1 and March 15. Two years later Boston made bathing unlawful except when prescribed by physicians. Bathubs were taxed $30 yearly, but that was only a little more than 50 years ago.

Naming Dog River
The Dog River is a short distance from Beloit, Wis. The name is derived from the great stone dog, or perhaps Assyrian bull, that once stood on the height overlooking the mouth of the river and the sea. The dog's head was hollow and when the wind blew from a certain direction the dog used to emit howls to the dogs of the surrounding population. The most valiant of these at length summoned up enough courage to push the gigantic dog over the edge of the cliff into the sea, where it is visible at low tide.

Clover May Have Arrived

In America as Stowaway
When the first red clover came to America has never been determined, but it quite probably came as a stowaway.

Records in the bureau of plant industry indicate that the hold of the tiny vessel which brought the Pilgrims from Holland in 1620 may have carried a few precious bags of red clover seed, a crop that has been steadily in the "Low Countries" for many years. It is definitely recorded that a ship sent from Holland in 1623 carried, among other needs "all sorts of seed."

Sir Richard Weston, a successful Surrey farmer who succeeded from religious persecution in Flanders, returned with seed of red clover in England in 1645, where it was known as "English grass." A New England record of 1663 reports "English clover grass thrives very well." In 1670 Long Island produced "Excellent English grass," which they sometimes mow twice a year. In 1679 there were in the same locality fields covered with clover in blossom.

A Boston newspaper in 1720 advertised "good clover hay" for sale. Twenty years later red clover was growing on the hills of New York and better methods for pulling the seed were described.

Invented Musical Notation

Pope Gregory in the Sixth century had a crude system of musical notation, consisting of dots and scratches. Guido effected many improvements in the Eleventh century. Square notes were used, and also colored ones, before the round ones came into use. They were called Maxima, Larga, Longa, Brevis and Semibrevis. The vocal stave was fixed at five lines and the treble clef was introduced about the Seventeenth century. The change from square to round notes came about the same time.

Truscon Tru-Flo Self-Leveling Flat

TRUSCON Tru-flo used in conjunction with TRUSCON Tru-seal is the perfect combination two-coat system for new plaster or already painted plaster interiors.

Tru-flo supplies the demand for a wall and ceiling paint that can be applied to an absolutely uniform finish without "laps" or brush marks. It is a self-leveling flat.

When used on new work, in conjunction with Tru-seal as a first coat—a complete job of painting may be done in one day, consisting of a first coat of Tru-seal and a finish coat of Tru-flo applied 4 to 6 hours later; and the room used that same evening.

Tru-flo, in addition to its remarkable flowing qualities, presents a very dense and opaque finish. Although designed as a flat it is a much more washable coating than ordinary flat paint.

Tru-flo is carried in ten beautiful shades. Color charts are available.
