

ROY F. COX DIES AFTER OPERATION

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon for Roy Cox of Farmington, who lived near Clarencville, the greater part of his life. Mr. Cox died in Ann Arbor after undergoing an operation for a tumor on the brain.

Mr. Cox, who was 54 years old, is survived by his widow, Margaret; a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Haddley; a son, Raymond; two brothers, Edgar of Detroit and Cecil of North Farmington; and three sisters, Mrs. William Zingelman, Mrs. Charles Robert of Clarencville, and Mrs. Harry Young of Brighton. The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robert of Oxford and was conducted by Spencer J. Heene. Burial was in the North Farmington cemetery.

John Dalrymple and Robert Burns of Farmington are enrolled in the University of Michigan summer session.

Miss Eleanor Ann Goetz of Detroit was the weekend guest of Miss Donna Lowery.

TWENTY-FIVE JOIN GIRLS RESERVE CLUB

Twenty-five enthusiastic high school girls gathered Monday night at the home of Mrs. B. J. McLeod, president of the Plymouth Girls Reserve, give an interesting account of programs carried on in her club. Many project suggestions were forwarded by Miss McLeod for adoption into the program of the Farmington Girls Reserve club.

Those who joined the club expressed a wide range of interests including athletics, social service, and music. The following officers were elected to lead the group until school starts. They are: Helen Schweln, President; Theresa Himmlersbach, Vice-President; Donna Lawery, Secretary; and Ruth Kipko, Treasurer. The club will terminate in a week's time and camp fire has been planned. It will begin at 9:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, August 12. All girls including the eighth grade and up are invited to meet in front of the high school. The only requirements for the hike, according to Norine Erwin, are "wheaties, rolls, a nicker, a sturdy pair of shoes, and a lusty singing voice."

ARE YOU A SIX-FOOTER? IF SO, YOU'RE WORTH $36

Are you a six-footer? If so, you are worth $36 in coupons to some Farmington youngsters. If you range only five feet in height, you are still worth $36.

GEN. ALLISON PRAISES U. S. PHONE SERVICE

Chief Signal Officer of Army Cites Value of a Nation-Wide, Integrated System

Major General J. B. Allison, Chief Signal Officer of the U. S. Army, in a hearing on the War Department Appropriation Bill for 1937 before a sub-committee of the Committee on Appropriations, made comments on this country's telephone service and the organization which furnished it. During the course of his testimony General Allison said:

A Highly Trained Personnel

"We in this country have the finest telephone communication in the world. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the parent organization of the various Bell telephone companies, controls the telephone communication of this country. If you pick up the telephone from the desk and state that you would like to speak to Mr. John Doe, who lives at 400 Market Street, San Francisco, and then do it, the telephone company central would invariably ask you to hold the phone. In a few minutes, she would have your party and if you knew the party to whom you were talking, you could hear his voice. The reason for this is that the A. T. & T. Co. not only prescribes the spacing of the dialing coils and repeating stations, but they require that the personnel who take up your call have the highest degree of training before they will ever permit them to serve the public.

Technique of Overseas Service

"Likewise, if you should ask to speak to London, your call would go into the Long Lines office at New York. Here highly technical trained personnel would decide, according to the season of the year and the time of the day, whether to give you an intermediate or a high frequency radio circuit. If the former, you would go out over Rocky Point, Long Island; if the latter, from their station at Lawrenceville, near the coast of New Jersey, and when you said 'hello' to London, your reply would come through Houston, Maine, if by long wave; and through Netcong, N. J., if by short wave, an attention through the underground telephone circuits back to your instrument.

Value in an Emergency

"The high character of service rendered by this company is made possible only by a centralized coordination and supervision of the vast integral units which make up the system. Under its existing organization and in its present high state of efficiency, its potential value to the country in event of grave emergency is almost beyond conception. Any action which would tend toward a return to the old loose arrangement of independent telephone companies would be decidedly detrimental to the cause of national defense.

An Impartial Statement

"In making this statement, I wish to say that I do not own a dollar's worth of stock in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, but I am mindful of the essential service they rendered national defense during the World War at a time when I was personally charged with furnishing the Signal Corps replacements for the A. E. F."

Close Restaurant During Funeral

In bereavement of their little grand-nephew, Ralph Francis Hamner, 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamner of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Papp closed their restaurants Saturday afternoon, July 25, from 2 to 5, during the funeral service at Coshocton, Ohio, where Mrs. Hamner had gone with her son to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Waring.

Mrs. Hamner is well known in Farmington having been in the employ of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Papp, for the past five years. The child's death, occurring after two days of intestinal illness, was a great shock to all the relatives and friends of the family.

Origin of Mute Unknown

Nobody seems to know who the mute which is attached to the bridge of a violin to change its tone, was invented. One of the earliest printed stories to call for its use is that of Lully's "Armide."

Tunnel Under Hudson River The top of the Holland Vehicular tunnel near the Hudson river at Fort City is 72 feet below high water. The roadway of the tunnel is 93 feet below high water.

Origin of Word "Teetotal"

"Teetotal," noun, is formed by adding "er" to the adjective, teetotal. This word was coined from the word total by Richard Turner in 1850.

Elephants Stand on Head

Teaching elephants to stand on its head at command is a difficult task, yet a cow elephant will stand on its head in a frenzy of despair.

Monette Wohlmut wedding Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Monette announce the marriage of their daughter Marie Gertrude to Calvin Wohlmut, the wedding taking place Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Farmington M. E. church with Rev. D. Stubbs officiating.

The bride chose a white silk crepe suit. She wore a white crepe hat with pink bluish veil and carried Tallman roses and lilies.

Miss Mildred Moore, the bride's only attendant, wore a yellow crepe gown, yellow hat and accessories and carried Tallman roses.

Ray Peterson of Pontiac was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Our Lady of Sorrows school on Grand River near Orchard Lake avenue for one hundred guests.

A beautifully decorated wedding cake graced the center of the bride's table. Decorations of pink and white were used throughout the rooms.

Immediately following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Wohlmut departed on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Mackinac Island.

They will reside in Pontiac. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foote of Duluth, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Danneberg, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wohlmut, Mrs. Wohlmut, Mrs. Mary Chesebrough of Fremont, Ohio, and Miss Gertrude Dowerman of Pontiac.

Your Check

Can be Your Witness in Court

Disputes as to the payment or non-payment of bills often lead to expensive litigation—but this need not be so in your case if you have a checking account.

Your cancelled check can be the witness which will win for you the verdict of any jury.

This is but one of the many valuable features of a checking account.
