Ancient Copper Mine
A copper mine which is said to be 3,000 years old, is located at Klecko, Poland. The works are in a wooded area and are situated at the implements and tools. Engravings of the planetary system and inscriptions decorate many of the galleries.

Location of New Zealand
Geographically, New Zealand is situated about 1,200 miles eastward of Australia and extends over a length of a thousand miles between 31 degrees and 45 degrees South latitude. It has an area of 103,000 square miles.

Chrysantheums as Food
The chrysantheums in England were once used to provide the first course for a party of diners at a palatial hotel. Details of the flower were boiled and served with herbs and spices. Result: Chrysantheum soup.

Weight of Game Birds
The quail is about half the weight of the Hungarian partridge while the foreigner in turn is just half the weight of the ruffed grouse, which tips the beam at 25 or 26 ounces. The average prairie chicken scales at two pounds and the pheasant as high as three.

Chalk Used on Farm Land
Roman history relates that the inhabitants of Gaul two thousand years ago applied chalk to their farm lands, taken from natural deposits several feet under the ground. Early in the Seventeenth century, lime is recorded as having been used in England.

The Dog Is True
Sir Walter Scott once said of the dog: "He hath a share of man's intelligence, but no share of man's falsehood. You may bring a soldier to slay a man with his sword, or a witness to take life by false accusation, but you cannot make a dog tell his benefactor."

No Chinese Hero Statues
China, the most peaceful and peaceful of the great nations, has never known as far as known, a statue to a famous military hero. Reverence and monuments for wise men, not warriors, have been her creed—Philip Sedgwick, New York City, in Collier's Weekly.

"A Horse A Horse"
The quotation, "A horse a horse!" my kingdom for a horse!" was in an old play, "The True Tragedy of Richard the Third," written in 1594, and Shakespeare put them in the mouth of the king in his play, "Richard III."

Red Cedar White at First
The wood of the red cedar, juniperus virginiana, is quite white when first formed. In a tree trunk eight inches in diameter the central six inches would be dark reddish brown surrounded by a hollow of white wood of almost white wood. The red heart wood is the more durable.

Boudoin's Favorite Dishes
A Boudoin recipe is very interesting. It is a favorite dish of vine leaves and cucumbers stuffed with spices. Bagdad wedding cake steeped in honey, or halva, a delicious sweetmeat made from cotton candy and nuts, were unobtainable in his native environs.

Largest Croquet Wicket
The world's largest croquet wicket sits from the sands at Tel-Aviv, Israel. For some reason it is called the Ctesiphon arch. It is said to be the only remaining part of a palace constructed in A. D. 550 by King Chosroes I of Persia.

Music King Its Lambs
Lamb chops in Luxembourg suggest the city's annual festival, the March of the Muttons, when snow white lambs pass through the streets in a gay procession, followed by a band of musicians playing the ancient Mutton march.

Harbor, Florida, and Mrs. Mahlon Bradley and son Pat were Wednesday luncheon guests of Mrs. Harley Walters.

Mrs. Flora Brannack spent Tuesday with Mr. Roy Hess in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wikom and family and Mark Wikom and son Wayne attended the funeral of Charles Wikom at Pontiac on Friday afternoon. Mr. Wikom suffered a stroke last December, from which he partially recovered. He went to the polls on Tuesday, and was stricken later the same day with another stroke, and died on Wednesday. Pneumonia was also a complication.

Miss Alice Westphal, formerly of Detroit, will be honored at a miscellaneous show the evening of October 28 at the home of Mrs. George McClelland of Royal Oak and given by the sisters of Harold McClelland.

Ronald J. Button, who has been an active worker in the First Baptist Church of Novi, is studying at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, having enrolled with a large entering class at the opening of the fall term.

Mrs. William S. Kenyon and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Donnelly of Detroit motored to Richmond Tuesday.

Levitization
The word levitization is defined as the phenomenon or illusion of maintaining or moving heavy objects, as the human body, in the air without support; also the subjective illusion of arising into or moving through the air without support, as in dreams. The art or science of levitization goes back into the mists of history. The tradition is ancient and, even today, widespread. In the puranas of Mother India there is a precise Sanskrit equivalent for levitation. This is lighthan, from lighu (light). The Buddhist sutras describe a similar power.

Leading Coffee Drinkers
The Danes, Swedes and Norwegians drink the most coffee. People in the United States come next, while Belgians, Finland and Cuba follow in close succession. The per capita consumption of coffee in the Scandinavian countries is more than 15 pounds, as compared to 12 and 13 pounds in this country, annually.

Puerto Rico, a Crossroad
Lying at the entrance to the Caribbean region, Puerto Rico is on a direct line for ships plying between the east and the west, the north and the south. The island's main port, San Juan, is 1,350 miles from New York. San Juan has more than 1,300 steamship arrivals each year.

Franklin Patented a Stone
Benjamin Franklin did obtain a patent on his stone. In 1742, after his stone came into use, the governor of Pennsylvania was so pleased that he offered Franklin a patent. Franklin, however, declined because, he said, "we enjoy great advantages from the inventions of others, we should be glad of an opportunity to serve others by any invention of ours."

Lost Days
Think that day lost, whose low descending sun views from thy hand no worthy action done.

Faith in Truth
The beginning of all spiritual life is faith in the value of truth.
