A great speaker—an outstanding personality—Dr. Phelps is nationally recognized as one of the foremost American book critics. Eagerly sought after as a speaker, he accepts few speaking engagements, due to the pressure of his many activities. Dr. Phelps' thousands of friends and followers in Detroit know him not only as a great literary authority but as a leader whose weekly sermons during his summer in Michigan attract thousands of people, of all faiths, from the entire state of Michigan.

Now Professor Emeritus of Yale

Last week there was some change in the printed schedule, for that I wish to beg your pardon; it was a mistake for which I am to blame. However, I wish also to assure you that the printed schedule will be altered this week. Of course I want to see everyone in the Morning Worship Service, but my main plea this week is for the Sunday School Service. Those who have been coming regularly will no doubt be there again, but that is not enough. There are those who have been staying away that should be there. I certainly am not trying to get children and adults from other churches to come to the Evangelical Church. My plea is to those who belong here; and it would certainly not be saying too much if I assure anyone that is not connected with any church that our church is open to all such. I shall be very pleased to have a large attendance in the service. I can not insure you that there will be a special program for each service, but I will assure you that the service will be conducted for your benefit. Please attend this Sunday and if you find absolutely no benefit, we shall make no further appeal to you. I do not mean to say that we will provide this benefit, but I do say you will benefit by worshipping together and becoming acquainted with the one and only perfect life; Jesus Christ. Come!

Use of Asaefitida
Asaefitida is ill-smelling gum resin exuded from the stem and roots of the genus ferula. It is used as a tincture in 70 per cent alcohol and when greatly diluted as a perfume and flavoring material. The gum contains sulphides which impart the evil odor.

The Ship Broker
A ship broker is a mercantile agent employed in buying, selling and chartering ships and procuring cargoes, and generally transacting the business of the shipowner; when the ship is in port, as it affects insurance, issuing bills of lading, etc.

ADVERTISEMENTS
Are Your Guides To Value

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it, all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the material that makes up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch . . . knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The advertised product is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it couldn't be consistently Advertised.
