

WEST FARMINGTON

Walled Lake school is preparing for the 12th School and Community Fair to be held November 5 and 6.

The West Farmington Willing Workers will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Morley Bachelor, on November 5.

Mrs. Lawrence Giegler and son Lee Giegler called on the former's mother, Mrs. Edith Graham Sunday.

Miss Florene Bachelor of Detroit

We carry
A FEED FOR EVERY NEED

POULTRY
PIGEON
RABBIT
HORSE
DAIRY
CALF
HOG DOG

Under the popular brands
DELIGHT
LARRO
GLOBE

We also carry all of the ingredients and can make up any formula you desire.

FARMINGTON MILLS
Phone 25

spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heliker.
Edwin Murray of Detroit spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heliker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Auten and sons visited Mr. Auten's mother, Mrs. James Auten at Ortonville on last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Walters were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Leighton in Dearborn one evening last week.

Mrs. Elmer Gugel of Detroit spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. P. Gruener of Clarenceville.

NEVER BEFORE SUCH A SMOOTH SHAVING BLADE
at this low price!

NOW!
PROBAK
JUNIOR
4 blades
for 10¢
Also in Packages
10 for 25¢
25 for 59¢

PROBAK
JUNIOR
MADE IN U.S.A.
T.M. REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
OTHER PATENTS PENDING

Probak Junior for all Gladstone and Probak
razors

The Adventuress

By JEAN KAY LANDERS
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNY Service.

AS Tom Caldwell stood waiting in an uptown subway, a rather pretty girl caught his eye. Immediately rose and stepped toward him.

"Tom!" she exclaimed.
Tom stared upon her coolly. He had never seen the girl before.

"Do take me to lunch, Tom," she went on lightly.
She took his arm quite naturally. "Trainer. You sh hush more than Ah am."

Tom wondered who Dora Trainer could be. Had he met her at a prom or football game? Consciously or unconsciously she had supplied her name and Tom was thankful. Girls of this type did not pick up with a strange man even though he might have been quite prominently photographed as one of the season's greatest football players. Yale was proud of Tom.

He led the girl into the restaurant. Two or three men seated on the verge of speaking to her but she showed no signs of recognition and they took the apparently deliberate cut so coolly that Tom suddenly became suspicious. What if the girl were the come-on for a gang of crooks or blackmailers? Tom suddenly remembered he was rich—very rich. His throat began to throb with excitement. But it was stimulating. And he was young and full of confidence. This experience might be a great deal of fun. If this girl thought she could snare him with her smartness and beauty, well . . .

After lunch the girl said, quietly, "I want you to help me. Call a cab."

Heistfully he called a cab, realizing that he might be plunging into danger. She probably wanted him to help her blow a bank. But the address she gave was not in the financial district. It was on Fifth avenue, where she ordered the taxi to stop at a large stone mansion.

"What are we going to do now?" asked Tom.

"Just follow me," she commanded. She had the loveliest smile, framed by red lips that became inscrutable just when you thought they were friendly. "We're going into the rear of this house."

They passed along a dark narrow hall and up a flight of stairs to the main floor. The girl led Tom through the butler's pantry, along another hall and emerged into a large square reception room.

Tom presumed she was headed for the library safe. He decided to take matters, and her into his own hands and call the police.

A woman's voice suddenly came from the library.

"Is that you, Dora? I thought you were coming home for lunch."

The girl guided Tom into the room with her and stood facing the woman.

"Was out with Tom Caldwell, mother," she explained casually.

"Claire Caldwell's son?" the woman addressed Tom with interest. "I know your mother very well."

She chatted with him a bit and went upstairs.

Tom turned upon Dora. "You little devil!"

Dora's sophistication melted. Her big eyes were round and innocent.

"I saw you at New Haven," she confessed. "I—I thought you were wonderful. But you didn't even look at me. So when I saw you in the subway I decided to mystify you a bit—make you notice me."

When Tom was leaving for New Haven later that evening, he paused a moment at the door and loosened something that was attached to his vest.

"I want you to have my fraternity pin, Dora," he whispered ardently.

"And would you send me your picture, too?" she asked shyly. "I'd love it so, Tom."

"Sure will."

He kissed her quickly but satisfactorily and departed.

Dora wandered up to her gray and rose bedroom, Tom's pin in her palm. She lightly dropped it into a small silver jewel box, where it reposed fraternally among seven others.

On her dressing table were photographs of the football captains of Harvard, Fordham, Cornell, Amherst, Dartmouth, Syracuse and Princeton.

"Yale's coming, boys!" Dora told them emphatically.

Macao, Oldest Permanent China Coast Settlement

Macao is the oldest of all permanent foreign settlements on the China coast.

Macao, spelled locally Macau, notes a writer in the New York Times, consists of a peninsula in the delta of the Canton river, and the islands of Colowan and Talpa. Its total area is approximately eleven square miles. The peninsula, located forty miles by water from the British Crown colony of Hongkong, and eighty miles from Canton, is about two-and-a-half miles long and half as wide.

The occupation by the Portuguese dates from 1557, but some 330 years elapsed before China formally recognized Portugal's sovereign rights. Without unseemly levity, it may be said that this is not to be considered a long delay in the transaction of Chinese affairs.

It is the claim of the Portuguese that they were the pioneers of European intercourse in Chinese waters. India and what is now the Federated Malay States were their stepping stones to the farther East.

As the Portuguese were the first to inaugurate European trade in China, so were they the first among foreigners to earn the hatred, fear and contempt of the Chinese. The methods they employed in settlement and trade brought about massacres and great loss of life on both sides, which for a time virtually ended foreign commerce in the South and directed it to settlements at Ningpo and elsewhere.

CHURCHES

All notices for this column must be in the Enterprise office not later than Tuesday at noon.

Our Lady of Sorrows Church
Rev. John J. Larkin, Pastor

Sunday masses at 7:00 a. m., 8:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m., and 12:00 noon.

Benediction after 10:30 mass.
Daily masses at 7:30 a. m., and 8:00 a. m.

CLARENCEVILLE M. E. CHURCH
Rev. Guin, Pastor

Sunday School, 10:00 a. m.
Church service, 11:15 a. m.
Epworth League, 6:30 p. m.

Redford Gospel Tabernacle
18000 Lasher Road.
Sunday School, 10:00 a. m.
Pentecostal prayer and praise service, 11:00 a. m.

Evangelistic service, 7:45 p. m.
All are welcome regardless of circumstances.
100% Pentecost.

Salem Evangelical Church
Rev. Carl Schultz, Pastor

Worship service 10:30 a. m.
Sunday School 11:30 a. m.

November 4th, Ladies Aid meeting: This is the regular monthly meeting; all the members are urged to be present.

November 4th at 7:30 p. m., Brotherhood meeting. The discussion and business period has been limited to 30 minutes; after which will be a period of recreation and refreshments.

Topic for discussion—The Purpose of the Brotherhood.

Class in Confirmation meet at the parsonage, Saturday, October 31, at 9:00 a. m.

Methodist Episcopal Church
Rev. Delmore Stubbs, Pastor

Morning Worship 10:30. Sermon by the pastor.

Church School at 11:15.
Epworth League 6:30. Mr. K. Walker, assistant director of Boy's Work at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. will be the speaker.

Evening Service at 7:30

The class in Religion meets every Wednesday at 7:45. Anyone can enroll.

The official board meeting for November will be held Tuesday evening, the 10th.

First Baptist Church
Gilbert A. Miles, Pastor

Morning Prayer Meeting 10:15 a. m.

Morning Worship 10:30 a. m. This Sunday is being observed as Mid-Year Sunday in the church and every member is requested to be present. We will review the work of the church during the past six months. All members and friends will be interested in the message.

Bible School 11:50 a. m.

Our attendance last Sunday was 209. We are expecting it to go on and stay at the 300 mark. We can do it. All who are not attending some other school are cordially invited to meet with us.

Junior B. Y. U. 6:30 p. m.
Senior B. Y. P. U. 6:30 p. m.

Evening Service 7:30 p. m.

At the evening service we will have a candle light Communion Service.

The public is cordially invited to the services of this "Friendly Church."

New 1937 CHEVROLET

The Complete Car—Completely New

With a completely new Valve-in-Head Engine—giving new power, new smoothness, new economy—in fact, the only old thing about it is its reliability.

On SAT. NOV. 7 display

"HOW CAN I BE SURE
THE REFRIGERATOR I BUY
WILL GIVE ME LONG SERVICE
AT LOW COST?"

CHOOSE Electrolux
THE SILENT REFRIGERATOR BECAUSE:

The very silence of Electrolux is a promise of lasting efficiency . . . constant proof that Electrolux has no machinery at all. It is this simplicity which makes possible all the long-life, Electrolux advantages.

- No moving parts to wear
- Continued low operating cost
- Fulllest food protection
- Savings that pay for it

COMPARE Electrolux with any other refrigerator . . . and here's what you'll find. Electrolux operation is basically different! A tiny gas burner takes the place of all moving parts. As a result of this amazing simplicity, Electrolux is not only silent (which is a comfort) but it's the only refrigerator that can give you the definite assurance of long and dependable service at low cost.

Today, come in and see the beautiful 1936 Electrolux for yourself. Inspect its many worthwhile conveniences that save you time and work.

FREE TRIAL

Without any expense to you — No "strings", no rental costs or other expense of that sort we will install a beautiful new 1936 model Electrolux — Then should you decide to buy, a three year purchase plan makes this offer easy to enjoy —

Terms as little as $10 a day —

Consumers Power Co.
23612 Farmington Road Phone 304