FORTY-NINTH YEAR—NO. 7

FARMINGTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1936

Township Tax Roll Cut $15,000

Over $15,000 will be saved by the taxpayers of Farmington Township in the 1936 winter school and township tax assessment, it is announced by Supervisor Arthur Cox. Collection of the levy, which totals $22,716, will begin on Thursday by Mrs. Loretta Cox, Township Treasurer, who will receive taxes at 21067 Oxford street in Clarenceville. Beginning on December 15, Mrs. Cox will be at Farmington State Bank during the hours from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., to receive payments. She will remain there on week-days until March 1, 1937.

The saving made to township taxpayers is the result of the paying off of all township debts, eliminating the charges for debt service in tax bills of recent years, and the taking over by the county of the township roads, a change which will go into effect on April 1, 1937.

The 1936 rate is set at $7.40 per thousand dollar valuation, a reduction of $3.50 from the 1935 rate of $10.90. The 1936 assessment roll of $2,317,300 represents a small increase over the 1935 township valuation of $2,200,609.

Reductions are made in the school taxes of two school districts the Nichols and Three Fractional, the Thayer district, and an increase is made in the school tax for the Noble school district. The rates for the 10 districts are given below:

One, fractional$3.00
Nichols1.00
Three, fractional2.50
Fairley2.00
West Farmington4.00
Five, Farmington9.40
Five, Grace, Clarenceville	10.90
Six, Noble district12.50
Six, fractional, Bond3.50
Walled Lake5.00
State district, No. 35.00

no tax this year, its expenses being paid by delinquent tax returns.

Eliminated from the expenses of the township are the two items of county debt service, $500.00, and the $7.40 rate, $3.00 will go for the township's share of general operating expense of the county, $1.40 for county debt service, $2.00 for township operation, and $1.00 for emergency welfare. Reductions are made in all of these expenses but welfare costs.

AWARDS MADE AT BOY SCOUTS' COURT OF HONOR

Recognition was given to the advancement of a number of Farmington Boy Scouts at the Court of Honor held at the M. E. Community Hall Monday night. Approximately 50 persons attended the dinner which preceded the program. Joseph Himmelsbach was president and awards were made by Herbert Watson, scout executive of the Oakland Area Council.

Those receiving awards were Charles Wellington and F. C. Wellington, Eagle palms; Robert Gowen, James Barrons, and Elmer McCord, second class badges; Ted Andrews, carpenter merit badge; Bud Norton, James Norton, Bob Plettenberg, and Charles Oldenbourg, Chandler merit badge; and Charles Wellington, five-year veteran award.

Among the new scouts joining the Farmington troop during the past year are James Barrons, Robert Gullen, Ray McCurdy, Robert Garland, Bud Auten, Harold Blum, Alfred Walbank, Keith Johnson, William Carpenter, and Don Jas Ball.

Arthur Power is Scoutmaster of the troop and Charles Wellington, senior patrol leader; Robert Hogg, Ted Andrews, and Charles Oldenbourg, patrol leaders; Bud Norton, scribe; Robert Plettenberg, treasurer; and Robert Hogg, bugler.

The troop meets Monday evening at the M. E. Community Hall.

LEON SPONSORS FEATHER PARTY

Another feather party, following the successful one held at Thanksgiving time, is to be held on Tuesday evening, December 22, at the Town Hall under the sponsorship of the Groves-Walker post of the American Legion. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis of Stannan were Saturday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gullen.

Buenos Aires Native Believes Roosevelt Visit Significant

Few Farmington people realize as fully as does Mrs. C. L. Helquist the significance of the historic reception accorded President Roosevelt during his visit to Buenos Aires. For Mrs. Helquist, who, with her husband and two children are living in the former Stanley Smith home on Wilmarth avenue, in Farmington, was born and spent nearly all of her life until this summer in South America.

"The Argentines see in President Roosevelt's visit the beginning of a partnership of American and Argentina on an equal basis, and the end of the domination of the United States over its sister nations on the South American continent," says Mrs. Helquist.

"Since the inauguration of the Monroe Doctrine the Argentines,

Farmington To Meet Brighton

A determined Farmington High School basketball team will have the benefit of two games' experience when they meet Brighton on the former's floor Friday night in the first league game of the season. Brighton's veteran team is reported to be much improved over the one which was twice defeated by Farmington last year.

The problem of finding a suitable place for center position is the chief difficulty with which Coach Harold Kammerer is faced. The weakness of this position on the blue and white team was revealed in the game with University High of Ann Arbor and the Northville game Tuesday night.

Turner and Lee at forwards, and Davis and Banfield at guards are showing up rather well but the center position remains the most troublesome to fill. Louis Lewis has the best chance, but lacks experience. Gerald Grace, another possibility for the position, makes up in his aggressiveness what he lacks in height and weight. There is a possibility that Turner or Banfield may be moved to the center position in an attempt to strengthen the team. Coach Kammerer states.

University High Wins

In the game with University High Farmington led for the first three quarters but was unable to keep up the pace during the last quarter. University High scored first in the game on a basket and free throw but when Farmington's offense got underway, they ran the score to six to three at the quarter, and 12 to six at the half.

In the second half, Dobson, the tall center and main offense gun for University High, began shooting and feeding the ball to members of his team and made a total of 10 points to Farmington's 19 at the end of the game. Farmington's netters, led by their newly-elected captain, Bob Davis, showed good form for the season's final game.

Northville 31-Farmington 20. Versatility, speed, and experience was a combination that proved fatal to Farmington Tuesday night when Northville's veteran team were victorious by a score of 31 to 20. Northville displayed a swift offense with whose accurate passing Farmington was unable to cope. The one vacancy in the Northville squad this year has been filled by Scott, a capable newcomer from Indiana.

Masonic Lodge to Hold Election

The annual election of officers of the Farmington Lodge, No. 151 F. & A. M., will be held on Tuesday night, December 15, at the Public Institute, at which time the officers elected will take place at a date to be announced later.

Those who have served as officers of the lodge during the past year are Forrest A. Dickinson, Worshipful Master; Robert E. Cook, Senior Warden; Charles N. Diamond, Junior Warden; William C. Way, Treasurer; James L. Hogg, Secretary; Carl C. Harrison, Senior Deacon; Edward A. Alexander, Junior Deacon; and Ralph J. Auto, Tyler.

WILL HOLD PARTY AT BOND SCHOOL

A Christmas party for the children of the Bond School will be given with the proceeds from the card party to be held at the Bond School on Friday evening, December 11. There will be refreshments and prizes.

Will Build Addition To Postoffice

The quarters of the Farmington Post Office will be enlarged after the holiday rush is over and the lease on the present building is renewed for five more years, until January 1, 1942, announces Postmaster Norman Lee.

A 15-foot extension will be constructed on the rear of the building sometime during the first few months of the coming year. Rather than disrupt the work of postal employees during the Christmas season, it was decided to defer the work until later.

The addition, which will be made of cement blocks, will increase the length of the building to 53 feet and the area to 1225 square feet. No change in the lobby of the post office is contemplated as the addition area in the rear portion of the building will be used to increase the facilities for the sorting of mail.

Distribution tables for the rural delivery carriers will be added to the sorting equipment in order to expedite the handling of the mail. Extra space for the handling of parcel post packages is one of the most needed improvements to be added. It is probable that mail will be delivered at the rear of the post office in the future as the front as is now being done.

The lease on the present building was renewed at an annual rental of $1,200. It will terminate on January 1, 1942.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS TO SING ON DECEMBER 17

The newly-organized Farmington High School chorus will make its debut to the public on Thursday evening, December 17, in a program given jointly by the chorus and band at the home of Ralph Banta at the M. E. Community Hall at 8:00 p. m.

As a prelude to the program, special Christmas music will be played by the brass quartet consisting of William Slouso, Robert Smith, Robert Han and Bud Norton.

The program for the evening includes "Mystic Knights Overture," by Hildreth; "Missouri Mule March," by Blake; "Mingling Song," by William Slouso; Robert Smith, Robert Han and Bud Norton; "Children's March," by Eric Delamater's arrangement of "Christmas Festival," and Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys."

The High School chorus of 37 voices will sing the famous "Silent Night, Holy Night." This will be followed by Laube's "Alaskan Dance," played by a clarinet quintette consisting of Gordon Hogg, Betty Smith, Dorothy Lancaster, Robert Plettenberg, and Fred Widdie. The first number before the intermission is the "Introduction and Brat Chorus from 'Lohengrin,'" by Wagner.

The second portion of the program will consist of "Spirit of Youth Overture," by Siedley; "Exposition March," by Goldman; "Two Guitars," by Horlick; a saxophone solo by James Norton, Chenet's "Sax-Princesses," the "German Band's" popular number, "Miscellaneous," and several pieces because of several junctures; Jessie's "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers;" and Yoder's "Ragtime Wedding," a feature number played by Edgar Barrons, who takes the part of the reader; Ernest Ham, who plays the piano; and Mary Power the bride; Robert Smith as the father; and F. C. Wellington playing the part of the preacher.

The final numbers on the program are Gene's "I Can't Get No Satisfaction," and John Phillip Sousa's famous "King Cotton March."

State Begins 24-hr. Patrol On Cut-Off

In a determined effort to end west-bound traffic on the Cut-Off, a 24-hour patrol is being established by Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of the Michigan State Police, to enforce the one-way traffic regulation. A speed limit of 45 miles an hour is being made on the Cut-Off for east-bound traffic.

Two large illuminated signs at the east end of the Cut-Off have been erected, making it unlawful for west-bound traffic to take that route. A raised blimping strip is to separate the Cut-Off from the route which passes through Farmington.

The enforcement move is the latest step taken by the state to limit the Cut-Off to east-bound traffic. Alarmed at the high percentage of traffic on the Cut-Off, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner in September ordered the Cut-Off closed to vehicles going west.

Under the law, no enforcement of the regulation could be made until a special zoning determination, such as the one now in effect, was made. This fact accounts for the delay in the enforcement of the one-way regulation.

Party people have been killed on the Cut-Off since its completion in 1932. State police have no record of any fatal accidents since Commissioner Van Wagoner issued the order for one-way traffic.

One feature of the enforcement program is the erection of signs prohibiting left-hand turns at side roads intersecting the Cut-Off. Although motorists for the most part have complied voluntarily with the temporary one-way signs during the past two months, a number of violations have been reported.

Commissioner Van Wagoner said plans are under way to widen the 2.3 mile stretch on US-16 at the west end of Farmington to a width of 42 feet next year. The present pavement varies between 18 and 20 feet in width.

After the west end of Grand River is widened, the commissioner's plans call for reconstruction of the hazardous sections of the 3-mile Cut-Off.

MISS MARGARET BRYAN HEADS NORTHVILLE O.E.S.

Miss Margaret Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bryan of Haggerty Highway and a graduate of Farmington High School's class of 1935, is the worthy matron of the Northville chapter of the O. E. S., her installation having taken place on Friday evening.

Among those attending from the Farmington chapter were Mrs. Hazel Lynch, Mrs. Robbie Harrison, Mrs. Harold Hoggarth, Mrs. Euel Barnes, and Mrs. Lena Oldham.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Herald Cox, Mrs. William Becker and Mrs. Clifford Campbell of Clarenceville attended the public installation at the Banta home of the O.E.S. Several members of the Farmington organization attended the Oakland County Matrons Club luncheon at Holly Thursday.

Will entertain M. E. GENERAL AID

Mrs. Henry West will be hostess to the ladies of the General Aid of the Methodist Church at her home on Thursday, December 17. There will be a pot-luck luncheon at 12:30 p. m.

Donald McCracken Flies to Convention

An ambition several years old was realized by Donald McCracken during the past week when he made a trip from Detroit to Grand Rapids and return via airplane.

For several years Donald has had a strong desire to ride on the plane that passes over the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCracken on Twelve Mile Road, Golog to the annual meeting of the State Horticultural Society at Grand Rapids, he made the trip on the same plane that he has been flying overhead many times while working about the farm. He says that he was able to distinguish his house and many other familiar landmarks during the flight over the Farmington area.

THIEVES TAKE MACHINE FROM WINTER'S GARDEN

Thieves broke through a back window at Winter's Garden at the corner of Seven Mile and Farmington Roads Tuesday night, and took one vending machine and smashed another, taking its contents. Nothing else in the building was disturbed.

The robbery was not discovered until the morning when Mr. Winter opened for business. Last week the store was attempted at the same place but the alertness of Mrs. Frank Gould, who is employed as a waitress, foiled the plans of four men to tie her with a rope which Mrs. Gould saw partially hidden in the store.

The building was constructed in 1976 and was ready for occupancy in December of that year. It was built at a cost of $4,300. Of this amount the Masonic Lodge paid $1,350 for a perpetual lease of the space and the building. The expense incurred by the township amounted to $2,950, which included the cost of the lot, approximately five-eighths of an acre, which was purchased from Mrs. Cynthia M. Collins for $800. Of this amount $500 was sublet in the village of Farmington as an inducement to secure the location of the building in the village.

Town Hall Title Suit To Be Revived

House-To-House Drive Planned by Goodfellows

A new, and what is declared to be the final effort to settle the long-standing question of ownership of the Farmington Town Hall property is under way, with preparations made for determination of the matter in Circuit Court at Pontiac. The suit filed a number of years ago is to be reinstated, it lay dormant for a considerable time and at length was dismissed after no progress had been made for a considerable period.

Involved in the question will be the rights of Farmington Township, Farmington City, and Farmington Masonic Lodge. At present there are no indications of any further attempt at settlement outside of court. Some efforts were made along that line a number of years ago by a joint committee representing all three parties, but it failed at that time. It appeared as though agreement might be near. However, the remaining differences were never resolved and nothing tangible developed thereafter.

Renew Activity

Governments and problems brought on by the depression have so fully occupied the attention of officials until recently that nothing further was done about the case on file in Circuit Court. Recently, however, desire for determination of the matter has developed into new activity. Attorney James H. Lynch of Pontiac, counsel for the Township, has been joined by Pelton and McGee. While neither the City nor the Lodge have taken steps regarding the matter, it is expected that legal process will go forward as rapidly as possible.

Indication that there may be a rather quiet procedure for determination of interests: rather than a much-argued case, is seen in the reluctance of city officials to engage counsel. "We are not in disagreement with the Township over what portion the City owns," said Mayor Warner in discussing the matter. "Already the City has spent several hundred dollars for fees in connection with the matter, and it would hardly be good policy to spend more on the question." This is taken to indicate that the entire procedure may consist of the facts being laid before the court and a determination made.

When the suit was first filed some years ago, each of the three parties was represented by counsel. The proceedings were entirely amicable, and the attorneys, in fact, all entered into extensive efforts to find some possible basis for settlement without litigation.

Township officials say they have been advised, the 999-year lease held by the Masonic Lodge on the second floor of the hall building.

The building was constructed in 1976 and was ready for occupancy in December of that year. It was built at a cost of $4,300. Of this amount the Masonic Lodge paid $1,350 for a perpetual lease of the space and the building. The expense incurred by the township amounted to $2,950, which included the cost of the lot, approximately five-eighths of an acre, which was purchased from Mrs. Cynthia M. Collins for $800.
