

Travel Pictures To Be Shown In Detroit

Wendell Chapman, naturalist and author, and Burton Holmes, gentleman traveler, will give the next motion picture lectures on the World Adventure Series platform at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Chapman speaks on "With Animals of the Rockies" at 3:30 Sunday, February 28, and Holmes on

"Beautiful Switzerland" at 8:30 on Tuesday evening, March 2. Chapman spent five years in the wilds of the Canadian and American Rockies, photographing rough-neck grizzlies, moose, buffalo, elk, and rubber-legged mountain goat. He shows how beaver colonies with their carefully constructed dams established the first successful nation-wide flood control. They converted rainfall, thereby creating fertile meadows and preventing soil erosion. Burton Holmes will take his audience on a comprehensive motion picture tour of what he calls "the grandest little country in the world." He motored up and down the Alpine highways last summer, crossing the famous passes. He has seen Lucerne, Zurich and other cities. He pictures Swiss life and customs, and exploits in the high Alps.

Epworth League News

By Douglas Parker
The forthcoming league dramatic production, "Sound Your Horn," has swung into full rehearsal, under the personal direction of Reverend Stubbs. The cast has been finally completed and includes some very talented performers. The dates for the play's presentation have been set for April 15th and 16th.

The program for next Sunday evening, February 28, will have a decided oriental tinge. We will have as our guest speaker, Mr. Cummings, now of Detroit. Mr. Cummings lived in China for several years and is an authority on Chinese customs and habits. Mr. Cummings will base his address upon his experiences in the orient. Leaders will find this unusual program very much to their liking.

It is hoped that a crowd of at least 40 league members will be on hand to attend the annual rally at Ann Arbor on March 5th. Full details will be announced on Sunday. All leaguers are urged to make plans to attend this important event.

Forty-seven members turned out for our meeting last Sunday... which made our attendance look something like old times... Miss Betty Smith handled the program... for the annual league sunrise service on Easter Sunday... Reverend Stubbs has charge of this program... by the time all the league members have received their cards, our membership will be very high... the peak so far being Village Sunday when we totaled 55 present.

Modern Home-Making Easier Than First Settlers' Tasks

That modern life differs greatly from that of pioneer Americans is shown in a perusal of the advertisements of merchants appearing in this issue of The Enterprise. In olden times when a new home was needed, the head of the house and his neighbors shouldered their axes and proceeded to chop down some nearby trees for the new log cabin. Today, builders of new homes in the Farmington Lumber and Coal Company and explain their needs and have them delivered all ready for use. Instead of chopping wood for fuel, moderns install electric ranges of the Detroit Edison company and have year-round economical service. Years ago women spun the wool and the making of clothing was a laborious process. Today at the store of Fred L. Cook and company they find a wide selection of sweaters for their needs. At McCormacks in Redford they find other apparel in modern styles. Old-fashioned herb remedies may have had some value but the scientific remedies and health-aids at the Smith-Bradley drug company are proving their value to those who use them. Those who are health-wise know the superior qualities of milk, for both children and adults, sold by the Farmington Dairy, Inc. The "old black stocking" is a relic of the past and today hundreds use the services of the Farmington State Bank.

Much time and labor is now saved farmers who find that all of their stock-feeding needs are included in the products sold by Farmington Mills. Gas ranges shown by the Consumers Power company are finding great favor with housewives. At Hutton's Farmington Hardware a wide selection of various styles of linoleum is being offered. The new Ford V8, far cry from the covered wagons of yesterday, is now being shown at Olin Russell, Inc. Ready-made entertainment, fresh from the studios of Hollywood, is offered by the Penman-Allen theater in Northville.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday afternoon.

ROAMING ALONG

Trinidad expects its bumper banana crop this year to bring prosperity. For every hour on the air, radio performers practice from five to fifteen hours in the studio. Through the efforts of immigrants from Poland, the first glass works in Palestine has been erected. Brazil has an estimated population of nearly 45,000,000 and is growing at a rate of a million a year. Keeping the Washington monument lighted at night cost the government $1,417 in the last fiscal year. Clipping shrubbery to resemble animals, ships and other curious shapes was a garden custom popular with the Romans. Jacksonville, Fla., had the coldest day of its experience almost a hundred years ago, when the city shivered at seven degrees below zero, Feb. 7, 1835.

BREEZY BRIEFS

Bullfighters of Madrid, Spain, recently went on strike. Forest resources of French Equatorial Africa are to be developed. A Hall of Youth, costing $50,000, has been opened in East London. England has 2,000,000 horses, 4,000,000 dogs and about 20,000,000 cats. Danzig is ruled by a high commissioner, appointed by the League of Nations. Nanking's most magnificent mansion and grounds are those occupied by the ambassador and staff of the Soviet Russian embassy. Because Vienna owns 70,045 dwellings and 3,825 stores, the Viennese think their capital is the largest "householder" city in the world. In the last five years Johannesburg, South Africa, the gold-ref city, had a population increase of 150,000, and now has 500,000 souls.
