Epworth League News

By Douglas Parker Friday, May 7, is the date definitely set for the annual spring rally of all league groups in the Farmington district. With election of officers and announcement of the winner of the efficiency award as highlights of the rally, it is expected that leaguers will have an interesting time. A group from Farmington will make the trip to Chelsea, the scene of the festivities, and will leave the church at five-thirty sharp. Transportation will be provided for all leaguers who wish to go. Of special interest to Farmington, will be the election of district secretary. Miss Carol Harger, prominent in local league work, has been nominated for that post and has a better than average chance of winning that coveted office. All of Farmington's votes will ride with her, and if there are enough of our leaguers present, it should help to cinch matters.

Douglas Parker, editor of the league paper, will have charge of the meeting next Sunday night in view of the fact that he will be absent that day. He will speak on the topic, "Synthetic Mothers." This meeting will be the last in a series of meetings of the current season, inasmuch as the windup of the season will be held on the meeting on the sixteenth of this month. Leaguers are urged to turn out for these final two meetings of the present season. The final edition of the Epworth Echo will be on sale Sunday. Because it will be the last issue to be published, it will be bigger and better than ever before. Additional features will be presented and it is guaranteed that the twelve pages will contain much interesting reading.

The attendance at the league play last week proved very disappointing, however it is rumored that the play will be presented again during the latter part of the month. Those who saw the play were loud in their praise of it. It is hoped that the ticket sale will be more enthusiastic next time. Miss Betty Smith had charge of the meeting last week and gave an interesting talk to a rather small crowd.

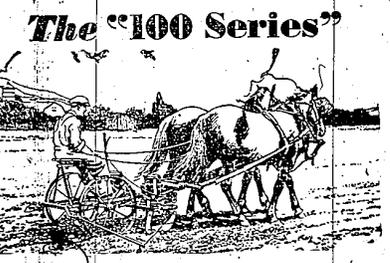

Mrs. Fred Lenz, who has been with the Henry Smith household at Lakeland, Florida, returned with Mrs. Smith, who was called here at the death of her husband, Henry Smith, recently. Henry Jr. and Beulah, the small children of the Smith family stayed with Mrs. Lenz several days after their return.

William Way is confined to his bed with a severe cold. Excavations have been commenced for a new home room to be erected by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Johnson. Mrs. Gity Durgan will attend a bridge luncheon given by the teachers of the Minger School, Detroit, of which Mr. Durgan is principal, at the Rounda Inn at Pine Lake on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koss and daughter Shirley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Johnson in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Johnson were Sunday guests of Mrs. Mae Brown of Arrowhead Farm on the Nine Mile Road. Harrison and Mrs. Johnson were Tuesday evening bridge and dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinkley at Northville.
