

1939 NEW YORK FAIR'S TWO MILE AMUSEMENT LOOP

NEW YORK (Special).—The 1939 New York World's Fair has planned to have the largest area and the greatest number and variety of amusements ever provided for any exposition in the world," announces Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, "but let it be understood, too, that we are already assured of producing a fair that will be remembered for its bold treatment of today's problems and for its pathfinding to the World of Tomorrow."

The accompanying photograph shows the design of the Fair's two-mile, 280-acre amusement zone as released at the time of Mr. Whalen's announcement. The sector is being laid out with a greater visitor capacity than that of any amusement park in the world. Following an entirely new pattern that lends itself to the development of aquatic shows, operas, pageants and extravaganzas of all sorts. On the far side of the lake, as sketched, will be every conceivable kind of show, spectacle, device, ride, and eating place.

The upper end of the lake-shore region will be dominated by a 31,000,000 State amphitheatre with a marine stage for presentation of aquatic shows, operas, pageants and extravaganzas of all sorts. On the far side of the lake, as sketched, will be every conceivable kind of show, spectacle, device, ride, and eating place.

Use Snuff to Keep Optic

Nerves at Full Strength

Habitual snufflers are said to be immune from colds, asthma, hay fever, and consumption. But Hutton Garden, London, world-famous "street of gems," likes its snuff for another reason, according to a writer in London Ti-Bits Magazine. Here those engaged in delicate work on precious stones know that the daily pinch keeps their optic nerves at full strength. Without it, many would in time be beaten by their eye-exacting jobs.

Other inveterate modern snuff-takers are clergymen, politicians and lecturers, all of whom declare that the time-honored pinch clears their brains besides soothing the larynx.

One reverend citizen of a Kendall mill asserted that in 35 years he had snuffed over 2½ cwt. of the firm's product. Here, snuff is ground by old machines, installed in 1892, and modern invention cannot improve upon them. Formerly, it was marketed in casks and pigs' bladders bought off an adjoining slaughterhouse. Each held an average of 20 pounds, worth about $75 at that time.

North-country folk. Scots included, vote for dark snuffs; Southerners pin their faith to a light, finely-ground variety; and Lascars, whose addiction to snuff is of vice-like intensity, swear by their own special brand and prefer, like true connoisseurs, to take it with a small spoon rather than with their fingers.

Put End to Piracy

America, in the year 1815, was the first among the world's nations to put an end to the piracy of the Barbary powers on the northern coast of Africa after centuries of tribute-paying on the part of Europe. Ever after American ships at sea made it a point to pay ceremonial visits there, thirty-veiled hints of America's power at sea, and on one of these visits, in 1855, the Sultan sent back a crown lion as present to the President, then Andrew Jackson. Congress had to give permission to receive the present, after which the problem was what to do with the lion, as we had no national zoo yet. The President gave it to an orphanage, which sold it to a circus.

City of the Straits

The name Detroit is a French word meaning a "narrow place" or "strait." When Cadillac in July, 1701, sailed down from Lake St. Clair and passed Belle Isle, he began to study the shores of the river, looking for a site for his fort. His expedition went down to Grosse Ile and spent the night there. They agreed that the narrowest part of the river was the place for the fort, and on the highest ground that afforded a strongly defensible location. Back they came up the river and Cadillac selected his site. As quoted in Catlin's "Story of Detroit": "It was chosen because it was defended on three sides by a water front (formed by the former Savoyard river). It commands a fine view up and down the river. Our little brass cannon can send a shot clear across the big river and we can hold the fort against either English invaders or hostile Indians."

A New Start

We have all heard about the storm-ridden ship whose crew was left frantic for water. At last another ship came near, and they cried, "Water! water! we are perishing with thirst." "Dip down into that ocean," was the answer, for they were off the Amazon, which hurls its mighty flood of fresh water far out into the briny Atlantic. In the same way there are many who are longing for a fresh start, a new chance, who have the opportunity every day of their lives if they will only reach out and take it. "Every day is a fresh beginning."

Jacobean Furniture

Jacobean furniture was chiefly of oak, with straight line structure, and a sturdy, somewhat heavy appearance. Chairs had flat seats and the straight turned legs were strengthened by heavy stretchers near the floor. Carving was cut into flat surfaces. Characteristic of the period design were the running figure & semi-circles filled with petals, a conventionalized tulip, the Tudor rose and geometrical figures. Typical pieces were the chests and cupboards, high-backed walnut chairs, tables and tall clocks.
