

Southfield Voters Hear Zoning Plan

Residents in the eastern half of Southfield Township attended a public hearing in the Township Hall Wednesday relative to the Township Planning Board's report of the tentative draft of a zoning ordinance approved by the voters of the district in an election held August 30 of this year. A map showing the tentative zones, provided for under the act, was shown and discussed. The map and a study of the question was made by Everett S. Coffin of Cranbrook, a zoning expert employed by the board.

The board, who were named some time ago by Probate Judge James H. Lynch has been at work for about six weeks making preliminary studies and drafting the proposed ordinance.

ADRIAN CAMPBELL, DETROIT GIRL EXCHANGE VOWS

Irene Gehrike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gehrike, of Detroit, became the bride of Adrian Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Campbell, Saturday evening, at a service performed by the Rev. F. D. Kolch in the Grace Lutheran Church, Detroit.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white tulle, with fan train. Her veil was long, with a cap of pleated lace and net, and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of roses and Johanna Hill roses, tied with streamers of white satin ribbon, knotted with small flower clusters.

Miss Margaret Gehrike, acted as the sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of old rose satin, with face veil of matching net, and carried Johanna Hill and Sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of blue and white, with a wreath of white roses, and carried Johanna Hill and Sweetheart roses.

Mr. Deane played the selections "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me" and the wedding march from Lohengrin, on the organ.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for a large number of friends and relatives. Following a short motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will be at home to their friends at 2135 Oxford avenue, Farmington.

County People Fail To Claim Payments

Many persons in Oakland County are who are entitled to lump-sum payments under the social security act have failed to claim the money due them, it was said this week by Walter B. Redman, manager of the old-age insurance bureau office in the Peoples State Building, Pontiac.

"Early this year the field research section of the social security board estimated that during the calendar year there would be about 60 claims for lump-sum payments filed in the district served by the Pontiac office," Mr. Redman said.

"So far only 60 claims have been filed indicating that some 630 other persons who were expected to seek these lump-sum payments before the end of 1937 still must do so although the year is nearing its end. Any person who has been employed in an occupation included in the social security coverage is entitled to a lump-sum payment. One has reached the age of 65 this year," Mr. Redman added.

M. E. CHURCH TO HOLD QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

The First Quarterly Conference of this sub-district of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at the Farmington Methodist Episcopal Church Thursday, November 11, according to Rev. Delmer Stubbs, pastor of the church. Dr. Grose of Saginaw will be the speaker at the dinner which is to start at 6:15.

Charles N. Andrews Celebrates 95th Birthday Anniversary

Mr. Andrews, who has acted as an unofficial supervisor during the laying of the new pavement all fall, can still read a newspaper without the aid of glasses and visits the business section of the city nearly every day to keep an eye on the progress of the city and to say "hello" to his many friends.

Not only being able to boast of himself as the longest lived individual in this area, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews can also claim a title as being the oldest married couple, as on December 2 of this year, they will celebrate their 68th wedding anniversary.

Recalling last year's celebration, when first breaking out in the basement of the Andrews' residence routed the family from their beds in the small hours of the morning, both Mr. and Mrs. Andrews hope that nothing will interfere with this year's celebration.

After the church service Sunday, which Mr. Andrews rarely misses, the family will gather at the residence to officially honor him with a birthday dinner and offer best wishes for his health in the years to come.

Although the elderly couple have seen life come and go in Farmington for nearly half a century, both hope to yet see many more years of activity in the community.

F.H.S. To Play Roseville

The Farmington High School football team took their third defeat of the season Wednesday when the South Lyon team managed to squeeze out a seven to nothing victory in a game played on the opponent's field. Taking the defeat by the South Lyon team, as well as last week's drubbing by the Walled Lake eleven in their stride, the team will try to boost their record Friday when they encounter the Roseville squad on their home field.

While the squad has turned in a creditable record of three losses and four wins so far this season, nevertheless, the game with Walled Lake was a heartbreaker for the Farmington eleven as they tried to better last year's scoreless tie. The score when the final whistle was blown stood at Walled Lake 25; Farmington 0.

Games yet to be played are those with Roseville Friday and the final game of the season, scheduled, that with Brighton to be played on Saturday.

All in all, the Farmington team has had a fairly successful season. Should the last two games turn out to a win and a loss, the squad will have won over fifty per cent of their games this year, which considering the fact that the team was, for the most part, an untied one at the beginning of the season, is a credit to the coach, Paul Shoemaker.

O. E. S. TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The Farmington Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold their annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday evening at the Masonic Hall. All members of the order are invited to be present at this important meeting.

Farmington Merchants Offer Aids To Winter Comfort

With the passing of Halloween and the opening of the Michigan deer hunting season scheduled for the near future, Farmington residents, for the most part, are looking forward to the coming of "Indian Summer" and are preparing for the long winter months soon to come. Likewise Farmington merchants have prepared for the coming of winter by adding to their stock of clothing, appliances and services to their inventory. A special sale of hunting clothing is now being offered by the Fred L. Cook and Company. A partial list of bargains can be found in their ad on page two of this issue.

It is never too late to lay in your winter coal supply, and to make the necessary repairs to insulate the house against wintry blasts. Over your coal now from the Farmington Lumber and Coal Company and ask them for estimates on the insulation and general repairs of your home.

The Chevrolet with its many improvements is certain to make winter driving safer. Stop in at the Blakeslee Motor Sales and see them at their earliest convenience. The new Goodyear car heaters and windshield defrosters are now on sale at the Burnett Brothers Single Service Station. Get their prices before they buy.

If your furnace is in need of repair we suggest that you call the Dickinson Hardware Company. A thorough cleaning and repairing of your heating unit will assure during the winter months. Even in cold weather ice cream is still America's leading dessert. Stop in at the Farmington Dairy and take home a quart of your favorite flavor.

An added supply of hot water is especially welcome during the winter season. Why not let the Consumer's Power Company install an automatic water heater in your home. The cost is small and the ever-ready supply of hot water is more than worth it.

Long distance calls bring the farthest point but a few minutes away. Make long distance calls often. The new rates are surprisingly low. If you're planning to visit relatives grilling the holidays go the Blue Goose way. Rates are cheap and service is constantly being improved.

If William Powell is in a picture you can be certain it's an excellent one. This week "The Emperor's Candlesticks," starring Bill Powell and Luella Rainer is opening a four-day engagement at the Bedford Theatre Saturday. Also showing on the double feature bill is "Artists and Models," starring Jack Benny supported by an all-star cast.

Fifty Attend Fruit Growers Meeting

Methods to increase the sale of Michigan apples by modern merchandising formed the major part of a general discussion by nearly 50 apple growers of the Farmington area held at the Methodist Episcopal Church Monday evening.

R. J. Martin, manager of the Michigan Apple Institute Inc., an organization to promote the sale and use of Michigan apples, was introduced to the gathering by Howard McCracken, who presided at the meeting.

Martin, who was instrumental in the forming of the institute, outlined the plan now in use by southwestern Michigan apple growers to promote the sale of the fruit in areas outside of the state. The new sales plan now being launched by members of the institute is based on retail sales in large cities with the fruit sold in attractive, handy containers holding five pounds. According to Martin, members of the Benton Harbor association have contracted for the delivery of a carload of apples put up in the new containers to a large Chicago retail store. While heretofore apple growers in the Farmington area have sold their fruit without the benefit of any specific merchandising plan, efforts are being made by a group of those present at the meeting to take a portion of a carload lot to be packed in the new containers.

A concerted publicity drive begun by the apple institute early in the season in an effort to increase apple sales throughout the state. Chairmen of groups were named for each section of the state to cooperate with the manager of the institute in publicizing the quantity and quality of this year's crop. Named for the southeastern section were Howard McCracken and Louis Spitzer, both well known apple growers.

Due to the efforts of the institute, the Federal Government will buy nearly 600 carloads of Michigan apples from all sections of the state. The apples to be bought at the open market are to be distributed among relief recipients.

While there has been no definite movement among Farmington apple growers to organize the district, the plan is being offered by Martin. It is likely that a small portion of the apples grown in this area will be placed on sale by the institute.

State College Gives Household Hints

Potatoes often blacken and discolor when cooked. Yet cooks and homemakers can be let in on a few secrets and tricks recommended by the home economics division at Michigan State College.

Freshly dug potatoes least likely to blacken often are not available in Michigan homes either because of season or price. Because Michigan this year has bumper crops, the principal or fall harvested crop of this important food, the tricks of cookery will improve table appearances as well as help dispose of the crop in the state.

Research workers in Wisconsin have discovered that for plain boiled potatoes the blackening can be avoided by soaking the peeled potatoes in cold water for two and a half hours before cooking. The potatoes are drained and cooked in fresh water.

Cooking without previous soaking also can be done. A mixture of half milk and half water is found to do the trick. This milk mixture holding considerable food value, should be used later in bread or soup.

Even if previous soaking or pre-boiling during the boiling are neglected, the blackening can still be avoided after cooking. Milk again is the magic. Boiled or baked, the potatoes will remain unblemished in color if they are mixed with milk immediately after cooking. Baked potato shells may be refilled with the mashed, seasoned potatoes and put back in the oven to brown.

WOMEN'S UNION TO HOLD ANNUAL BAZAAR AND DINNER

The annual Bazaar, sponsored by the Women's Union of the Salem Evangelical Church, will be held Wednesday, November 12, beginning at 2:00 p.m. at Chicken Sausage will be served at 6:30 p.m. Pancake, Baking, Fruits and Vegetables will be on display as well as a selection of notions. The public is most welcome to participate in the annual event of the church.

Material Witness in Slaying Well Known in Farmington

The retaining of Vernon Spencer, 40 year old Wisom dairy farmer and former Farmington property owner, by Canadian provincial police in connection with the death of a Pontiac stenographer, is causing much interest in Farmington as Spencer, although never living in the city, was well known here.

Hold Services For Charles Pettibone

Funeral services for Charles Burton Pettibone, pioneer Farmington resident, were held Saturday from the Pettibone residence and the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Pettibone died following a short illness. Death was due to pneumonia.

He was born at his father's farm located on Twelve Mile road, just west of the present McCracken residence and the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Pettibone was a pioneer of the early pioneer families of this community. His early days were spent on the farm during which time he attended the West Farmington District School.

In 1889 Charles came with his parents to the farm north of and adjacent to the City of Farmington, and later came into possession of the farm upon the death of his father. It was on this farm that the deceased spent the greater part of life, developing and improving the apple orchard begun by his father.

He attended the Farmington High School, Michigan State College, University of Michigan, and Purdue University.

He married Gladys Hazelton of Pontiac in July 1914, who died two years later, in June of 1926 he was married to Evangeline Bradley, his present widow. Besides his widow he is survived by a son, John, seven years of age, and a sister, Mrs. Lena A. Oakwood Cemetery. Burial was at Oakwood Cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. Delmer Stubbs of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Spencer J. Heeneey.

Ted Shawn to Present New Dance

Ted Shawn, famous American dancer, presents in "O. Libertad," a two-fold masterpiece of choreography. First American dancer to use our richly dramatic national history for a backdrop. Ted Shawn's presentation is also a living history of the dance, tracing progress through the ages from the ceremonial dance to the modern era.

Shawn and his company of modern dancers bring their American Saga in Three Acts—Past, Present and Future—to the Masonic Auditorium, Detroit, Friday evening, Nov. 12, at 8:30 p.m. The show is being presented at the Wednesday Town Hall and the Women's City Club. The program opens on a scene of Aztec splendor. Symbolic of the present age is a college victory dance, which is depression since recovery, and athletics in art form. The last suite on the program is an abstract art form of technical brilliance called "Kinetic Molpai," a look into the future.

Choreography for "Olympiad—A Suite of Sport Dances" has been developed by the Shawn dancers themselves out of their own athletic experience. Most of them were college and high school athletes before they joined Shawn.

State Credit Unions Hold Memorial Meet

The Credit Unions of Michigan will hold a Filene Memorial Meeting on November 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the Detroit Public Library. This meeting, which is open to persons interested in the life and work of Edward A. Filene, international economist and liberal business leader who died in Paris on September 23.

Edward A. Filene was the founder of the Credit Union movement in America which now includes 6,400 Credit Unions of working people, distributed over thirty-eight states with over a million five hundred thousand members. The meeting is under the auspices of the Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Credit Union League.

A. G. Leonard will be the speaker at the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Birmingham, Friday. His subject will be "Good Citizenship." The Farmington Women's Club is in charge of the program for the day.

and has many friends in the Farmington area.

Spencer was once the owner of a piece of property just west of the Norman Lee residence on Oakland avenue formerly belonging to the Gamsus family.

Spencer, who is a former big league baseball player, having also played with teams near Farmington, is being held as a material witness in the mysterious shooting of Miss Helen Grier of Pontiac. According to Spencer, he found the body of his hunting companion on the floor of their cabin upon his return from a short hunting trip. The girl was slain by a bullet from a 22 rifle.

According to stories related by his wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Spencer, they believed that he was going to slay with a Northville physician, a friend of the family's, at the latter's cabin on Long Lake near Glendale.

Spencer since his retirement from big league baseball 17 years ago, has operated a dairy farm near Wisom. Besides playing on various local teams, Spencer played with such teams as the New York Giants, the Toronto Club and the Los Angeles team.

Budgeting Aids Farm Households

Farm households in Michigan cooperated with home management specialists of Michigan State College last year to learn that dollars are much easier to keep track of if they are budgeted rather than try to trace where they went after they are spent.

One of the best lessons learned by the survey is that food produced on the farm is one of the best insurances that the family will be well fed and that there will be sufficient money left for other necessities and some of the luxuries. The families averaged $207 spent for food purchases. They also home produced foods valued at an average of $143.

Incomes last year were higher than in 1935. In consequence these families found they had more to serve cash to spend for household equipment and home furnishings. Pressure cookers, dishes, towels, and furnace repairs were typical expenses, in addition to linoleum, slip covers and other items.

Homemade food is still the farm custom. Recreation was not neglected, yet the farm families spent an average of but $10.66 for a family for a year of recreation.

Clothing costs varied widely, because some families spent but $58, while others of the same size had children of high school age instead of preschool or grade school age. One family of four spent $213 for clothing for four persons. Health costs averaged $30.75.

"Like the little pig that stayed at home, the dollar in the form of produce which stays at home may be of more value in feeding the family than if it were sent to market," the college specialists conclude.

Undersea Adventure Featured at Institute

Undersea adventure is promised patrons of the World Adventure Series of the Detroit Institute of Arts next Sunday afternoon, November 7, at 3:30 when J. E. Williamson, deep sea diver and photographer, lectured on "The New World Under the Sea" and shows the amazing motion pictures he took on the floor of the Caribbean.

Stationed in a metallic tube and steel chamber not stretched from a ship to the floor of the Caribbean, Mr. Williamson obtained in color motion pictures a complete record of undersea life. His films show strange and brilliantly colored fish of all kinds, picture divers removing treasure from a sunken hulk, a battle between a man and a shark, reveal the beautiful coral forests that line the ocean's floor.

Farmington Bus Line To Build Garage

According to Arnold Stoitz, manager of the Farmington-Redford division of Eastern Michigan Bus Lines, a new garage will be completed at Grand River and Truck roads in which to house the buses making the Farmington-Redford run.

The garage, which will be large enough to accommodate the division's three buses, will be located near a service station in order that complete service can be obtained at all times with a minimum amount of delay.

Grand River To Be Opened In Ten Days

According to a statement issued by a member of the state highway department, Grand River avenue will be open to regular traffic in approximately two weeks.

The last of the pavement to be laid this year is being laid near the intersection of Grand River and the Cut-off where the highway is being widened by ten feet. It is planned to also widen the curve at the intersection by a strip of paving to be laid on the east side of the highway which is intended to reduce the possible chances of any persons going over the shoulder while rounding that curve.

Catch basins and man-holes have already been constructed along the whole portion from Farmington road to the Cut-off. The last piece of construction, that of the building of the curb length of the portion widened to 40 feet, is being started this week.

Although it is expected that the 1000 feet of paving yet to be laid will be completed by the end of this week, nearly seven days are required for the concrete to "set". According to present plans, the highway will be open Sunday, November 14.

During the winter months the highway department plans to construct the new drain which is to be an extension of the city's sewer project along Shilwaukee avenue from Warner Street to the Farmington road. The new drain will take care of the surplus water collecting in the low area north of Grand River on the Methodist Children's Home property. Work on the drain is expected to begin immediately following the completion of the Grand River widening project.

1938 License Plates Now On Sale

The sale of the new 1938 automobile license plates was opened in Farmington Thursday, following word from Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, received by Paul Pare, manager of the Farmington Branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan. The new plates were originally set for November 1, new orders from the Secretary of State's office allowed them to be sold three days earlier.

According to George Gildemeister, in charge of the issuing of the new licenses, there has been comparatively few requests for plates since the opening date. Persons from Redford as well as other communities have applied for licenses through the Farmington office.

The new license plates have black figures on a green background.

Dr. Norton Elected To Medical Group Office

Dr. Joseph A. Norton of Farmington, is the new Vice President of the Michigan Osteopathic Association of Physicians and Surgeons. He was elected to the office at the annual state convocation held last week in Grand Rapids.

Dr. Norton will be in charge of the legal and legislative affairs of the association during his term of office.

Several distinguished physicians and surgeons from all parts of the United States attended the convocation. One of the most prominent physicians attending the convention was Dr. Edward A. Ward of Saginaw, who was the guest speaker at the annual banquet.

Dr. Norton has been active in the affairs of the association for many years.

Exchange Club To Hear Regional B. S. A. Head

Members of the Farmington Exchange Club are to hear the Regional Executive of Region No. 7, Boy Scouts of America, at the Wednesday, November 10 meeting. The speaker, who directs the activities of thousands of scouts in the states of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin, is making a tour of his region and is to speak in various cities throughout this section of the country.

His talk will center around the activities of the scouts and the part parents and other adults play in the scout movement.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McCaskill spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Max Shadley in Detroit.
