Rowing as U. S. Sport

in Nineteenth Century Rowing began in the United States early in the Nineteenth century, but did not become popular enough to mention in print until 1811, when a race between a boat owned by the Mercantile Advertiser and another whose owner was merely a "Mr.
Snyder," was mentioned in an advertisement in a New York paper. This sport became very popular during the 1820s. Each boat had its host of followers who bet on the outcome of various races. Some such contests drew crowds of 50,000 persons, according to a writer in the Detroit News.One of the first clubs to be organized was the "Castle Garden Boat club" established in New York in 1821. The Atlanta Boat club was formed in New York in 1848 and for some time remained a dominant power in rowing. Other early clubs included: the Union Boat club of Boston, organized in 1851 and in 1858 the "Schuykill Navy" was created in Philadelphia by a merger of the Keystone, University, Excelsior, Bachelor and other boat clubs in that district.In 1843 Yale established rowing, being the first American university to do so. Harvard followed six years later. Intercollegiate rowing did not start until 1852, when the crews of Harvard and Yale raced on the Connecticut river at Springfield, Mass. Harvard was the victor.
From 1864 to 1870 seven such intercollegiate regattas were held, with Harvard winning five and Yale two.
In 1871 the famous Rowing Association of American Colleges was founded and by 1892 there were 160 rowing universities and clubs functioning in the United States.Park in Rail Station

F. H. S. Loses
To RosevilleThe Farmington eleven was held scoreless for the second consecutive time Friday, when Roseville defeated them 12 to 0.Both Farmington and Roseville jackets were blue and white making it difficult for the referee to distinguish between the two teams, so the Farmington men put small slip-on sweaters over their jerseys.The first scoring of the game came early in the second quarter when Roseville carried the ball over the goal line on a long pass and a run around right end. Their attempted kick for the extra point was wide.The second touchdown for Roseville came late in the second quarter when a Roseville man intercepted a pass on his own forty-yard line and ran the distance of fifty yards for the touchdown. The kick was again wide.The Farmington eleven threatened to score four times but each time the scoring opportunity was broken up by intercepted passes.
It was the last home game of the season and the seniors wore blue and white ribbons on their helmets as it has been the custom to show that it is their last game on the home ground and their last year of service.Lineups

GRADE NEWS

(By Shirley Dovernman)
The second grade class in the Farmington Grade School is studying nature this week. They began their study by going for a walk in the valley several days ago, and studying leaves, weeds and milkweed pods, which they examined carefully.An Indian tepee is also being constructed in their room, and it will probably be covered with colored newspapers, which the children will bring from home.The third grade students have just received twenty four new fiction books. Of course they are all excited about them. They are waiting patiently for their teacher, Mrs. Loomis to begin reading some of them.

EDITORIAL

November 11, 1918 Armistice was signed in a lonely railroad car in Paris, at last the cherished news had come! Armistice! All along the battle front men cheered and embraced each other. At last; to be able to return home to their little loved ones. The whole world rejoiced, whistles blew; bells rang!
People yelled and cheered with joy!
Soon they would be able to see again their fathers, sons and brothers who went over to fight the war to end all wars. Many of those people were never to see again their brave soldiers for 117,000 of those men were never to return.
In France today rows and rows of crosses mark their graves and in the spring poppies bloom to bring joy to our buddies, the poppies of Flanders Fields.In solemn memory of those who never came back and in memory of that joyful day of Armistice we set aside November 11 as a National Holiday.It should be observed and reverenced by all. I hope all of you whether you attend church or not give a little prayer to our buddies who never returned.

Skating Party(By Gladys Edwards)
The Sophomore class of the Farmington High School held a roller skating party at South Lyon, on Thursday, November 4.
They went on the school bus with Mr. Griffith, their class sponsor.
There were few falls and no serious injuries were reported. The class had a grand evening, arriving at school safely and happy.
The class is hoping there will be another party like that one in the near future.Juniors Hold Halloween Party(By Jeanne Reid)
The Junior Halloween dance was held Friday night in the gymnasium of the Farmington High School. The doors were opened at 8:30, but the dancing didn't get under way until shortly after 9:00 o'clock.During the first half hour, the stag line was fairly long, but as the night grew shorter so did the stag line.The dance was over at twelve o'clock, and the Juniors' first activity of the year, which turned out to be a huge success, was over. The Junior class wishes to thank the students and alumni for their cooperation in making this dance a success.Indian "Sweating Cave" Is Discovered in MaineWest Lubec, Me.—An Indian "sweating cave" has been discovered here.The cave was identified as such by Jim McDonald, of Black Head, veteran trapper and hunter.The cave was built of stones without mortar. In the center was a hollow where a fire was built and stones placed around it. When the stones got hot, those suffering from colds, coughs and pneumonia would gather around while water was poured over the hot stones.Steam penetrated their blankets and the patient perspired. This was done until all pain was gone from the body.TELETYPEWRITER'S WEIRD MESSAGE THRILLS POLICEShortly after a new teletypewriter system had been installed at Indian apolis police headquarters, the instruments began to receive and transmit the following message:"To All Mankind: I am the dictator of human history.
Through control of the earth's internal forces I am master of every existing thing. I can blot out all life, destroy the globe itself.
It is my intention to abolish all existing governments and make myself emperor of the earth. Communicate this to the various governments."As a preliminary to the establishment of my sole rule, the following demands must be complied with:"1. All standing armies shall be disbanded.
2. As the message was recorded by the teletypewriter, cold chills coursed up and down police spines, and soon police, armed with riot sticks, guns, and tear gas were descending on masses on the location of the key machine of the teletypewriter system. They had visions of facing a homicidal maniac, but instead they found a clerk in the police record bureau practicing on the new machine. He was copying a detective story.
