Farmington High School News

(Edited by the Journalism Class)

Girl Reserves Attend Tea

Wednesday was a busy day for the Girl Reserves of the Farmington High School. At 2:30 the girls were entertained by the Farmington Woman's Club, at the home of Mrs. Bagnall. The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Meade of Pontiac. Mrs. Meade read parts of three kinds of drama. The first was fantasy, the second was a light romance, and the third, a comedy although tragic. Everyone enjoyed the skits immensely. Tea and cookies were served. Miss Budde accompanied the girls because Mrs. White, Girl Reserve sponsor, was unable to attend.

Wednesday evening they held their Recognition Services, which had been postponed from Tuesday evening because Mrs. White found it impossible to attend. The girls enjoyed dance in the gym, after which they were served refreshments of ice cream and cake. Plans having been made for the following meeting, the group dispersed at nine o'clock.

Art Class Is Making Window

(By Gordon Matthews)
The Art class of the Farmington high school is making a stained glass window. It is of the wheel type and typical to that of the Romanesque architecture.

Mr. Baker, the art teacher, says that it will give the pupils a realization of the finer works of art and it will also teach them to contrast colors. This window will be attached to a window in the high school.

Mr. Baker is working hard and is trying to accomplish many great things during the course of a year. All the students seem very interested in the work the art teacher has planned for them.

A FRIEND

Have you ever thought before How a friend can brighten your heart And share his happiness with you Till the day you both must part? What would it be without a friend? Would life be all worth while? Isn't it a pleasure to you To have someone to greet with a smile?

When you are in sorrow What's more cheerful than a friend? A friend who is always-willing To help you sorrows mend.

A friend is like a precious jewel Treasured by you and me. We keep a friend till both must part Then hold in memory. —Viola Deltich

Team Loses First Debate

(By Bertha Smith)
The first judged debate of the year was held in the Farmington High School Assembly Hall on Tuesday, November 16. The visiting team was from Rochester High School and upheld the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a Unicameral form of Legislature." The speakers for Rochester were Robert Hahn, Bob Duff and Frank Siebert, while James Gibbs, Dorothy Johnson and Roger Walker represented Farmington.

The decision was given to the Rochester High School team. Miss Cavanaugh acted as chairman and Mr. James Laiture, of Plymouth High School, acted as judge. The debate opened at 3:40 and continued until shortly after 5:00.

Thanksgiving Dance Proves Successful

The Thanksgiving dance given by the Senior class Friday night in the high school gym was a success in the eyes of the seniors.

One gym was decorated in the festive style of Thanksgiving with a huge turkey holding a place of honor on the wall across from the entrance. A log cabin was turned into a refreshment stand for the occasion.

The King's Jesters, who provided the music were adjudged "A bit of all right." They sang a novelty song that had to do with the members of the faculty, and which was given generous applause.

The dance ended at 11:45 and everyone present had a good time.

GRADE NEWS

(By E. Goodfellow)
In our fourth grade we have a book club. In the school library there are old fashioned books, and so we are trying to get some more modern ones in our own library. To earn the money for the books we bring pennies to put in our bank. If we keep books over three days we have to pay a penny fine and if we go home at night and leave our desks dirty we have to pay a penny fine. Miss Dubois went to Detroit and bought five new books with the money we had already earned. The names of the books are: Danny Meadowmouse, by Burgess; Grannie's Wonderful Chair by Frances Brown; Hors Trucks Here by L. Mitchell; Little Dutch Tulip Girl and Mitz and Fritz of Germany by Madeline Brandler.

We are hoping that we can earn enough money so as to be able to buy many more new books for the library.

You Can Depend on the Man Who ADVERTISES

Nine times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for today or tomorrow only . . . but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good-will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that tomorrow you will be sorry you overlooked.

Grow

Advertising is usually a sign of a growing business. And people, as a rule, like to shop at a growing store . . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. George Hake were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Hake and Mr. and Mrs. Adams drove to Holly to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beckwith. Mrs. Beckwith is an aunt of Mrs. Hake.

Mrs. Don Hatton, Mrs. Clara Dutton and Paul Dutton spent Monday evening in Detroit at the home of the former's brother, Dr. Smith. In the evening they attended a featured travelogue at the Redford Methodist Church, given by the Toll brothers, who hitch-hiked their way around the world, and are now delivering lectures and showing pictures on their trip.

Homer Eisenlord has returned from a successful deer hunting trip into northern Michigan.
