New Law Relates To Sale of Auto Accessories on Time

(Editor's note: Due to an unusually large number of laws affecting both real and personal property, passed by the 1937 Legislature, The Enterprise is publishing a series of articles prepared by Henry T. McLaughlin, Oakland County Register of Deeds, and Robert D. Heltsch, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney and Civil Counsel for the County. All the acts discussed in this series, with one exception were passed this year. This is the eighth article of the series.)

A new law affecting large numbers of people and business transactions is now on the statute books of Michigan, having been passed by the 1937 session of the Legislature and become effective. The new statute is one of a growing body of law that is developing out of the new time-payment plan of merchandising, a plan under which a large portion of all the nation's purchasing now takes place.

Because so large a proportion of the public purchases its goods particularly that part having to do with transportation, on the time-payment plan, the new law is of wide interest. It is one, however, that puts a restriction upon the seller rather than the purchaser of automobile accessories and appliances, which the statute is specifically designed to cover.

SENATE ENROLLED ACT No. 36
PUBLIC ACT No. 305
SESSION OF 1937.
CHATTEL MORTGAGES ON AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

Senate Enrolled Act No. 36. An act to provide for the recording of certain chattel mortgages in certain cases, to provide for the method of recording same, and the duties of the secretary of state in connection therewith; and to make said chattel mortgages null and void and of no force and effect in certain cases.

The people of the State of Michigan enact:

Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation, selling to any owner of a motor vehicle which has heretofore or is hereafter issued a Michigan certificate of title as provided by act number forty-six of the public acts of nineteen hundred twenty-one, as amended, any accessory, equipment, additional part or replacement part for said motor vehicle, and securing the payment of same by the taking of a chattel mortgage upon such motor vehicle, shall at the time such sale is consummated furnish the purchaser a statement of said sale giving substantially the following information: date of sale; amount of chattel mortgage; accessory, additional part or replacement part sold and date of final payment of said chattel mortgage; and shall immediately forward to the secretary of state the certificate of title of the purchaser and a true copy of the chattel mortgage, together with the sum of fifty cents to be paid by the purchaser of such accessory, additional part or replacement part.

Section 2. Provides the duties of the Secretary of State.

Section 3. Provides that such chattel mortgages shall be null and void, and of no force and effect unless the law is complied with.

This law does not affect the titles of new cars; but only applies to the sale of radios, heaters, tires, etc., and repairs. In such cases the vendor to protect his interest MUST FILE a true copy of the chattel mortgage with the Register of Deeds of the county (Title is not required) for which a fee of 55¢ is charged, and also must "forward to the Secretary of State the certificate of title of the purchaser and a true copy of the chattel mortgage, together with the sum of fifty cents to be paid by the purchaser of such accessory, additional part or replacement part."

When such chattel mortgage is paid it must then be discharged from the Register of Deeds office for which a fee of 55¢ is fixed by law, and the title must be again sent to the Secretary of State's office with a discharge and another fee of 50¢.

The law was given immediate effect.

Child Pianist To Be at Ann Arbor

Ruth Stenczynski, the miracle child of the piano, who is to give a recital in the Choral Union Series, Monday evening, January 10, Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, made her New York debut four years ago. Since then she has blazed a triumphant trail across the country, in leading cities of Europe and America she has proven her claim to high rank, and established herself as one of the most intriguing personalities in the world of music. Her is a technique that runs the gamut of pianistic pyrotechnics. She possesses an unerring sense of rhythm. There is nothing showy in her performances, but instead, they take on the substantial proportions of a mature artist.

Redford Shows Season's Musical Hit

Talent from three of radio's most popular programs is included in the impressive list of actors and entertainers assembled by Paramount for its latest comedy-musical, "Double or Nothing," which opens Saturday at the Redford Theatre.

The list is headed by Bing Crosby, the crooning gentleman whose "Music Hall of the Air" has recently been adjudged as among the most popular programs on the broadcasting chains. Bing heads the cast of "Double or Nothing," a gay story of four persons who are actually forced to spend $5,000—given to them as a present—in order to win a million.

Costarred with Bing is Martha Raye, the leather-jungled lass of the latitudinal habit, the young lady whose meteoric rise in the films within the space of one year is only matched by the tremendous radio following she has won for herself on the Al Jolson radio hour. Miss Raye is rapidly forging ahead in radio and expects to predict that she will soon be among the top names of the air. Her style is as unique on the air as it is on the screen and stage.

From Jack Benny's popular hour comes Andy Devine. Although he has not appeared regularly on the Benny program the cracked-voiced ex-football star has managed to win for himself a radio following which runs into the tens of thousands. Frances Payne, famed singer, is also in the cast.

Besides such well-known movie performers as Mary Carlisle, who plays the feminine romantic lead opposite Bing in "Double or Nothing," William Frawley, Sam Hinds, William Henry, Fay Holden and a host of others, the cast boasts of the Calgary Brothers, noted comedians, and serves to introduce to the movie-going public the comedy dancing team of Ames and Arno, known to vaudeville and revue fans throughout America.

The opening double feature of the week appearing Thursday and Friday, December 30 and 31, combines one of the best comedies of the season "New Faces" featuring Joe Penner and Parykarkus, and an entertaining drama of a tough character called "Bad Guy" with Bruce Cabot in the leading role.

Advertising is nothing more than a conversation between yourself and your merchant. He pays for it but it saves you money.

ADVERTISEMENTS Are Your Guides To Value

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it, all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the material that makes up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch... knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands, here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The advertised product is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it couldn't be consistently advertised.

BUY ADVERTISED GOODS

You Can Depend on the Man Who ADVERTISES

Nine times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for today or tomorrow only... but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good-will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that tomorrow you will be sorry you overlooked.
