All notices for this column must be in the Enterprise office not later than Tuesday at noon.

Salem Evangelical Church
Rev. Carl H. Schultz, Pastor

Morning Worship 10:30. Topic—“Christ Cannot Be Hidden.”

On this second Sunday in Lent (Reminiscence) we find the Christian warfare against all of the forces of evil continued. Last Sunday the Lenten Gospel was concerned with Christ warring with Satan in the Temptation. On this second Sunday Christ turns from the inward to the external battle against evil and misery, and heals the daughter of the Phoenician woman. We, of course, remember that sickness and infirmities in the days of Jesus and later were believed caused by demons; therefore, when Christ healed the girl He had overcome the force of evil (Satan) for the second time.

Sunday School 11:30. The superintendent, Mr. Way, expresses his satisfaction with the noticeable increase and constancy of church-school attendance; however, he wishes to urge that all of our former members and any friends of church-school return to our midst. It is most gratifying to see a good attendance of our young people in the services Sunday mornings.

Vesper Service 4:30. Topic—“The Life That Satisfied God.” To everyone there is a heavy burden. To our members and to those who are not affiliated with any church, come and join in our worship. Friends, never do I want these invitations to carry a suggestion that I am proselytizing; that is not my intention. But to any person who is not attached to a certain church, I as a preacher feel a responsibility. In that spirit I extend the invitation to friends.

ply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.”

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Hebrews 11:1): “Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.”

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, “Science and Health with Key to the scriptures,” by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: (p. 483) “Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance.”

THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS LOSE TITLES ANNUALLY

In the rush to serve the public just before the March 1 deadline for the purchase of 1938 automobile license plates, Department of State officials became impressed with the apparent carelessness with which thousands of motorists handle their car titles.

Annually great numbers of people are delayed in buying plates until they can locate their titles. This year an unusually large number of persons appeared for duplicate titles, being totally unable to locate the original ones. In the last 15 days of February more than 5,000 duplicate titles were issued by the Department of State.

Motor vehicle owners are deprived from exercising ordinary legal rights in connection with their cars, if they lack titles. They may not sell them, trade them or even give them away, without titles to prove their ownership.

Complications sometimes follow in the wake of applications for duplicate titles. A comparison of signatures on the two applications may reveal a discrepancy which cannot be ignored; three applications in February disclosed that, innocently or not, persons had acquired stolen cars. Police were notified, and asked to investigate. Duplicate titles cost $1, as do original titles. Every application for a duplicate must be accompanied by a statement as to what happened to the original. Most people merely write tersely but significantly: “It was lost.”

MICHIGAN WOODS ARE VALUED AT $1.20 AN ACRE

Michigan's woodlands still are worth cash and represent a sizeable farm industry. Conservative figures based on the last farm census in the state indicate the average wooded acre earns $1.20.

About $5,000 farm families in the state find financial benefits from woodlands. In products used or sold the woods return in a year more than $1,600,000. The same survey indicates woodland products present an annual cash income for these $5,000 farm families of $2,370,000.

These figures have been assembled by the United States Forest Service and issued by W. Ira Bull, extension forester at Michigan State College. They are designed to show the importance of wooded areas that still cover parts of Oakland County.

Steep hillsides, eroded areas and unused corners of farms are suggested as good portions to retain as woods or to plant with proper seedlings.

Forest Service officials term the woodlands a good farm-bank which can be used to pay regular dividends in fuel or timber. Farmers find the woods and timber count as a source of income.

Otherwise inactive periods can be utilized for woods work. Thinning, working with teams and farm help can add to the fuel supply. Sugarbush areas add extra income on many Michigan farms.
