Scout News

The Scouts of Troop 45 are full of enthusiasm. Twenty-six boys were out to the regular meeting. Several have made arrangements for re-registration for the coming year. Two boys passed their tenderfoot tests; another, T. R. Whitlock, received his membership card and tenderfoot pin. Several requests for merit badge applications were made. Perhaps the thought of Spring and the good times ahead for Scouts is arousing the boys to activity.

Each patrol has its own section in the Scout room and is planning decorations to distinguish one patrol from another. All three patrols held special meetings for county and are planning for future meetings.

The Wolf patrol has the best drill team; the Flying Eagle patrol has the outstanding dramatic group. The Eagles have dramatized two of the Scout laws at the last two meetings. The Rattlesnake patrol is scheduled to dramatize Law Number Two next Monday.

All Scouts are asked to wear uniforms and take a lunch when the troop goes with the Girl Scouts Saturday to Detroit. Be ready to leave the High School at 9:30 a. m.

It is desired that the Boys Troop complete re-registration this week so the charter for the coming year will be received in time for the Troop birthday party planned for March 31. Call 3034 for further information.

Intemperance

Those men who destroy a healthful constitution of body by intemperance and an irregular life, do as manifestly kill themselves, as those who hang, or poison, or drown themselves.—Sherlock.

FEATURE WRITING
GRAND DUCHESS TO SPEAK IN DETROIT

Grand Duchess Marie, granddaughter of Czar Alexander the Great and cousin of the Grand Czar Nicholas, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Theatre Wednesday morning, March 16, at 11 o'clock. The glamorous Russian recently was sent to India on a writing assignment for Cosmopolitan magazine to gather material on the feminist Orient. She was entertained by Maharajahs and Maharanees who were personal friends of hers during her years in Russia, Sweden and Japan. She returned by way of China and Japan. Her Town Hall lecture subject will be "Woman in the Modern Orient."

Grand Duchess Marie is related to most of the royal families of Europe. Queen Marie of Roumania is her first cousin. Through her mother, who was the daughter of King George of Greece, the Grand Duchess is related to the English royal family.

She was a guest at the Coronation this spring, where she wrote feature articles for American papers.

In 1928, the Grand Duchess Marie arrived in America with a suitcase, a typewriter, a guitar and the first rough draft of her book, "Education of a Princess." In it she told how she went from the luxury of the Russian Imperial Court through the hardships of revolution. Twenty-one members of her immediate family, including Grand Duke Paul, her father, who was the brother of Alexander III, were assassinated in the Bolshevik uprising. In exile, she joined a dressmaking shop in Paris, where she gradually found a life for herself in a democratic world. In 1929 she became fashion consultant for New York dressmaking establishment, a job she held until the success of her first book made it possible to devote all her time to writing and lecturing. Tickets are on sale at Grinnell's Music Store, Detroit, RA. 1124.

"We as a people seem to be losing all sense of respect for ourselves and our fellow men, with the result that in a thoroughly intolerant attitude we hesitate not a minute to secure an organized minority, or even a majority, to attempt by resolution or law to impose our will on a large body of people in matters where no moral wrong is involved and where liberty is curtailed."—John J. Raskob.

Without machine power, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness would have no satisfactory meaning in this modern age.
