SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD REASSURES UNEMPLOYED

Unemployment insurance benefits are not deducted from old-age insurance, Mr. Walter B. Redman, manager of the Pontiac field office of the Social Security Board, announced. His statement was made to reassure unemployed workers who feared that any sums they might receive from the State unemployment insurance fund would be deducted from the amounts credited to them in the files of the old-age insurance wage records. "Payment of unemployment insurance benefits," he explained, "is entirely a State matter under a State agency."

Troop Rates High

Troop 1 had its first birthday March 1, but postponed celebration until the 25th anniversary of the National Girl Scout organization was March 12. National Boy Scout Week was held in February.

The program Tuesday calls for a potluck supper in the church basement followed by community singing. The girls then will present a play on the church stage and the boys will demonstrate signalling, first aid and the various ways to start a fire. The party will end at 9 o'clock.

Guests will include Harold Jacobson, Pontiac, Commander of the Oakland Circle District; Joseph Stummelbach, Farmington, vice-chairman of the District; Robert Burras, Superintendent of Schools; members of the troop committee and parents of the Scouts.

As an introduction to the party the Boy Scouts will hold a Court of Honor Monday night in the troop cabin on Grand River. A feature of the Court, which probably will be conducted by Mr. Hunsmeier, will be the awarding of tenderfoot badges to the four new Scouts, Tom Rock, William Checketts, Richard Snyder, and William Fornier.

Merit and promotion badges will be awarded older Scouts.

Twenty-three girls have registered for Troop 1 which has held charter only a year. With the enthusiasm of the girls plus the cooperation and best wishes of the parents and the community, the troop is looking forward to an interesting year.

Mrs. Gilbert A. Miles will serve as chairman of the Troop Committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Ada Goers, Mrs. Z. R. Aschenbrenner, Mrs. C. E. Grey and Mrs. Iva G. Hutton. The scout leader is Mrs. Robert G. Gale. Miss Frances E. Erickson is captain and lieutenant with Betty Aschenbrenner, Dorothy Goers, Margaret Miles and Barbara Nash as patrol leaders.

COMMISSIONER URGES SUPPORT OF SYPHILIS BILL

Passage of the amended LaFollette-Bulwinkle bill providing for a nationwide attack upon syphilis, "U. S. Public Health Enemy No. 1," would prove a tremendous boon to Michigan's venereal disease campaign, Dr. Don W. Gudakunst, state health commissioner, says in urging local health officers to support enactment of the bill.

As passed on favorably by the Committee on Commerce, Senate Bill 3290 provides $3,000,000 for the first year of the syphilis campaign; $5,000,000 the second year; $7,000,000 the third year; and "for each of the ten fiscal years thereafter such sum as may be needed to carry out the purposes of this act." Hearings before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce are scheduled for April 14.

"The appropriations for a nationwide attack upon syphilis are not extravagant," said Dr. Gudakunst, "when it is considered that every year more than $30,000,000 is spent for care of the nation's syphilitic insane and another $10,000,000 for care of the syphilitic blind. The toll of misery cannot be estimated for those 100,000 persons who are treated annually for syphilitic heart disease, the 40,000 who die annually of syphilitic cardiac conditions, the 50,000 persons who contract the disease for the first time each year."

TENOR FLIES TO FILL ROLE IN OPERA IN AN EMERGENCY

A critical situation arose in Chicago recently when the Chicago Civic Opera Company was to give a prequel of "Norma" and had covered, on short notice, that the nearest tenor available for the role of Pollione was 750 miles distant.

Giovanni Martinelli had been scheduled to sing, but within a few hours of the start of the opera it was found that he would not be able to do so. The company had other tenors, but none who knew the role of Pollione. The nearest was Frederick Jagel, and he was in New York City.

In this emergency, telephone and airplane saved the day. Impresario Paul Longofo telephoned Jagel in New York, who agreed to take the part. But the best connection he could make would bring him into the municipal airport in Chicago at 8 P. M., the hour when the curtain was scheduled to go up in the Civic Opera House. He was instructed to come at once, and a delegation went out to the airport to meet him. He was escorted swiftly to the opera house, and the curtain rose on Act I of "Norma" after a delay of 30 minutes.

Edward VIII One of Few Kings Not on the Coins

As is customary for new rulers, Edward VIII contemplated new designs for the coins of England and her colonies.

It was planned to have the new coins ready at the time of his coronation, but his sudden abdication made these and other plans quite futile. Edward VIII is one of the few kings of England who is not portrayed on its coins, writes Stuart Mosher in Abbeville.

It was thought for a time that no coins would bear even his name, but four of the colonies issued such coins, quite disregarding the happenings in England.

The first was the penny of New Guinea. It is an odd-looking piece, strongly influenced by conventional native art. The obverse shows two birds, a crown and the initials E. R. I. meaning Edward Rex Imperator. The reverse shows a native Papuan god in a squatting position.

West Africa soon followed with three denominations in nickel. These pieces are very similar in design to the previous issue of George V.

Another one, and probably the last, is the nickel one penny of Fiji. It is the simplest in all designs and, like all the others, it is center-holed so that it may be carried on a string by the pocketless natives.

None of these coins are outstanding examples of art nor of important denominations. But to collectors they will remain as important reminders of a great romance as well as a tragedy.

In centuries to come they will tell the story as simply and clearly as coins issued 2,500 years ago reveal to us the outstanding happenings of the ancient world.

The Deadwood Coach

OR A MODERN STREAMLINER?

Sending money in the old days by the Deadwood Coach was more picturesque than practical. Delivery was slow and uncertain, with Indians and bandits a constant threat.

This is the age of air mail service and coast to coast railroad "streamliners." Today less than 10% of all commercial transactions are settled in cash. The accepted method is to pay by check.

Why not pay your bills through this bank in this modern way—and gain in ease, security, and credit standing?
