Question Box

(Editor's Note—This is the second in a series of questions and answers on job insurance in Michigan. This installment answers some of the questions being asked by employers covered by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission Law. Readers of the Enterprise are invited to submit their questions either to this newspaper or to the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission; Information Service, 315 Fox Building, Detroit.)

Q. Are all Michigan employers subject to the law?

A. No. Only those who have employed eight or more workers in some portion of 20 different weeks of the calendar year are subject and required to pay contributions on their payrolls.

Q. What is the contribution rate?

A. Three per cent of the annual payroll, until 1942 when the merit rating system will go into effect.

Q. Does the merit rating system offer any encouragement to employers to stabilize their employment?

A. Yes, it does. The merit rating system will reduce the contribution rate or increase it on the basis of the employers' stabilization of employment. The rate may be as low as one per cent or as high as four per cent.

Q. Does the Federal government cooperate with Michigan in the job insurance program?

A. Yes. The Federal government allows Michigan employers to credit contributions paid into the Michigan Fund against the Federal tax levied on payrolls by Title IX of the Social Security Act. It also makes Federal grants to pay for all of the administrative costs of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Law and shares in the cost of operating the Michigan State Employment Service.

Q. What is the rate of the Federal excise tax levied on employers by Title IX of the Social Security Act?

A. The rate is three per centum of wages payable by subject employers during the calendar year.

Q. What portion of his contribution to the Michigan Fund may an employer credit against this Federal tax?

A. The total amount of the State contribution may be claimed as a credit against the Federal tax up to 90 per cent of the Federal tax.

Q. How is the Michigan law administered?

A. The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act is administered by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission. Members of the Commission are Frank A. Picard, of Saginaw, Chairman; Henry A. Montgomery, Detroit and John Reid of Lansing. The Commission is appointed by the Governor and the Secretary and Director, Abner E. Larned, is appointed by the Commission.

Q. What are the duties of the Commission?

A. To administer the provisions of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, the Commission, shall take all appropriate steps to reduce and prevent unemployment; to encourage and assist in the adoption of practical methods of vocational training, retraining and vocational guidance; to investigate, recommend, advise, and assist in the establishment and operation, by municipalities, counties, school districts, and the state of reserves for public works to be used in times of business depression and unemployment; to promote the resumption of unemployed workers throughout the state in every way that may be feasible; and to these ends to carry on and publish the results of investigations and research studies.

The next installment in this series will answer the questions being asked by workers.

At The Redford Theater

Carole Lombard, a liar; Fred MacMurray, an honest man, and John Barrymore, a nut, co-star Friday through Monday at the Redford Theater in "True Confession."

With them are such high class comedians as Una Merkel, Porter Hall and Edgar Kennedy, who specializes in restrained exasperation.

Miss Lombard, who can break any lie detector in the country with the utterance of a simple sentence, prevaricates herself into noon.

prison by confessing a murder she didn't commit. She does this with the commendable intention of boosting her husband's business as a result of the publicity of the confession.

Showing with "True Confession" is "Hollywood Hotel."

The Redford has "Every Day's a Holiday," with Mae West, and "Tarzan's Revenge" on the bill for Tuesday through Thursday.

"Lone Ranger" serial runs again Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Why Wait 'Til Something SERIOUS HAPPENS Before You Drive Carefully!

Perhaps we should have put the question in this way: Why wait until something serious happens before you TRY to start driving carefully? We say "try" . . . because very often that man responsible for a serious accident becomes a nervous wreck behind the wheel of a motor car. But the fact does remain that unless you do drive carefully something serious WILL happen to you. It's inevitable . . . it's bound to come . . . it will get you . . . and you . . . and you . . . unless you DRIVE CAREFULLY! You can't go on being careless and lucky all your natural life! If you disregard traffic rules and regulations . . . if you take your own life into your hands . . . if you continue to endanger the lives of others . . . you will eventually pay the penalty. Traffic is too heavy today for anyone to escape. You've got to be alert . . . you've got to keep your eyes open . . . your mind wide awake at all times to get by these days. DRIVE CAREFULLY!
