Mrs. Charles Thomas is reported ill with a bad case of mumps. The Sekella property on Clarita Road has been reported sold to an employee of the Mills Baking Co. The Sekella plan to build a home in Redford.

The Taxpayers' Association will sponsor a hot dog roast at Lola Valley Park Friday, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of tents for the Scout benefit. Charles Thomas has been named entertainment committee chairman to replace Mrs. R. Fredericks, who resigned.

There is no greater disloyalty to the great pioneers of human progress than to refuse to budge an inch from where they stood.

Snore Cycles Mark Life

of the Average Person

It has been established that there are snore cycles in the life of the average person, writes Margaret McEachern in Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Infants snore commonly. Between the ages of ten and thirty years, snoring is rare. But after thirty it increases. This may be because at this age an average person becomes a little careless about their physical well being. And unless the physical condition which is causing the snoring is corrected, it will increase with the passing of each ten years.

Generally, snoring indicates disturbances in the breathing apparatus, especially an obstruction in the nose that prevents the individual from sleeping with his mouth closed. The obstruction may be a result of polyp, tumor growths, enlarged turbinates, bony deformities, sinus infection or a deviated septum which encroaches on the air space of one nostril.

Strange but true, certain foods may cause a person to snore. Many men and women are sensitive to certain proteins. If they eat tomatoes, for instance, the mucous membranes of the nose have a tendency to accumulate secretions. Chronic inflammation of the nasal linings may cause an enlargement of the tissues sufficient to obstruct the nose.

In children, snoring commonly is an indication of enlarged adenoids. According to conservative estimates, one out of every eight persons snores more or less regularly. No doubt every person snores occasionally, but the one out of eight is the person to look out for.

Arabs First to Respect

the Value of Gibraltar

Even in the days when military science was in its infancy the rock of Gibraltar, rising sheer 1,400 feet, appealed to the imagination of the ancients, who called it, together with its companion, Gebel Musa, on the African coast, the Pillars of Hercules. In all other respects they left the solitary giant alone to his meditations, according to a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

The Arabs were the first to recognize the rock's strategic value. As Moors they crossed the strait in 711, christening it Gebel-el-Tarik, or the mountain of Tarik, their leader's name. They constructed a castle and eventually conquered the whole peninsula.

Nine hundred years later the last Moor was expelled from Spain and he left it where the original one had landed, in the bay of Gibraltar.

On the decline of the Spanish empire the rock passed into British hands.

Napoleon tried to take it when he was building his empire but failed. Thus was created the phrase, "as strong as the rock of Gibraltar."

Snake Lives on Eggs
The egg-eating snake of South Africa is a harmless reptile and lives almost exclusively on eggs. It is pale brown in color with three rows of darker blotches. In describing the food habits of this species, scientifically known as Dasypeltis scabra, Raymond Ditmars, authority on reptiles, says: "Characterized by the presence of only a few teeth in the rear part of the jaw bones the food of the species is restricted almost entirely to eggs. To aid the snake in cutting through the shell is an ingenious development in the throat. There are knife-like points extending into the esophagus that cut the egg as it passes into the throat." This snake can swallow an egg as large as a hen's even though its body is about the diameter of a person's finger. It grows to be a yard long. After the egg has been swallowed, the shell is crushed and expelled from the mouth. Three eggs make a big meal and after that the egg-eater is likely to fall asleep for three weeks.

Hudson's Bay Company Ruled

For nearly 200 years the Hudson's Bay company ruled huge portions of Canada. Wherever it established a trading post it had the right to govern, says the Washington Post. Company men trapped and hunted for some furs, bartered with average Indians for others. They lived in isolated fort-like posts, often saw other white men only twice a year. They had to be fighters. Disgraced Indians, competing traders frequently attacked their posts.

Famous Cathedral in Havana

The cathedral of Havana is a famous church. It is built of native limestone; it is also the most noteworthy architectural. It was erected between 1696 and 1724 and was long believed to shelter the bones of Columbus. Historians dispute about his tomb, some holding that it is in Santo Domingo, whence his bones were supposed to have been taken some decades after his death, some holding that it is in Havana and some in Spain.
