

Latvia Possesses 1,000 Lakes, About 500 Rivers

Latvia, larger than Denmark, Holland or Belgium, is one-third arable land and the remainder forests, meadows, pastures, and bogs. Latvia has more than 1,000 lakes and about 500 rivers, writes a Riga correspondent in the New York Herald Tribune.

Riga, the capital, was founded in 1201 and is the largest Baltic port. The Riga beach on the Baltic is situated at the very gates of the large city on a wooded strip of land. The language of Latvia is akin to Sanskrit.

Lithuania, also on the Baltic, whose borders touch those of Latvia, is an independent European republic and before the war formed part of Russia.

The Estonian republic is on the other side of Latvia, and is bounded on the north by the gulf of Finland. Tallinn, its capital, was founded in 1219 by King Valdemar II of Denmark on the site of an ancient Estonian fortress. It has been held successively by Danes, Germans, Swedes and Russians, each of whom has left some characteristic feature.

Another interesting medieval town is Narva in the northeast of the country. Its foundation also goes back to the Thirteenth century.

The town of Tartu is reached in a few hours from Tallinn. It was established by the German Order of Knights in 1224, also replacing an ancient Esclapian stronghold. The town of Pelsari, in the extreme southeast, is of interest, for it contains a most unique Greek Orthodox cave monastery.

Some MANIACS Murder with guns-- Others Kill With Speeding CARS

"BANDITS HOLD UP BANK, TWO KILLED" . . . "BY-STANDER KILLED AS POLICE AND GANGSTERS SHOOT IT OUT" . . . the headlines scream . . . and you shudder! But, my good citizen, your car can deal death far more brutally than a gun in the hands of a gangster. Deaths resulting from automobile accidents are far more numerous each year than death resulting from gang murders.

To you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, is entrusted the privilege of handling a dangerous weapon. The automobile, though one of the greatest boons to mankind in history of the world . . . can be its most destructive peace-time weapon. Are you worthy of the trust placed in you? You have been given the privilege of driving an automobile on our highways. In order to protect you . . . your life and the lives of others . . . certain traffic rules and regulations have been laid down . . . not for the other fellow, but for you . . . for everyone! Do you know them . . . do you know what you can and cannot do? If you don't know . . . and if your ignorance is responsible for your killing someone in traffic . . . then you are guilty of murder . . . Drive carefully!
