

Wolfe Pitches Fourth Successive Victory

Harry E. Wolfe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe of West Point Park, is bent upon climbing professional baseball's ladder. Pitching for the Sioux City (Iowa) Cowboys Friday night he won his fourth straight victory.

Victims of Wolfe's pitching wiles were the Lincoln, Nebraska team. He allowed them only five hits, all singles. He struck out ten opposing batters, and gave only three walks.

During the second half of the season, which started just recently, the Cowboys won five out of six games played.

"Everything That Wears Feathers" Will Be at World's Poultry Congress

Housed in the Hall of Live Poultry at the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition in Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7, 1933, will be probably the most comprehensive display of all breeds and varieties of poultry ever gathered under one roof. It is the purpose of Congress officials to gather and display here representative specimens of every known breed and variety. Asked what the word "poultry" denoted as applied to this exposition, one official has replied:—"Everything that wears feathers." Here the visitor will see every breed of chicken from the familiar breeds of our neighboring farm yards to rare and exotic varieties from out of the way corners of the world. There will be ducks and geese and turkeys, pigeons, water fowl and other types of common and rare feather bearing specimens. Here before the eye will range a vision of color and graceful line that would surpass any "beauty parade" for interest. Even the most experienced poultryman will find himself confronted by surprise after surprise as he encounters many of our lesser known breeds, colorful fowl from the tropics, rare breeds from far off Asia and little known varieties from the out-of-the-way corners of the world. To Congress visitors the Hall of Live Poultry will be a source of new-found interest and pleasure—and a most worthwhile educational feature.

INDIRECT NIGHT LIGHTING REDUCES ACCIDENT TOLL

Indirect night lighting by the use of powerful reflectors, introduced for the first time in Michigan, is apparently effective in reducing accidents.

The first check on the effectiveness of the U.S.-12 reflector installation between Lansing and Detroit showed this week a 79 per cent reduction in night accidents, covering the three-month period in which the "lights" have been in operation. The comparison is with the same three months a year ago.

The 79 per cent reduction in night accidents compares with a 37.5 per cent reduction in accidents during daylight hours for the same period. There were 9 accidents at night during the period, April 6-July 6, compared with 43 at night during the same three months a year ago. Day time accidents dropped from 48 last year to 30 this year.

No fatal accidents have been recorded at night on this highway since the reflectors were installed compared with four during the same period a year ago.

"The three-month period is rather short for final conclusions," Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner commented, "but there is a definite indication that these 'lights' are saving lives and thousands of dollars in property damage."

Mrs. O. M. Schlosser and son Charles of Oklahoma City are visitors. Mrs. Schlosser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Andrews.

Mrs. William S. Kenyon is spending the remainder of the summer as a guest of friends at St. Clair Flats.
