

22,000 WORKERS PLACED IN JOBS SINCE JANUARY 1

More than 22,000 job placements

In industry, commerce, business and public works in this State have been made by the Michigan State Employment Service since the first of the year. It was announced this week by Frederic S. Schouman, Director. This steadily mounting figure, which includes the state-wide total through July 12th, indicates the increasing effectiveness of the work of the Michigan State Employment Service in bringing about contacts between jobless workers and employers.

Despite the heavy load of registrations for job insurance benefits, in which the 56 state employment offices accepted 136,582 claims between July 1 and July 12, the Service continued its placement activities, finding jobs for 1,364 individuals in that same twelve day period.

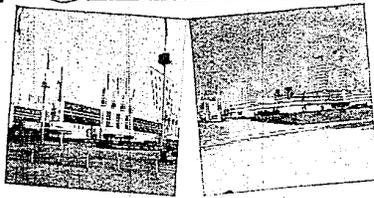

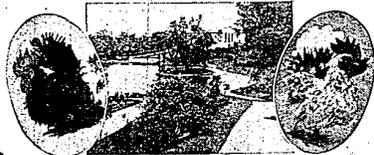

Kept It Up

"Michigan, unlike most of the 23 states now accepting compensation, has kept up its placement activities during the rush of taking claims," Schouman said.

"During the 12-day period from July 1 to July 12 our offices handled an average of 15,521 claims a day... and at the same time placed an average of 113 men and women in jobs each day. With the early rush of applicants, for unemployment compensation benefits subsiding to a practically normal, day-to-day basis, the number of placements throughout the state should increase materially as the employment offices have more time to devote to contacting employers.

Of the 22,331 placements reported by Schouman, private employment accounted for 12,551 placements. Public employment absorbed 9,780 individuals at work on construction jobs at prevailing wages.

World's Poultry Congress Scenes

In the above pictures are shown some of the scenes where the World's Poultry Congress will be held in Cleveland, July 28 to August 7, 1939. The central picture above shows the Cleveland Museum of Art and grounds surrounding it where some of the activities of the World's Poultry Congress will center. Below are two of the buildings which will house the exhibits. On the right is shown the Hall of Live Poultry and on the left is shown part of the Hall of Nations and States. The two lower buildings cover about four acres and will give room for a great many exhibits.

The bird shown on the right above is a mottled Chabo of Japan, while on the left is a Japanese Friezled Bantam. Over 200 varieties of fowl will be shown at the Congress and almost as many varieties of pigeons. Already several nations have definitely applied for exhibit space and more than thirty have announced their intention of planning an exhibit.

Helping a Community to "Pool" Its Resources

If a bank merely loaned or invested the capital contributed by its stockholders it would be only about 10% useful to its community.

A much larger circulating fund is necessary for loans and to carry on the other business of the community. So banks are organized to gather into one convenient place the small savings of people who have more money than they need immediately—and the bank's capital is pledged for their protection.

The great service rendered by the bank lies in safeguarding and circulating community funds for community good.

World's Poultry Congress to Present Birdseye View of Worldwide Poultry Industry

Visitors and delegates to the Seventh World's Poultry Congress, Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7, 1939, will find the Hall of Nations and States a fruitful source of interest. This great building has been set aside for the educational exhibits that depict the progress, scope and importance of the poultry industry throughout the world. Elaborate exhibits from at least forty to sixty overseas nations will be found here, picturing poultry raising methods and the economic importance of the industry in those nations. Our own U. S. Government exhibit, constructed at a cost of $35,000.00, will picture the government's interest and participation in the industry, the surprising importance of poultry as an economic factor and the many ramifications of the industry. State exhibits from every state and territory will feature many of the local phases of the industry. Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace is president of the Congress.

Youth Activities at Seventh World's Poultry Congress

Youth will have its share in the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7, 1939. The Hall of Youth, pictured above, has been set aside for the young people. Elaborate programs are being arranged to fill every hour of the day, every day. There will be educational meetings, entertainment, poultry judging and poultry demonstrations, recreational periods and supervised visits to various sections of the huge exposition—the aim being to give future poultrymen an invaluable perspective of the possibilities the poultry industry holds.

Active plans are under way for attendance of groups representing 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and many other youth organizations from all sections of this country. It is also probable that you people's delegations representing many of our overseas neighbors will take an active part in the youth program at the Congress.
