At The Redford Theatre

"The Amazing Doctor Glitterhouse," appearing Friday through Monday at the Redford, is a mystery movie that uses the Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde formula. It is taken from the play of the same name that was very popular in London last year.

Robinson plays the doctor who engages in a career of crime in order to discover what effect criminal actions have on the body processes, such as heart beat and respiration. Humphrey Bogart, the leader of the gang that Robinson takes over, is murdered by the good doctor in self-defense, and the ensuing trial is skillfully treated with suspense and clever surprises.

Michigan supplied five regiments for the Spanish-American War.

Claire Trevor is a woman "fence" who sticks with the doctor.

On the same bill is "My Lucky Star" with Paula Henke and Richard Greene. It deals with a girl, played by Miss Henke, who attends a co-educational university as the representative of a clothing company. Needless to say, the college sequences are utterly unlike any educational institution, but the show is pleasant despite this shortcoming.

Tuesday through Thursday at the Redford are Laurel and Hardy in "Blockheads" and "Men Are Such Pools." Thursday night, silver for women will be given away.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I wish to express my appreciation of your tribute to my father on the occasion of the Enterprise's fiftieth anniversary. I always enjoy reading the Enterprise even though it reflects many changes in the old home town and many of the names are unfamiliar. The Enterprise will always seem like part of my family.

Yours for continued success,
Heleen Bloomer Fifield,
