To My Employers - The People:
I beg leave to report on the work of the Probate and Juvenile Courts for the past 16 months.

As to all my aides in both courts who had years of experience, before my coming and who continued in their work, I have been honored, yes, blessed, by a spirit of co-operation, of loyalty, of devotion which was not only flattering to me but spurred me on to do my best.

In this, the People's Court, drawing upon our legal knowledge and years of experience, we have tried to be both judge and adviser and have endeavored to dispense even-handed justice to those who came to our courtroom with or without a lawyer.

We have handled estates of fabulous amounts and have considered the problems of juveniles whom we have tried to aid, to check and encourage for the public good and better manhood and womanhood.

All these problems we have met and tried to solve without regard to wealth, race, color or creed.

We flatter ourselves that we have had some degree of success and respectfully ask that we be permitted to continue the work for the next two years.

There is no substitute for experience.
JAMES H. LYNCH
Judge of the Probate and Juvenile Courts.

Schulte Leading Wilson Backers

Led by Judge John J. Schulte, friends in this area of Charles L. Wilson, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney, are urging his qualifications for the position. Mr. Wilson was formerly a resident of Farmington, for 18 years.

A five-point pledge is presented by Mr. Wilson, in event he is elected, including keeping the county free of slot machines, sponsoring a program of crime prevention with the P.T.A. through the schools, driving out sex offenders and enforcing motor laws, co-operating with all police departments and investigating complaints before issuing warrants.

Mr. Wilson vigorously denied what he branded as "dirty campaign" rumors, to the effect that in his campaign he has been receiving financial aid from "slither influences" whose activities are against the best interests of the people of Oakland County.

He declared that reports he had received contributions from such sources were without any foundation, and that he is not connected with, and will not be influenced by, any such persons in the administration of his office in case he should be elected.
