The cow has proved a bigger "hog" than the sow in demands on the Michigan feed basket. Cattle are increasing, hogs decreasing in number.

Money Payments Due For Old-Age Insurance

Money payments which are now due under the old-age insurance part of the Social Security Act are based on wages which workers have earned in covered employment since Jan. 1, 1937, according to Walter B. Redman, Manager of the Social Security field office in Pontiac.

"Some workers have the wrong idea that money payments they get are based on the contributions which these workers have made under the old-age insurance plan," Mr. Redman said.

"While there is a direct relation between contributions and money payments the latter are equal to 3 1/2 per cent of the covered wages of workers from the date mentioned until the claim becomes payable. This means that a man who earned $2,000 would be entitled to 3 1/2 per cent of that sum or $135 provided the work done was covered by the Social Security Act," Mr. Redman added.

He pointed out that the payment would be three and a half times the amount the worker had paid under the old-age insurance plan. Claims are now being filed by covered workers who reach the age 65, also by the estates or heirs of similar workers, regardless of age who have died since January 1, 1937.

The Pontiac field office has had more than 450 such claims certified for payment since it opened 16 months ago, Mr. Redman declared. This office serves the counties of Oakland and Macomb.

LOSEY CORNERS

NO ROOM
"No room at the inn," the keeper said.

And the tired Mary bowed her head
No room for a woman soon to go
O'er the path of travail a mother must know.

But shamed of face he hid them
There's yet the stable filled with hay,
And so mid cattle and darkening gloom,
The Madonna mother found a room.

And ere the night had passed away
A babe asleep in the manger lay.
Oh ye who are weary, there's room today
In the love of Jesus, born far away
In that humble stable of fragrant hay.

Make room today in your heart
and bid him "stay".
And not like the keeper, turn
Christ away.

—Abbie Fredericks
The PTA will hold a joint business meeting and social evening Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Brotherhood have a Christmas tree market at Losey Corners that is prospering at this time.

Bob Groesbeck has an interesting program to add to the weekly prayer service which will be held Thursday instead of Wednesday due to the Christmas program planned for that night. Come early and bring the children.

Mr. Hunsbach of Detroit was a guest of Robert Fredericks, Sunday afternoon.

New electric clocks have been installed in each room in the new school and hot water will be added this week.

Mr. Fred Fielding and family will visit relatives in Grand Rapids over the holidays.

Social Security Blanks To Be Written in Ink

Applications for social security account numbers should be printed in ink or typed, with the exception of the signature of the applicant. The signature must be written in ink, according to Walter B. Redman, Manager of the Social Security Board field office in Pontiac.

"Recently we have received a number of applications made out and signed in pencil," Mr. Redman said this week.

"We cannot accept these applications as these become a permanent record of the Social Security Board. The facts contained in an application must be legible and the signature must be in ink," Mr. Redman said.

Applications made out in pencil may have to be returned to the sender. This will delay the issuing of the social security number, the local Manager declared.

New Owner of Pharmacy Offers Inexpensive Pens

Fountain pens with a visible ink supply are being offered at a bargain price for three days by the Oak Pharmacy, according to E. H. Truedell.

Mr. Truedell is the new owner of the store. It was sold to him by Nathan Gedrich who was the proprietor for four years. Mr. Truedell was formerly in the drug-store business in Detroit.
