100 Varied Recipes

An attractive booklet giving recipes for several Michigan fruits has been printed recently at Michigan State College, it is "Fruits for Year Around Use" by Ruth M.

State College, it is "Fruits for Year Around Use" by Ruth M. Griswold.
More than a hundred recipes are included for canned and fresh blue-berries, chertes and peaches, fresh grapes and grape like. Some of the recipes are quite unisual and some are old favorties. The bulletin has a gay-colored indefensite cover and an unusual jarrangement. If the printed passes hange is necessarily and the proposition of the printed passes hange is necessarily and the proposition of the printed passes hange is necessarily and the printed for fresh fruit. These recipes were itested carefully with fresh fruit and later with canned fruit. Any changes necessary when using canned fruit.

are given. Upually less sugar is needed because sugar has been added to the fruit in canning. An iddex is included of recipes for each fight tabulated under fresh fruit, canned fruit, and juice from chunced fruit.

The bulletin is designed to help increase the consumption of our home-grown Michigan fruits by showing new ways to use them.

LIGHT for dark corners

How many times a week do you frown as you fumble in dark closets for a misplaced article? How often do you search in dark corners of the house and wish you could afford adequate light everywhere it is needed? ... You CAN afford it! This incidental lighting costs very little. It comes on the low step in your bill. It is used for a relatively short time. And it adds immeasurably to your convenience and comfort. Any electrical contractor will gladly give you an estimate on this work. (We do no electrical wiring.) The Detroit Edison Company.
