

SEVEN BANKS AT FAIR

New York—The huge sum of money which will flow into the New York World's Fair of 1939 at its turnstiles and in the numerous establishments of its numerous concessionaires, will be handled at the outset by more than 3,500 cashiers, tellers, ticket-sellers and gatekeepers. This number will probably be increased to 5,000.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Eighth Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit
A branch of The Mother Church, Scientist, Boston, Massachusetts.
Sunday Service at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
Wednesday Evening Service at 7:30 p. m.
Church Office
1000 E. River Road, Detroit
Open daily except Sunday and Holydays, 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.
Saturdays, 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.
ALL ARE WELCOME

with a short time after the Fair opened on April 30, 1939, as the Finance Committee of the exposition intends taking every precaution to safeguard the interests of those who have bought its bonds or have otherwise invested in it. Conveniently about the fair grounds, seven department banks will be instituted to receive the sums of money collected daily in the Fair.

Money Payments now due under the Social Security Act are averaging more than $100, according to Walter B. Redman, manager of the old age insurance office in Pontiac. "Claims certified for payment in the Pontiac area during the month of December averaged the sum mentioned," Mr. Redman said. "These payments are now due persons who reach age 65, also the legal heirs of workers who have died recently after having been employed in jobs covered by the Social Security Act."

Get your social security account number NOW at your nearest Social Security Board Office.

CHURCHES

All notices for this column must be in the Enterprise office not later than Tuesday at noon.

Salem Evangelical Church
Rev. Carl H. Schultz, Pastor
Worship Service: 10:00 A. M.
Sunday School: 11:00 A. M.

Methodist Episcopal Church
Rev. Delmore Stubbs, Pastor
Morning Worship at 10:30.
Church School at 11:45.
Men's Forum at 12 noon.
Wednesday 7:30 p. m. Teacher's Training Class.

Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Adult Choir rehearsal.

CLARENCEVILLE M. E. CHURCH

Rev. W. J. Prisk, Pastor

Church Service, 10 a. m.

Sunday School, 11 a. m.

Epworth League, 6:30 p. m.

Evening Service, 7:30 p. m.

Thursday Evening, 7:30 p. m.

Our Lady of Sorrows Church

Rev. John Larkins, Pastor

Sunday masses at 7:30 a. m.

9:00 a. m., 10:30 a. m. and 12:00 p. m.

Benediction after 10:30 mass.

Daily masses at 7:30 a. m. and 8:00 a. m.

First Baptist Church

Rev. A. Miles, Pastor

Morning prayer meeting 10:15.

Morning worship 10:30.

Bible School 11:45.

B. Y. P. U. 6:30 p. m. for Juniors and Seniors.

Evening Evangelistic Service at 7:30.

The mid-week Fellowship meeting held Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

Redford Gospel Tabernacle

18000 Lash Road

Sunday School, 10:00 a. m.

Pentecostal prayer and praise service, 11:00 a. m.

Evangelistic service, 7:45 p. m.

All are welcome regardless of circumstances.

100% Pentecost.

Community Church

Rev. O. J. Lyon, Pastor

10:00 Sunday School.

11:00 Preaching Service.

Eighth Church of Christ, Scientist

Grand River Ave. at Evergreen Rd.

Detroit, Michigan

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 19.

The Golden Text (Exodus 20:7) is: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain."

"Blue Bell" Telephone Symbol Has Been Familiar to Public 50 Years

With a rough design, hastily drawn on a scratch-pad fifty years ago, began the evolution of one of the world's best known symbols—the Bell Telephone System's "Blue Bell."

The emblem is now used in the advertisements of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and on the telephone cars and trucks which one sees along the road, on envelopes and other printed matter, on the ever-present public telephone sign and, in modified form, on the blue and white flags which float above hundreds of Bell System buildings.

The Blue Bell was designed to meet a need which arose in 1888. Commercial telephone exchange service was just a decade old that year. Local service was a well established fact. Demands for long distance service were beginning to be met. Lines had been built from Boston to New York and from New York to Philadelphia. Work was under way to extend the system westward to Washington and westward to Buffalo.

The development of the metallic circuit and of improved instruments, especially designed for long-haul transmission, had made these extensions possible. But not all the phones could be used on these early long distance lines. Instruments which were adequate for local service were not satisfactory for long distance transmission.

Pay stations equipped with special long distance telephones and connected to metallic circuits were established. To these one had to go if he wanted to use the long distance service and did not have a long distance telephone of his own.

It was in order to call the attention of the public to these special "long distance" telephones that the Blue Bell was created. It was designed by Angus S. Hibbard, then less than taking his name in vain."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matthew 1:35):

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 227): "If God had instituted material laws to govern man, he would have made man ill. Jesus would not have disregarded those laws by healing in direct opposition to them and in defiance of all material conditions."

Losley Corners

Rev. and Mrs. Lomas and Robert and Mrs. Fredericks attended the Lenten services in Detroit last week.

The Woman's Aid celebrated its second birthday with a party. St. Patrick decorations were used.

The women of the church were flanked by two tall tapers. Mrs. Fredericks, Mrs. Hallas and Mrs. Fielding were hostesses.

The Aid will hold a penny supper Saturday evening beginning at 6 and continuing until all are served.

Two members were given the Right Hand of Fellowship and four bagisms were performed Sunday evening. Mrs. Tamm, was guest soloist.

Mrs. McLeod, a member of the church sang "Alone" and Rev. and Mrs. Lomas sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

The steady growth of the church has resulted in a membership of about 100. The Sunday School has an enrollment of 120. Saturday evening prayer and singing is a regular feature of the church.

Young People's C. E. attended the fourth rally held in Detroit, bringing home the trophy for the largest group. The trophy a pilot wheel lettered in silver, "Jesus Christ, Pilot Me."

Skip Horie who was taken to the General Hospital for an operation for appendicitis has recovered nicely and will be home this week.

Marjorie Horie won the dictionary in the spelling bee held in the fifth grade Friday afternoon.

The many who have been sick for the past month are recovering and home visiting has been resumed in places in church and school.

At the W. M. A. meeting last Wednesday following the election of officers was cared for. Mrs. Helen Dixon re-elected president. Mrs. Dallas, treasurer. Mrs. Fenske, secretary. Mrs. Fodick, stewardess. Mrs. Nathan, mission boxes. Mrs. Fielding, literature. and Mrs. Bern, vice president.

Rev. and Mrs. Lomas spent part of the week visiting the latter's mother in Flint.

Mrs. Miller has returned from the hospital having undergone a series of operations.

Tom's Interest

By JOHN MARSHALL

Associated Newspapers, WNU Service.

"PLEASE, please return my money if you found it. If you know how much it means to me you would. One hundred dollars in five-dollar gold pieces in a little change bag, lost between Ninth avenue at East Twentieth street and Seventh avenue subway station at Twenty-third street, last night. Please, please return it to Miss Virginia Vail. I need the money awfully."

Tom Blake read the advertisement in his morning paper with interest. Funny way to word an ad. And funny, in a way, to need the money badly enough to write such an ad.

Poor old thing—probably some old maid said her life savings. He worked up quite a story about her. Maybe she was on her way to an old ladies' home and that was her entrance fee. Maybe the money belonged to somebody else. Maybe she had to have to leave and she got another hundred again.

As Tom folded his paper and pushed back his chair after the breakfast in his favorite restaurant he had made up his mind. When he reached the street, he turned left, in the general direction of West Twentieth street, and then went on to the address given in the advertisement.

It was, as he thought it would be, an inexpensive rooming house. He pushed the button marked "Miss Vail," and as he heard steps coming to the door he pictured to himself the weeping faded lady who would answer him. But of course it wasn't a weak, faded old lady. It was a charming young one.

"Is Miss Vail at home?" he asked.

"Mr. Virginia Vail," said the young lady.

"Then perhaps it's your aunt. The old lady who advertised about the lost money."

"Oh! The voice of the girl was excited. "You didn't find it?" She pulled him inside the hall. "Tell me—you didn't find it?" "It's my money!"

"Here it is," said Tom, pulling a stout paper envelope from his pocket and handing it to the girl. "Twenty-five-dollar gold pieces—see?"

There was a puzzled look in her eyes. "I was carrying an umbrella. And I had some parcels—and that's how I came to drop the bag."

"Yes—so I owe you another change bag. I'll send you one as soon as I can get one." Pretty well done, mused Tom, as he watched the girl's utter happiness and relief. But Virginia told her story Tom found that he was just as happy as she was.

"You see," she said, "I just had to have that money back, and I thought if I wrote that kind of ad whoever had my money would have to return it to me. Even if it was somebody like you—not somebody poor or a thief. And here it is now. Virginia had come to New York a few days before with her precious hoard of savings by herself from her hard-earned salary."

"You see," she said cheerfully, "I'll live on it until I can find a job here."

From those first dark, chill moments in the lodging house hall, Tom knew that Virginia was the girl he was going to marry. But he didn't tell her for some weeks. And then, because her funds were gone, low and now Virginia didn't seem as anxious to give her a job as he was to find one, they were married without any long preliminary engagement.

It was the first anniversary of their wedding and they were just beginning to know the secret sweetness of true companionship that was to increase with time. For Tom and Virginia were truly happy.

"I have something to show you," said Virginia that morning. "It's an anniversary present to you. It's a secret, too, I've been keeping all this time. It's your secret from me, too, and the fact that you kept it showed me from the first that you were as big and generous as I thought you were."

She held out her hands, with the little change bag—Tom had bought it the first day and returned to her with it that evening—containing 25 five-dollar gold pieces.

"I've known from that day you brought them to me that they weren't mine. I returned them to you before you came back that night—and I gave her a reward, too. There were lots of things your bank couldn't have been open at seven in the evening when you found them—when I lost them. And the lost change bag. And everything."

"There have been so many times when you might have been unreasonable—when you might have been so about how generous you'd been, just to have the last say—and, you never did. And so, you see, it's been a sort of test. I never needed it. There isn't any interest, Tom, for the year's use—"

But Tom had his interest.

X-RAY 1,726 IN SIX MONTHS FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Proving the real value of early discovery of tuberculosis through X-ray examination provided Michigan people by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association are recent reports covering Christmas and the months of January and February, 1938 to March 1939, Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary of the Association, declared this week. In these six months, Mr. Werle said, more than 200 cases of primary tuberculosis infection have been revealed on X-ray films taken with the portable X-ray equipment of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

"Reaching forty counties the Association, with the cooperation of various county health departments, has X-rayed 1,726 residents of the State in the past six months," Mr. Werle reported. "Of the 1,726 films which have already been interpreted by tuberculosis specialists, 204 revealed the childhood type of the disease, a primary infection of tuberculosis germs."

This stage can be kept from further development with a few health precautions.

"Most important in controlling tuberculosis is the discovery of the disease in its beginning process. Every case found early means a material saving in lives and in money," Mr. Werle emphasized.

Through the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's program of modern X-ray examination for the disease, many again have been given the opportunity to help control further spread of the White Plague in themselves and in their communities," he pointed out.

Financed almost entirely through proceeds from the annual Christmas seal sale, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's campaign for protection from tuberculosis is carried on twelve months of each year. Although funds are necessarily limited, modern weapons of discovery—the tuberculin test and diagnostic chest X-ray—are utilized for as many Michigan people as possible.

"Is Miss Vail at home?" he asked.

"Mr. Virginia Vail," said the young lady.

"Then perhaps it's your aunt. The old lady who advertised about the lost money."

"Oh! The voice of the girl was excited. "You didn't find it?" She pulled him inside the hall. "Tell me—you didn't find it?" "It's my money!"

"Here it is," said Tom, pulling a stout paper envelope from his pocket and handing it to the girl. "Twenty-five-dollar gold pieces—see?"

There was a puzzled look in her eyes. "I was carrying an umbrella. And I had some parcels—and that's how I came to drop the bag."

"Yes—so I owe you another change bag. I'll send you one as soon as I can get one." Pretty well done, mused Tom, as he watched the girl's utter happiness and relief. But Virginia told her story Tom found that he was just as happy as she was.

"You see," she said, "I just had to have that money back, and I thought if I wrote that kind of ad whoever had my money would have to return it to me. Even if it was somebody like you—not somebody poor or a thief. And here it is now. Virginia had come to New York a few days before with her precious hoard of savings by herself from her hard-earned salary."

"You see," she said cheerfully, "I'll live on it until I can find a job here."

From those first dark, chill moments in the lodging house hall, Tom knew that Virginia was the girl he was going to marry. But he didn't tell her for some weeks. And then, because her funds were gone, low and now Virginia didn't seem as anxious to give her a job as he was to find one, they were married without any long preliminary engagement.

It was the first anniversary of their wedding and they were just beginning to know the secret sweetness of true companionship that was to increase with time. For Tom and Virginia were truly happy.

"I have something to show you," said Virginia that morning. "It's an anniversary present to you. It's a secret, too, I've been keeping all this time. It's your secret from me, too, and the fact that you kept it showed me from the first that you were as big and generous as I thought you were."

She held out her hands, with the little change bag—Tom had bought it the first day and returned to her with it that evening—containing 25 five-dollar gold pieces.

"I've known from that day you brought them to me that they weren't mine. I returned them to you before you came back that night—and I gave her a reward, too. There were lots of things your bank couldn't have been open at seven in the evening when you found them—when I lost them. And the lost change bag. And everything."

"There have been so many times when you might have been unreasonable—when you might have been so about how generous you'd been, just to have the last say—and, you never did. And so, you see, it's been a sort of test. I never needed it. There isn't any interest, Tom, for the year's use—"

But Tom had his interest.

EVERYDAY VALUES

8 o'clock COFFEE lb 15c	Del Maiz NIBLETS 2 cans 25c	Iona FLOUR 24 1/2 lb bag 55c
Lux or Lifebouy SOAP, bar		6c
RINSO, lg pkg		19c
LUX FLAKES, lg pkg		22c
SPRY, lb can 21c, 3 lb can		51c
Iona SPINACH, No 2 can		8c
DOLE GEMS, No 211 can		10c
GRAPEFRUIT, No 2 can		10c
WYANDOTTE CLEANSER, 2 cans		15c
BISSQUICK, lg pkg		29c
SOAP CHIPS, 5 lb box		27c

Whitehouse MILK tall can 6c	Green Giant PEAS can 15c	Store CHEESE lb 17c
--------------------------------	-----------------------------	------------------------

Woodbury's Facial Soap, 3 bars	25c
AJAX Laundry Soap, 3 bars	10c
WHEATIES, 2 pkgs	21c
Shredded RALSTON, pkg	14c
BOKAR COFFEE, lb bag	21c
Red Cross TOWELS, 2 rolls	19c
PEANUT BUTTER, Ann Page, lb jar	17c
SALAD DRESSING, Iona, qt jar	27c
KETCHUP, Ann Page, 14 oz, 2 bots	25c
OUR OWN TEA, 1/2 lb	21c
Ann Page BEANS, 1-lb can, 4 for	23c

Ann Page Salad fressing qt jar 31c	Iona PEACHES No 2 1/2 2 cans 27c	Iona TOMATOES No 2 1/2 can 10c
------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------	--------------------------------------

A&P FOOD STORES

Grow

Advertising is usually a sign of a growing business. And people, as a rule, like to shop at a growing store.....

Read the Advertising in the Enterprise.

WASTEFUL DUPLICATION OR UNITED EFFORT

Suppose the Michigan Bell Telephone Company maintained its own separate research laboratory in which to develop improvements in telephone service. And suppose each of the other 23 telephone companies of the Bell System did the same.

All these laboratories probably would be trying to solve the same problems; this would be wasteful duplication of effort and expense which would increase the cost of your telephone service.

In the Bell System, Bell Telephone Laboratories does the research work for all. Each company pays only a fraction of the cost, but gets full benefit of a research program that no one company could afford to maintain.

This economy is one of the advantages of our membership in the Bell System. It is an important reason why all America, including you in Michigan, enjoys the best, most reasonably priced telephone service in the world.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

You are cordially invited to visit the Bell System exhibit at the Golden Gate International Exposition, San Francisco, California.

"Blue Bell" Telephone Symbol Has Been Familiar to Public 50 Years

With a rough design, hastily drawn on a scratch-pad fifty years ago, began the evolution of one of the world's best known symbols—the Bell Telephone System's "Blue Bell."

The emblem is now used in the advertisements of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and on the telephone cars and trucks which one sees along the road, on envelopes and other printed matter, on the ever-present public telephone sign and, in modified form, on the blue and white flags which float above hundreds of Bell System buildings.

The Blue Bell was designed to meet a need which arose in 1888. Commercial telephone exchange service was just a decade old that year. Local service was a well established fact. Demands for long distance service were beginning to be met. Lines had been built from Boston to New York and from New York to Philadelphia. Work was under way to extend the system westward to Washington and westward to Buffalo.

The development of the metallic circuit and of improved instruments, especially designed for long-haul transmission, had made these extensions possible. But not all the phones could be used on these early long distance lines. Instruments which were adequate for local service were not satisfactory for long distance transmission.

Pay stations equipped with special long distance telephones and connected to metallic circuits were established. To these one had to go if he wanted to use the long distance service and did not have a long distance telephone of his own.

It was in order to call the attention of the public to these special "long distance" telephones that the Blue Bell was created. It was designed by Angus S. Hibbard, then

less than taking his name in vain."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matthew 1:35):

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 227): "If God had instituted material laws to govern man, he would have made man ill. Jesus would not have disregarded those laws by healing in direct opposition to them and in defiance of all material conditions."

Losley Corners

Rev. and Mrs. Lomas and Robert and Mrs. Fredericks attended the Lenten services in Detroit last week.

The Woman's Aid celebrated its second birthday with a party. St. Patrick decorations were used.

The women of the church were flanked by two tall tapers. Mrs. Fredericks, Mrs. Hallas and Mrs. Fielding were hostesses.

The Aid will hold a penny supper Saturday evening beginning at 6 and continuing until all are served.

Two members were given the Right Hand of Fellowship and four bagisms were performed Sunday evening. Mrs. Tamm, was guest soloist.

Mrs. McLeod, a member of the church sang "Alone" and Rev. and Mrs. Lomas sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

The steady growth of the church has resulted in a membership of about 100. The Sunday School has an enrollment of 120. Saturday evening prayer and singing is a regular feature of the church.

Young People's C. E. attended the fourth rally held in Detroit, bringing home the trophy for the largest group. The trophy a pilot wheel lettered in silver, "Jesus Christ, Pilot Me."

Skip Horie who was taken to the General Hospital for an operation for appendicitis has recovered nicely and will be home this week.

Marjorie Horie won the dictionary in the spelling bee held in the fifth grade Friday afternoon.

The many who have been sick for the past month are recovering and home visiting has been resumed in places in church and school.

At the W. M. A. meeting last Wednesday following the election of officers was cared for. Mrs. Helen Dixon re-elected president. Mrs. Dallas, treasurer. Mrs. Fenske, secretary. Mrs. Fodick, stewardess. Mrs. Nathan, mission boxes. Mrs. Fielding, literature. and Mrs. Bern, vice president.

Rev. and Mrs. Lomas spent part of the week visiting the latter's mother in Flint.

Mrs. Miller has returned from the hospital having undergone a series of operations.

Tom's Interest

By JOHN MARSHALL

Associated Newspapers, WNU Service.

"PLEASE, please return my money if you found it. If you know how much it means to me you would. One hundred dollars in five-dollar gold pieces in a little change bag, lost between Ninth avenue at East Twentieth street and Seventh avenue subway station at Twenty-third street, last night. Please, please return it to Miss Virginia Vail. I need the money awfully."

Tom Blake read the advertisement in his morning paper with interest. Funny way to word an ad. And funny, in a way, to need the money badly enough to write such an ad.