FASHION EXPERT TO SPEAK AT TOWN HALL

Elizabeth Hawes, author of "Fashion is Spinach" and "Men Can Take It," who has set the fashion world on its heels by her startling frank revelations, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher Theater next Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 11 a. m.

In her lecture, "How to Get a Dollar's Worth for a Dollar," the designer for Broadway's brightest stars will tell how not to be fooled by fashion. Her talk will include advice on how to buy clothes intelligently by figuring out what you really look like; how to pick a dress that will be in style for three years; how to make sure you know what material a costume is made of, and whether it will last, and what to do when you buy something and it fails to pieces.

Now America's foremost dress designer, Miss Hawes first caught the attention of the fashion world when she dared to show her collection of American clothes in Paris.

From Vassar, Miss Hawes went to Paris. For two years she was a "fashion pirate," bootlegging original models to wholesale manufacturers. She then reported fashions for The New Yorker and later worked as a stylist for Macy's and for Lord and Taylor's. She resigned from this position to become assistant designer with Madame Gault in order to fulfill her original ambition to design clothes.

Miss Hawes will be introduced by Mary Morris, fashion editor of the Detroit News.

HUNTERS WARNED OF DANGER OF ELECTRIC FENCES

Farmington hunters who trespass this season face increased possibility of being shocked by electric fences. In the past 12 months there has been an increased number of electric fences installed throughout Oakland County. Some of them are approved and others are of the make-shift type.

The fences, installed to keep farm stock within bounds can be perilous to the point of death, electric experts warn.

Hunters are cautioned to follow the Horton Trespass law, which specifically states that a hunter must get permission from the farmer before hunting on his property. Hunters should ask the farmer about the fences and watch out for hazard.

Electric shock to a person with a weak heart can be fatal and in places where the voltage is as high as 50,000 at low amperage it would invariably prove fatal.

Ample notice of change of address should be given when moving. Notice should be given before changing if possible.
