HOW CAN I TELL WHEN MY CHILDREN'S OUTGROWN?

Most mothers whose chil-Most mothers whose children's shoes prove to be a size or 11% sizes shorter than their measurement tell the shoeman that they felt the toe and there seemed to be room. There are many reasons why this manner of testing is not reliable. The child may have been sitting down: the shoes may be copied to the shoes may be open the shoes may be to get down into the front, etc.

Consider this: the great toe of most babies when they are fitted for their first pair of shoes is about 19; inch of shoes is about 19; inch adult tife those great toes will be only 2 to 3 inches long. The major growth is behind the toes. We think of the toes growing into the fronts of shoes but actually they are pushed there by the growth of the mass of the foot.

We should not allow that pressure to crowd the soft bones of young feet against the ends of shoes, sox or sleeper feet. In fact, almost all of the common foot defacts can be avoided if the great toe is allowed to remain straight.

The only reliable way to check the fit of shoes is to remeasure the feet, being careful to be guided by the length of the longer foot.

Mrs. Kathleen Rudberg, 2825 Hemlock, who said she represented parents along Hemlock, Creeksde and Lakeland, protested the board's action in taking away busses and at the time removing the children from the school nearest heidr when the Hill and Dale's yearly disjusces the new techniques in working with the emotionally resistance.

HARD LAKE ROAD 10 MILE ROAD AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS . . . & FATHERS OF YOUNG CHILDREN . . who realize that the best medicine is preventive medicine . . and who want to provide their children with guidelines rather than deal with generation gabs and way-out behavior ten years from now.

Youth's discontent and rebelliousness may be signs of the times, but cop-outs and withdrawal are not proud banners. and will never solve issues. Good, hard thinking based on knowledge coupled with extraordinary effort from an honest commitment, will help shape a good future for your children. Expose them to the exciting chapters of your people's past; let them learn about their rich traditions, and about their religious heritage. They will experience and feel the mystique of Eternal Direction, and then be in a better position to make relevant, contemporary decisions on their own.

rary decisions on their own If you agree with the logic and truth of this thesis . . . if you feel strongly your role and responsibility as parents, we can help you get started if you will just call 861-880 or visit us in the new Beth Abraham Synagogue of West Bloomfield.
