Musical Society Plans 40 Events

ANN ARBOR A descriptive brochure listing more than 40 international presentations to be given at the University of Michigan under the auspices of the University Musical Society in its 33rd season is now being distributed throughout the state.

In the Choral Union Series in Hill Auditorium and the Chamber Arts Series and East Asian Series at Rackham Auditorium, series orders will be taken only up to Sept. 15. Mail orders received to date have been filled and will be mailed this week. On Sept. 20 remaining tickets will become available at single prices only.

CHANGES IN ARTISTS first announced last spring have been necessary, according to the Musical Society. Three European artists have cancelled their full season tours of the United States upon "advice from the doctor."

In the Choral Union Series, Michelangelo, pianist from Italy, has been replaced on the same date to open the series, Oct. 4, by a duo, Grant Johannessen, pianist, and his wife, Zara Nelson, cellist. Both are familiar to Ann Arbor audiences. Nathan Milstein has been substituted on the same date, Nov. 8, by Ruggiero Ricci, American violinist who, since he appeared as a boy prodigy in the May Festival in 1930, has given 3,000 concerts throughout the world. Jacqueline du Pre, cellist, will be replaced on the original date, Feb. 11, 1972, by pianist Alicia de Larrocha, who has twice performed in Ann Arbor.

The Chamber Arts Series will open on Oct. 11 with the Dolmetsch/Saxby Duo (harpsichord and recorder) instead of the Pro Cantione Antiqua previously announced. The Boston Chamber Players will close the series on March 15 instead of March 13.

THE NEW SERIES of 10 attractions in the Power Center for the Performing Arts, featuring dance, ballet, mime, ethnic groups, chamber orchestra, lieder and instrumental recitals and a dance drama, will add a new dimension to the Musical Society's traditional presentations.

No changes have been made in this list of events since originally announced as "Choice Series." In this series, subscribers were given the privilege of choosing four or eight from the 10 attractions.

All ticket sales are transacted in the office of the University Musical Society in Burton Memorial Tower, Nov. 8, by Ruggiero Ricci, Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. - 12 noon on Saturdays.

A RESCUE PARTY attempts to get Wittering's body up the cliff in Paramount Pictures' "Unman, Wittering and Zigo." David Hemmings stars in this suspense drama about a classroom of potential killers which opened locally Wednesday.

Old, New Productions To Highlight Season

"Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" and "A Man For All Seasons," feature productions of the Hilberry Theatre's most successful summer festival so far, are being held over to start the theatre's expanded season of nine productions for 1971-72.

In response to demand at the box office, the theatre will reopen Robert Bolt's "A Man For All Seasons" on Oct. 8 and Tom Stoppard's "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern" on Oct. 15.

The new season will officially open with Pinero's "Trelawny of the Wells," one of the English-speaking theatre's most popular recent revivals.

The first of five new productions to be added to the regular evening repertory, it will be presented first for sponsors at the President's Preview on Friday, Nov. 12, with the public opening scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 18.

THE OTHER NEW plays and opening dates are: Shakespeare's youthful tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," Jan. 6; Arthur Kopit's absurdist epic, "Indians," Jan. 27; John Osborne's constant the theatre's expanded season of nine productions for 1971-72.

Also featured is a revival of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," one of the most popular plays in Hilberry history.

The Shakespeare comedy played two seasons of matinees and evening performances during 1967 and 1968 to an audience of more than 90 per cent of the theatre's capacity. "Romeo and Juliet" will also be used heavily for the matinee schedule.

"Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" and "A Man For All Seasons" have been scheduled for a limited number of matinees and the other plays in the regular repertory are available for schools if there is sufficient demand.

from the balcony

Films listed in this guide are showing at area theaters. Check the theater listings for the specific theater and time of showings.

THE OMEGA MAN — Charlton Heston wanders around Los Angeles, apparently the sole normal survivor of a nuclear war. There are other survivors, but they're not normal. (GP, A-3).

DOC — Another new "adult" Western, which centers around "Doc" Holliday, Kate Elder, Wyatt Earp and the gunfight at O.K. corral. (R, A-3).

UNMAN, WITTERING AND ZIGO — A group of English school boys see murder as a way of dealing with unpopular teachers. David Hemmings plays the new teacher. (GP, A-3).

THE ANDROMEDA STRAIN — An unmanned U.S. satellite brings back germs which cause death to all who come in contact with them. Four doctors are given the job of isolating and destroying them. (G, A-2).

KLUTE — An adult mystery, with Donald Sutherland as a detective and Jane Fonda as a call girl. (R, none).

McCABE AND MRS. MILLER — The language is authentic mining-town and the plot is like something written by Theodore Dreiser, but it's a ballad put to film that comes off extremely well. (R, B).

THE HELLSFROM CHRONICLE — A well-filmed blend of science and science-fiction dealing with facts and possibilities in insect life. (G, none).

CARNAL KNOWLEDGE — A Jules Feiffer-Mike Nichols movie about two men's lives and feelings about women. With Jack Nicholson and Candice Bergen. (R, none).

RYAN'S DAUGHTER — Photographic effects and a mature ending make this a good film. Irish Rosy Ryan is looking for "something more." (GP, A-3).

BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID — Paul Newman plays the legendary Butch Cassidy in a humorous account of his exploits. (GP, A-3).

ON ANY SUNDAY — This film deals with people who race motorcycles on Sunday afternoons. Tells of two participants and their travels. (GP, none).

Enrichment Classes New Group

DEARBORN A record number of adult education courses is being offered this fall at Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum.

Designed to promote a better understanding of the museum's collections, classes range from instruction in adult education crafts and home arts to enrichment courses.

Classes will begin the week of Sept. 16 and last from six to 10 weeks. They will be taught by staff members of the village and museum both daytimes and evenings Monday through Thursday. One has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Registration will be held in the lobby of Lovett Hall, Greenfield Village, at 6 p.m. Sept. 16. No registration will be accepted before this time.

Mail order or in-person registrations will be accepted after this date only to fill remaining vacancies.

Catalogs may be obtained by writing to Greenfield Village, Adult Education Department, Dearborn 48121, or by telephoning the department. Among others, village craftsmen will teach classes in glassblowing, pottery, wool dyeing, spinning and weaving, rug hooking, macrame and crewel embroidery. Enrichment courses include Early American clocks, American furniture and a survey of American glass.

Registration will be held in

'Alhambra Day' Set

"Alhambra Day" has been set this year at Edgewater Park for Sunday, Sept. 12. Hours are from noon until 7 p.m.

The day is given over to the Nabli Caravan of the Order of Alhambra to raise funds for the benefit of retarded children in Michigan. Alhambra is a Catholic Order which gathers members from the Southfield, Birmingham and Royal Oak areas, to meet at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Southfield.

In addition to supporting organizations which work for the benefit of retarded children, it gives scholarships to further the education of the religious and lay teachers who are working in the area of retardation.

Proceeds from ticket sales and all concession stands on the grounds will be given over to this work.

Tickets at the gate are $4 on Alhambra Day. Tickets purchased at the gate in advance of Sept. 12 or through members of the Order, may be purchased for $3.

Concert Set For Sept. 11

Boone's Farm, a popular contemporary musical group, will perform in concert at Woodland Center, Plymouth and Middle Belt, Livonia, on Saturday, Sept. 11.

The group will appear in the southwest parking lot from 1 to 4 p.m. There will be no charge for admission.

Residents of Livonia, Redford Township, Dearborn Heights and Detroit will have an opportunity to register to attend Saturday, Sept. 11, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registrars will be on hand next door to the new location of Village Green. Both events are planned in conjunction of the grand opening of the new Village Green store.

WARREN

The New Improvisational Theatre will open its fall season Saturday, Sept. 11, in La Chiesa Coffee House, located in the St. Martin DePorres Action Center, on Hoover north of 13 Mile Rd., Warren.

The NIT, a group directed by Jonathan P. Greene, is available for church or community sponsored youth centers. Those interested should contact Greene, at 29180 Marimoor, Southfield. In addition to scripted and rehearsed vignettes and episodes, one of the most popular features of every performance is improvisations based on audience suggestions.

The NIT troupe was Greene's brainchild while a senior at Case Technical High School. He is now a professional director, stage technician and student at Oakland Community College. Membership is by audition when vacancies occur. There is now a working nucleus of approximately six performers and technicians.

Car Festival Is Sept. 11, 12

DEARBORN More than 325 old cars and their costumed drivers are expected to be on hand this weekend at Greenfield Village for the annual Old Car Festival.

The festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 11 and 12.

The festival will be highlighted by the "Wheelmen," a group of high-wheeled bicyclists who will entertain with tricks and riding demonstrations and by the Model T Assembly Team from Canada, who will put together a Model T and drive it off the field in less than 10 minutes.

Players Wanted

The Lathrup Players are accepting applications for a limited number of new members.

Interested persons may address inquiries to: The Lathrup Players, P.O. Box 150, Lathrup Village, 48076.
