RETIREMENT OF COVERT ROAD BONDS IS BEGUN

Retirement of $224,000 in Covert road, inter-county bonds was begun under direction of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen recently.

Under an act of the legislature, the highway commissioner is fiscal agent for the bonds. With retirement of the series being paid, the total of outstanding Covert inter-county bonds will be $131,871.

Holders may determine whether their bonds are to be retired now, by maturity dates on the bonds themselves. Paying agents are the National Bank of Detroit, the Detroit Trust Company, the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit and the Bank of Lansing. Payments will be effected beginning today.

The remainder of the bonds have varied maturity dates. The money for retirement of the bonds is taken from gasoline receipts returned to the counties by the state.

UPPER MICHIGAN PREPARES FOR HUNTERS' PARADE

The northward drive of Michigan's deer hunting army is reported from many upper Michigan points as hunters in colorful costumes pass through on their way to camp. The season opens Wednesday, November 15. Stepped-up fervor at the Straits will be available if needed beginning November 10, the state highway department has announced.

The 1939 deer "harvest" is expected to be quite as good as the hunting in 1938 when 41,800 hunters were bagged. More than 160,000 deer licenses were issued last year. Regulations continue unchanged. The season extends from November 15 to November 30 inclusive, with archers already in the field in a special season of their own from November 1 to 14. The ban on doe shooting continues in effect and will be strictly enforced, officers of the department of conservation have reported.

The upland game bird season closed Sunday, November 5 in the lower peninsula with pheasants in southern Michigan showing the effect of heavy hunting pressure and hard to find, even with dogs. In the northern part of the peninsula grouse were reported wild and flushing far ahead of the dogs, out of gun range. Squirrel hunting improved toward the season's close, with the last foliage shed, but in some districts a scarcity of big squirrels was reported.

Deer hunting is reported generally improving, especially along the Great Lakes, as stormy weather has brought flight ducks within range. Reports of keese are scattered. Woodcock shooting, which had been good, ended October 31 in lower Michigan but other migratory birds may be hunted until November 14.

Raccoon hunting opened November 1 in lower Michigan with favorable conditions ideal for tracking with dogs. Cottontails are expected to get more attention with the close of the bird season and in northern Michigan more hunting of snowshoe hares is looked for when the animals have taken on their winter coat of white.

FARM PROBLEMS ARE GROWING SAYS COMMISSIONER

Problems pertaining to the marketing of Michigan farm produce are constantly demanding greater attention, with the protection and the promotion of outlets for farm produce becoming important functions of the Department of Agriculture, according to Commissioner Elmer A. Beamer at the annual meeting of Michigan State Grange.

In a review of departmental activities, Beamer named fair marketing problems that in October proved outstanding.

"During the past month," Beamer told the Grange members, "the Michigan Department of Agriculture established a new record in the shipment of inspected farm produce, meaning that during the past 31 days a larger volume of quality farm merchandise was marketed than ever before in the history of the state."

"During the same month, the Department of Agriculture started Bang's re-testing of cattle in Montmorency County, completing all of the counties north of the Manistee-Josco base line, excepting two counties in the Upper Peninsula. Completion of these counties will mark the first re-testing of cattle in northern Michigan, as a source of supply of Bang's disease free cattle, increasing their market value.

"During October, the Michigan Department of Agriculture placed a ban on cartons under the provisions of the new egg laws, representing over half of the volume of eggs sold in urban Michigan. It licensed over 200 elevators in accordance with the provisions of the produce storage act.

"During the past month, the Department of Agriculture has speeded the tuberculosis testing of cattle in southwestern Michigan, a very important feature, as many of the producers in that section depend upon Chicago as an outlet for dairy products, and the Illinois state demands rigid and frequent inspection of cattle. This market protection is important.

Record of Sorensen Cow Exceeds Average Mark

A new record, exceeding the average of the Guernsey but not her age and class has just been completed by a three and one-half year old cow Bourdale Donnie Lass 42195 of Farmington, tested and owned by Charles E. Sorensen. Her official record supervised by the Michigan State College and announced by The American Guernsey Cattle Club is 13623.4 pounds of milk and 630.5 pounds of butter fat in class DD.
