GROANS OVER PHONE BRING AID TO ILL MAN

Answering a signal at the switchboard one night recently, Miss Anne Walt, Minneapolis telephone operator, heard moans and a feeble call for help. As there was no answer to her questions, she had the line traced. Meanwhile, she tried to talk to the person who had called, but heard only moans, which were becoming weaker. The police were notified, and they found a man unconscious on the floor of his home, with artificial respiration and buried the victim to a hospital, where he subsequently recovered.

CONGRESSMEN EAT MICHIGAN APPLES FROM DONDERO

Rep. George A. Dondero recently acquainted members of Congress with the high quality of apples produced in the 17th District of Michigan, in calling their attention to the availability of the apples in the House of Representatives cloakrooms, Rep. Dondero said.

"Mr. Speaker, in order that the country may know that we not only produce the finest apples in the world in the State of Michigan but also 30 per cent of all the automobiles produced in this world, I have placed in the cloakrooms today—both the Republican and Democratic cloakrooms—samples of some of the finest apples produced in this world. They were produced in the 17th Congressional District of Michigan."

Michigan, which I have the honor to represent. We have had samples of various kinds of fruit—apples, grapefruit, pineapples—plus shrimp and fish, and each member has delighted in showing the country the excellence of the things produced in his district. The various varieties provided are the Northern Spy and Delicious. These apples may not show to the best advantage at this late season of the year, they may not have the richness of color of the apples raised on irrigated land in the great Northwest, but in point of quality of flavor they are unexcelled by any apples produced anywhere on earth. My colleagues, I ask you to join me in helping yourselves to them."

The tongue of the just is as choice silver; the heart of the wicked is little worth.—Proverbs 10:20.

place, but will there be a place for him, where the teachers will be willing to treat him on an equal basis with the other students, or will he always be considered a bad boy, and be made an outsider? Will all parents say "My children can't associate with him, as he has been in a Juvenile Home so therefore might be a bad influence over them?"

I have six children, and have never wittingly upheld them in any wrong doing, but when one does and has seen his mistake, and is ready to begin anew, all I ask is that he be given a square deal, and not always be pushed back.

A disgusted parent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor must be signed with the name of the person writing the letter. The real name may be used and the writer's address will be withheld from publication upon request, but no use will be made of the name of the writer will be published.

Dear Editor:

Calling all parents, calling all teachers to argue with me on what I think is a very important question, I would like the opinion of my fellow citizens, from whom I consider a free and equal country, so I have always believed.

What are your reactions toward a teenage boy, that has been in trouble because of the influence of bad companions, that was on probation after spending a few weeks in a Juvenile Home?

Would it be to point him out, and hold him as an example, to his friends and school mates by saying "You must be good and do as I ask," even though the rest of his class get away with the same tricks he is punished for, just because he is on probation, and threatened with the fact that he will be sent back if he doesn't do as told?

I think because of malicious gossip, some person that did not attend the movie at which several of the students were attending, and only a couple of teachers, an action was taken whereby he was expelled from school and returned to the Juvenile Home.

But the other boy who was supposed to have been in the same episode with him got off free, just because he begged and pleaded that he would be good, and smiled pretty for the benefit of the court, but he didn't fool me for this isn't the first time he has ever been in court.

My boy will be back this fall to start another school year some
