Trash Campaign Begins Oct. 4

Farmington Township Supervisor Earl Teeplees announces that October is the month for the semi-annual cleanup in Farmington Township.

Many organizations such as the Farmington Area Jaycees, scouts, and subdivision associations are planning cleanups to coincide with the special trash pickup scheduled by the township.

A TOWNSHIP-WIDE pickup will be conducted and all participants are urged to coordinate their efforts with the pickup schedules.

All schedules will follow the regular free pickup provided by Farmington Township. Men and equipment from the Taubee Sanitation Co. are preparing now for the October special pickups.

Beginning at the southern part of the township on Monday, Oct. 4, trash will be picked up between Eight and Nine Mile Rds. until Friday, Oct. 8.

The second week, Oct. 11-15, will see the trucks in the area between Nine and 11 Mile Rds. The third week, Oct. 18-22, will see trucks picking up between 11 and 13 Mile Rds. The final date, Monday, Oct. 25, will be devoted to pickups in the area north of 13 Mile Rd.

AMONG The large junk items that will be picked up on the scheduled days in October are:

Refrigerators and freezers with doors off; ranges and washers; sofas cut into pieces; building materials cut into four foot lengths; doors cut in two; brush cut into 24-inch lengths and tied into bundles; and most other things cut into "bite sizes" for the truck hoppers.

The following items, however, will not be picked up: garbage, tree trunks, or other materials too long to get into the truck hopper.

Teeplees points out that this pickup is paid for by the township and is for township residents only. "No fair importing stuff."

Strike?

"Right now, with the withholding, we're not only guaranteed we're not going to waste any money, but we could wind up as much as $70,000 to $80,000 in the hole."

SMITH noted that no request has been made by the union for mediation, but Allen said he "wouldn't be surprised" if a mediator was called in before the Oct. 4 deadline.

Last year's experience with mediation, however, indicated the board "abused rather than utilized" the process, Allen said, by refusing to join him at the bargaining table and confining him to the role of messenger between the two parties.

While no formal request has been made for fact finding, Allen said the FEA might consider it if the board agreed to be bound by the findings. Informal discussion with board negotiators, however, has indicated the board would not be bound, he said.

Brennan Rules Teeplees Never Was On Leave

FARMINGTON
 Farmington Township Supervisor Earl Teeplees vacated the position of township trustee when he assumed the position of supervisor.

That is the conclusion drawn in a legal opinion rendered, upon request of the township board, by Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan.

AT THE last board meeting, it was revealed that Teeplees had been on a leave of absence from the police force since becoming elected supervisor. Teeplees told trustees he had applied for and was given a leave of absence by Police Chief Irving Yakes.

Upon returning from vacation, however, Yakes stated he has never given anyone a leave of absence, including Teeplees.

Yakes says he does not have authority to give anyone a leave because this request is handled by the township supervisor.

Yakes said he did receive a request for a two-year leave of absence from Teeplees shortly after the election but he turned the request over to Clerk Floyd Cairns and never approved it.

TEEPLES SAYS he thought the chief handled it, but the whole question is moot now because of Brennan's legal opinion.

Brennan's opinion was based on the observation that it is "incomprehensible" for an officer of a township to also be an employee.

Teeplees said he doesn't believe there was or would be any conflict of interest involved. "I would try to do what is best for the police officers regardless of whether I was on leave or not."

REPLYING TO criticism about his son working for the township on Saturdays to supervise prisoner work crews, Teeplees said the youth gets paid about $5 an hour compared to $7 an hour once paid to police officers for the same job.

The work crews are not really composed of "prisoners," he added, but ordinance violators who voluntarily come in on Saturdays to perform work for the township in lieu of a fine or sentence.

School Budget Hearing To Be Held Tuesday

The Farmington Board of Education will hold a public hearing Tuesday night on its $15 million-plus budget for 1971-72.

The meeting will be in Harrison High School at 8 p.m. The budget, as prepared by Business Administrator William Prisk, calls for expenditures of $15,533,887 and would eliminate the $7,600 deficit with which the district wound up last year.

If figures revenues at $15,558,881, the total arrived at after subtracting the $240,600 in state aid which the Legislature is withholding for creation of a special contingency fund.

THE BOARD at its last meeting gave a go ahead to another step toward construction of a fifth junior high school, the design development phase of architectural services.

The $3 million school will be located on 22 acres lying between 14 Mile and Northwestern and midway between Orchard Lake and Middle Belt.

Mrs. Betty Brennan abstained from voting, explaining that as a new board member she was "not completely familiar with the expense of the building or its need, and not qualified to vote."

The other six board members voted in favor. Built to house 800 students, the school will be open for occupancy in September 1972, "at the very earliest," Supt. Roderick J. Smith said.

Mrs. Brennan, chairman of the board's safety committee, reported her group had been able to find bus space for 152 children cut off from school transportation this year whose walking situation was found to be hazardous.

Areas of concern remaining are the Lincolnshire subdivision and the Gill-4 Mile section, she said, plus a "few isolated areas where there are one or two children here and there."

The board authorized its safety committee to attempt to find space on existing buses where there is room and a safety factor exists.

Musical chairs is known to one and all, but musical beds is known to only the homeowner. It's been that kind of summer at our house and I'm sure at most of your homes too! We arrived home from Seaside Heights on the Jersey Shore where the ocean was clean, relaxing, and salty. After a visit in the Finger Lakes area, we headed home with my husband's mother who hasn't paid us a visit for the past couple of years.

Son Mark was leaving for California in a couple of days so Michelle got Mark's room while grandmother was comfortably situated in her room. Michelle's cousin came to visit her and she and Sheryl slept in Mark's room. When we heard Aunt Helen and cousin Joanne were coming from Binghamton, Michelle and Sheryl were transported to Sheryl's home in Dearborn and Helen and Joan occupied Mark's room.

The guests left and I'm relaxing watching TV when a car pulls into the drive. Mark is back from California and delighted to hear he has his own bed to sleep in because he hasn't slept in a bed since his departure a couple of weeks ago.

We hate to lose any of our Farmington residents, but from time to time it seems we have to. The Bill Havel family left for the West Palm Beach area, Florida, recently. They have been residents for the past 15 years. Before their departure, Farmington area friends Chris and Jim Dillon of Colony Park Drive hosted a dinner for the going away Haves, Bill and Ellen Mathews of State Street and Tom and Mary Lou Ferris, also Farmington area friends, were among those present.

The Heintzman family of Farmington left for Louisville, Ky. Before their departure, Miss Claire Shiller of Bonnet Hill Road faked a going - to - the - movies to see "Love Story" so that Kathy Heintzman would be surprised - which she was! Party schemers included Ann Smith, Caroline Weyher, Lorrie Arvidsson, Barb Wetterhall, Mary Carol Jewell, Nancy Shakato, Sherri Hartley, Sue Bertsch and Ann Shepard. By the way, the Heintzman family moving date was Friday the thirteenth!

MRS. KAY PETRIS of Pipers Lane Ct. is teaching home arts and crafts classes at the Carl Sandburg Library in Livonia this fall on Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting Sept. 28th.

This year's crafts will feature repousse work, which is the 17th and 18th century French art of raising pictures to be used on purses and pictures, and voe d'oplique, which is the ancient French art of optical illusion - layering the work or the 3-D picture took. The crafts are creative crafts and not from kits. Though the program is sponsored by the Livonia Recreation Department, it is open to surrounding area residents.
