

Kathleen Ursic and Jerry Frost Sharing Their Dreams Of Tomorrow

When Kathleen Ursic was mail girl at Maccabees Insurance, of Southfield, two years ago, her last stop was Jerry Frost's desk. It proved to be a very significant detail in the lives of these two young people who are planning to be married in St. Michael's Church on Friday, Oct. 8.

With seemingly a thousand details still to be taken care of for her wedding, Kathleen says that the fact that her wedding is just a few weeks away, "has just begun to sink into my head."

Since their first luncheon date two years ago, a lot has happened. Kathleen is now a cashier at the Chatham Market Tel-Twelve Mall and Jerry is a member of his father's company, Tryco Steel. She is 20 and he is 22.

Kathleen remembers the first date as if it happened yesterday. She knew from the first time she saw Jerry that she wanted him to ask her out. She adds, with a note of laughter in her voice, "It took him long enough."

However, even before they had finished eating lunch at Howard Johnson's at Evergreen and Ten Mile, Jerry had asked her to go out with him for the next three nights and it stretched to every night after that.

At the time they met Kathleen had just graduated from Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington, a member of the school's first graduating class.

Jerry graduated from Cherry Hill High School in Inkster and attended both Northern Michigan and Eastern Michigan Universities.

As a soon-to-be-married man, Jerry has already made one concession, he's going to learn to dance -- maybe even in time for his wedding. His bride-to-be loves to dance, "close and slow" she says as well as the more modern.

The dancing lessons may be all in the family. Jerry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Frost of Southfield, have been taking ballroom dancing lessons and Kathleen says she and Jerry may get with them before the wedding for some expert tips.

After the wedding, which Kathleen promises will also be traditional as far as the service is concerned, the couple plan to live in the Bonnie Brook apartments of Southfield.

I, Jerry, take thee, Kathy - October 8, 1971

Kathy and Jerry manage to steal a kiss amid all the busy preparations for their wedding. Conferring with their parents they discuss all that has yet to be done.
