Work Started On Wading Pool

Work was begun this week on a wading pool to be situated adjacent to the city picnic grounds, and near the Farmington High School athletic field. The project is being sponsored by the Farmington Kiwanis Club, with Leo Gildemester and Stanley Coon in charge of the committee making arrangements. The pool is designed for smaller children, who are still too young to visit the nearby lakes and swimming pools. It will be 22 feet by 32 feet, with water varying in depth from six to 12 inches. The pool itself will be all concrete, with 12 inches of gravel underneath the concrete and tile. The concrete will be wire reinforced, so that the freezing and thawing that comes with the winter months will not crack the pool, necessitating extensive repair each summer before it could be put in use again. A spray will be located at one end of the pool, so the children may enjoy a shower of water, as well as wading in it. A concrete walk will be laid all the way around. Cost of the pool has been estimated at six hundred dollars. The Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the entire project, and much credit is due them, and their committee, for the fine cooperation and spirit shown in making this wading pool possible for the enjoyment of Farmington children.

Kowalski to Issue Drivers Licenses

Permission for Chief of Police Charles Kowalski to issue driver licenses to residents of Farmington has been granted this week by Secretary of State Harry P. Kelly. At the present time Kowalski may issue licenses only to persons residing within the city limits. However, if a new law goes into effect in September, Kowalski said his jurisdiction would extend a radius of five miles from the city.

Only postal money orders or cashiers checks will be accepted in payment for licenses. This was explained by Kowalski by the fact that all license fees taken in by him are sent directly to the Secretary of State's office and the handling of cash or personal checks would complicate this procedure. Those applying for licenses are asked to have their money order or cashier's check when they make application.

Licenses will be issued only at certain hours of the day, Kowalski stated. The following hours are only temporary: Monday, 1 to 3 p. m.; Tuesday, 1 to 3 p. m.; Wednesday, 9 to 11 a. m.; Thursday, 1 to 3 p. m.; Friday, 1 to 3 p. m.; Saturday, 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Kowalski who was only recently been appointed chief of police said, "I hope all the people of Farmington will cooperate with us by obeying traffic laws. As soon as possible we will have our painting signs, will have the streets painted, and so on. Cooperation of everyone is needed to make traffic conditions safer here."

Bids Asked On School Shop Addition

Construction Proposals To Be Opened August 4

The Board of Education of School District No. 5 City and Township of Farmington is advertising for bids this week on an addition to the Gymnasium-Auditorium. The transference of funds from the general fund to the building fund, to cover construction of this addition, was approved by electors at the annual board meeting held in June.

The addition was proposed to accommodate the need for enlarged quarters for the school shop. This department has become so popular and with the present demand for training of this sort in defense industries, the shop department is most inadequate.

Besides taking care of the increased enrollment in industrial training at the school, it is planned to hold evening sessions for workers in industry, so they may progress with the improvements that are being made daily in machinery of all types. It will give each worker the opportunity of fitting himself for some particular phase of industrial work in which he is particularly interested, and yet he will be able to continue with his present employment.

Access to the plans and specifications for the addition may be had by applying to the architect, Marcus R. Burrows, Farmington architect, whose Detroit office are located at 709 Architects' Building. A deposit of $500 must be made to secure the plans, but this will be refunded if a bona fide proposal is made. Where no proposal is submitted and plans and specifications are retained more than three days, a charge of one dollar will be deducted from the deposit.

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check or bank draft for five per cent of the amount of the proposal submitted. All certified checks shall be made payable to the Board of Education, of Farmington, Michigan.
