SLEEP LIKE A PRINCE

in a house cooled for 5c a night!

If you have ever tossed and turned in a hot, stuffy bedroom until four o'clock in the morning, trying in vain to sleep, you will be thankful for a discovery that brings the cool outdoors right into your room... making it refreshingly comfortable. You will be doubly thankful when you find that this method of cooling your entire house costs only about 1/2c an hour!

So effective is this type of cooling—lowering the temperature as much as 10 to 14 degrees in the evening, depending on the outdoor temperature—that it is hard to believe you can accomplish it with nothing more than a giant fan in the attic. Do not confuse this fan with an ordinary fan, however. It is a special type of fan—very large—and its quiet, powerful blades are capable of producing a complete change of air in your house every few minutes. Prices vary from $50 up (installation extra).

The principle on which it operates is simple. The attic fan draws the warm air in your rooms upward to the attic and discharges it out-of-doors. At the same time, a flood of cool night air is pulled in through the windows and gently circulated through the house—making the rooms delightfully comfortable and assuring long hours of restful sleep.

Department stores, electrical dealers, and fan dealers will gladly give you full information about this low-cost method of house cooling. Telephone today. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install this equipment.)

At The Civic Theatre

On Friday and Saturday this week at the Civic Theatre, that ever popular Gene Autry will appear in "The Singing Hill." Gene is shown as head of the Cattle-men's association. He is concerned about the future of his friends and associates when Jo Adams, played by Virginia Davis, plays the part of the ranch, announces her intention to sell. Gene has her adjoined incompetent, and then proceeds to straighten matters out to everyone's satisfaction. The second picture is "Lady From Cheyenne" with Corolla Young and Robert Armstrong. It is a historical western, and concerns the settling of Wyoming.

The Civic is showing "The Great American Broadcast." The cast includes Alice Faye, John Payne, Jack O'Brien, George Egan, and Martha Scott. Brent is seen as their Apparent to the Austrian throne, but he is forced to flee the country. Coming to America, a Gestapo agent agrees to free the prisoners on Brent's freed list if he will surrender himself to Germany. However as he is returning, a British ship rescues him, leaving him free to start life anew with the woman he loves, on English soil.

Patrons of the Civic Theatre are reminded that they can now purchase their defense war stamps right at the theatre. Remember to Michigan, at which time and place ask about them.
