Among the special guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. McNair, parents of William McNair, Pierson school principal.

Mrs. Max Bergin and daughter Sharon, of Howell, were guests Sunday afternoon of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Addis.

RUTH ST. DENIS IS NEXT GUEST ON TOWN HALL

Ruth St. Denis, world famous dancer, will present a lecture-entertainment, "Rhythms of the World," at the Detroit Town Hall attraction in the Fisher Theatre next Wednesday, Feb. 5, at 11 a. m. She will illustrate her talk with dance demonstrations of Egyptian, Indian, Greek, Siamese, Balinese, Chinese, Japanese, North African rhythms, and will also include illustrations of the modern dance as it has evolved in America.

Miss St. Denis brings a radiant personality, a delightful sense of comedy and a rich speaking voice to her lectures, which, combined with her knowledge of acting, dancing and writing, makes her one of the most fascinating speakers on the platform.

America's foremost creator of the dances of the world made his stage debut as a child in The Old Homestead, Somerville, New Jersey. Later David Belasco engaged her for a dancing part in "Zaza" ("because she was so sassy"). This started her career in the theatrical highroad which culminated with her union with Ted Shawn and the triumphant founding of Denishawn House. Ruth St. Denis gave an impulse to the modern dance in this country which raised it from a very sick thing getting along nicely.

Mrs. Harry Colestock and daughter Dorothy are very sick with bad colds.

Mrs. George Heller and Mrs. Ivan Graham attended the Baptist Home-coming held at Walld Lake Baptist church Wednesday.

Conservation Program To Include ASCAP Music

Special permission granted by John G. Paine, general manager of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, assures uninterrupted presentation in spite of the ASCAP radio ban of the 26-week Conservation Cavalade radio program now carried weekly by 11 Michigan radio stations.

An exception was made in the case of the Michigan department of conservation. Paine said in a letter to C. A. Paglia, chief of the department's education division, because some of the programs already have been transcribed with ASCAP music. The programs are strictly non-commercial, and time for them is donated by the radio stations.

Predatory Animal Take Drops During 1940

For the smallest take of predatory animals in the four years since the present bounty scale was voted, the conservation department paid more than $33,000 in the calendar year 1940.

At 33 the 1940 take of wolves exactly equals the take in 1939, but is less than the 49 bountied in 1938 and the 37 bountied in 1937. Killing the 33 wolves all in the upper peninsula, cost $570.

At 1.866 the coyote catch in 1940 is 200 short of the 1939 take of 2,066, which in turn is more than 500 under the 1938 catch of 2,563. In 1937, 2,573 coyotes were bountied.

Payment of four $5 bounties on bobcats in the upper peninsula raised the total December bounty cost to $950, of which $730 was collected by hunters and trappers along the straits.

MICHIGAN SONGS BANNED

The many radio broadcasts from the diversity of Michigan will not be hampered by the playing of two of its most famous songs, "The Yellow and Blue" and "The Victrola." Both of these songs come under the ban placed by broadcasters on music of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers, and, unless special arrangements are made with ASCAP, friends and alumni of the University will not hear these traditional songs.

OAKLAND COUNTY RED CROSS ROLL REACHES 16,982

Byron B. Webb, Chairman of the 24th Annual Roll Call of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, announces that recent reports of the 1941 Roll Call show 16,982 members and a fund of $23,924.66. This is not entirely final as complete reports from one or two townships are still unavailable. The goal of 17,000 members in Oakland County has apparently been reached. The Oakland County Chapter is thus assured that its responsibilities for the coming year will be met.

Production workrooms of the county under the direction of Mrs. O. W. Kay, Production Chairman, have resumed work following the Christmas holidays. The present quota is well under way for completion and a new quota will undoubtedly be assigned within the near future. Garments, knitted articles, and layettes are being shipped regularly and undoubtedly many have been received in Europe.

Recent reports from the American National Red Cross state that Red Cross War Relief Headquarters have recently been established in Athens. Work here is proceeding in cooperation with the Greek Red Cross. Report is also made that in accordance with arrangements agreed upon by the British Government the American Red Cross will send a shipment of fruit and milk to unoccupied France. Articles contained are to be principally for children. Negotiations are at present time under way with the chief of the Spanish state to ship cargo of wheat and flour to meet the immediate needs of the civilian population. Representatives of the American Red Cross will visit Spain to cooperate with the Spanish Red Cross and other similar institutions in the distribution of supplies.

"MARK OF ZORRO" LEADS WEEK OF HITS AT CIVIC

The story of "Mark of Zorro" is laid in lower California in the year 1820. The former mayor's son, (Tyrona Fowler) who has become a leading swordsman of Spain, returns home to assume the role of "Zorro" to right the wrongs committed by a tyrannical mayor (J. Edward Bromberg), succeeding in finally driving him back to Spain and reinstating his own father as mayor.

"Mark of Zorro" comes to the Civic Theatre on Friday and Saturday, January 31 and February 1. Also to be shown on these dates is "Little Bit of Heaven" in which a quaint and captivating tale Gloria Jean sings like a meadowlark and rings the bell in a solid piece of family entertainment. It's a showmanlike blend of comedy, heart-tugs and delightful music, and should render accurately whetted appetites for the theater. The wholesome, human entertainment, Producer Joe Pasternak has provided a grand supporting cast in which the romantic interest is carried by Nan Grey and Robert Stanton, and comedy in large chunks is donated by Stuart Erwin, Billy Gilbert and other funsters. Story is a simple one, enabling Gloria Jean to display her vocal talents as one of a large and poor—but happy-family. She wins fame and fortune on the radio, but quits when the family goes high-bait. Andrew Marton directed.

A double bill program of unusual quality is offered by the Civic on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with the showing of "Escape" starring Robert Taylor and Norma Shearer and "Spring Parade" Duanna Durbine's newest movie.

On Wednesday and Thursday the Civic will show "Diamond Frontier" and "Over Nightboard, the Carriers" with Edmund Lowe. Laid in South Africa of the 1870's, "Diamond Frontier" tells of the crimes of a group of diamond miners, and their eventual downfall through the efforts of a man they have had wrongfully sentenced to 10 years of penal servitude.

Leader of the trio which by hook or crook gets control of the output of a diamond town is Victor McLaglen, the man he has convicted on a trumped-up charge is John Loder, who had returned to the town to become a doctor and marry his sweetheart, Anne Nagel. Escaping from the penal camp after years of service, with the help of a character portrayed by Clifford Arno, and later with the aid of Cecil Kellaway, he returns to see justice done.

Action plenty involving both shooting and riding, and fights with natives and bandits, feature the film, which is the second turned out by associate producer Marshall Grant. The original screen play by Edmund Hartmann and Stanley Rubin treats the hero's exploits after his escape in the same manner of those of Edmund Dantes of Dumas' "Count of Monte Cristo." The fact is noted to the extent of giving the protagonist the name of Dantes after his return, when he poses as a diamond burglar, and by having the revenge planned upon him by his friend.

Harold Schuster directed the picture, while the cast also includes Philip Dorn, Francis Ford, Hugh Sothern and Ferris Taylor.

"Operator, give me AMERICA 21,830,000"

NATION-WIDE telephone communication is a mighty asset to the country's program of defense. Every city, village, hamlet and rural area is closely linked with every other by America's 21,830,000 connecting telephones. In a matter of minutes a Michigan manufacturer, working on defense orders, can speak directly with his suppliers in any part of the country. That is a single example of the service rendered by the telephone industry, thousands of times daily, in this period of national emergency.
