MORE FARMERS TO FILE INCOME TAX REPORTS

More farmers than usual in Michigan will be filing federal income tax reports for 1940 because farm income levels rose during the year and because the minimums for married and for single persons were lowered by the federal government.

As an aid in filing reports, some practical help has been prepared by E. B. Hill, head of the Michigan State College farm management department. He lists 36 typical questions and provides the answers from information obtained from the office of the deputy collector of internal revenue at Lansing.

Copies of these questions and answers are available for reference in all offices of the state of county agricultural agents and Smith-Hughes agricultural teachers. Filing time deadline is March 15.

Farmers who have been using the Michigan farm account books will have a far easier time answering necessary questions in filing reports and paying taxes, advises Professor Hill. The books simplify the tabulation of information required by the federal government.

WEIRD SCHEMES DEvised TO GET TRICK PLATES

Many and devious are the schemes evolved by car owners in attempts to circumvent the rule established by Harry F. Kelly, secretary of State, that all license plates must be sold in numerical order on the basis of first come first served. All license plates now are uniform, with two letters and four numerals. Many motorists who formerly sported so called trick plates, often bearing the initials and house or phone number, or some weird and confusing assortment such as IOU-2, are now endeavoring to locate a series, the letters of which will agree with their name, and a number, with four identical digits, such as 5555.

Inquiries poured into the main Detroit office, at 5800 Woodward Avenue as to where a certain letter series is on sale. In many cases the series sought is on sale in some office way up state and there are many instances of Detroit owners traveling great distances to obtain the plates they desire. Getting a plate with a certain combination of numbers is difficult, but several buyers have had the problem by finding out approximately the time the dealer will pop up in the regular order of business and have camped at a cashier's window ready to step up at the right moment. In many cases two persons have sought the number, and when it arrived have tossed coins for possession.

One hopeful citizen, on trail of a certain number, practically lived in the Woodward Avenue office for three days. On the third day, when the plate he sought about twenty feet from the top, he decided to step out for a cup of coffee in the next few minutes a rush of business developed and when the citizen returned he found that the department heads have fully refused hundreds of requests that certain plates be reserved for that citizens be notified when the numerical sequence neared the plates they desired.

MOTORISTS MAY DEDUCT GAS TAX SAYS AUTO CLUB Michigan motorists may deduct amounts paid as a result of the State's gasoline taxes in 1940 from their Federal income returns, Howard D. Brown, general attorney for the Automobile Club of Michigan, declared this week. Reporting on income tax deductions allowed motorists he continued: "The full amount of gasoline plate or weight taxes and license taxes paid to the State is deductible by Michigan motorists. Deductions are also permitted for state gasoline taxes paid when traveling through most of the other states as the Bureau of Internal Revenue now allows full deductions for all but ten states, namely, Alabama, California, Georgia, Mississippi, Nebraska, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Wyoming, and Ohio where three cents of the four-cent tax is deductible. "However, it is important to remember that amounts paid out in Federal gasoline tax and other excise taxes must not be deducted," Brown pointed out. "Motorists may claim exemption for loss sustained from damage to a passenger car when covered by insurance or otherwise compensated, and interest on money borrowed for the purchase of a car. Finance charges, as such, are not deductible and whether a portion of the charge can be claimed as interest depends upon the nature of the contract. "National headquarters of the A.A.A. has prepared a pamphlet listing all deductions which may be made by motorists when making out income tax returns. The Automobile Club of Michigan has a supply of these pamphlets in all of its offices, and motorists may obtain them free of charge at the travel counters, when preparing to file their income tax return. "Raining cats and dogs? No, but it has rained other animals. In London it swam snakes, in Scotland, fish, in South America, fish, in Italy, frogs, and mice and insects elsewhere.
