

Circus To Pan TV This Friday

The Portable Circus, five young people from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., will bring their biting and satiric look at 8 p.m.

Their performance is a series of comedy sketches which examine the effect television has on all of us. They will appear in the upper level of Waterman Campus Center, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

TICKETS ARE $1.50 for the general public and 75 cents for college students. Group rates are available from Linda Trujillo, at the students activities office at Schoolcraft. The show is being sponsored by the student activities board.

The Portable Circus have this to say (among other things) about some of TV's most time-honored programs: "Kiddie cartoons—falling off a cliff is funny," "Late movies—late movies never die, they just follow the news," "The news team—daily disasters reported with a smile."

The Portable Circus was formed in 1969, and its members decided to pursue comedy as a career last winter after appearing successfully at several Eastern Colleges.

William (Chip) Keyes, a former student of George Sherman, writer and theater director, is originator of the Circus.

MARK WILLIAMS is a philosophy major who dropped out of college for a year and worked as a railroad laborer. Lisa Mulligan, the only non-Trinity College member of the troupe, graduated with a BA in drama from Skidmore College.

Steve Charleston, the only married member of the group, was a religion and philosophy major. A native Oklahoman, he considered the ministry before joining the Circus.

The fifth member is Jeffrey Lipka, whose principal interests at college were theater, music and making people laugh.
