

FINE AND COSTS . . . do it, unless you want to make an official call on Judge Schulte. Henceforth, if Lizzie, Bruthilde, Noah's Ark, or whatever you call your horseless carriage is offered to stay put for more than an hour at a time, you'll have to drive her around the block every 30 minutes if it's between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. Blame it on the city commissioners and the new parking signs.

STYLE PREVIEW . . . What women's hats would look like if the men had their way was shown when the Exchangeites and Kiwanians met together with their wives Wednesday evening. Part of the entertainment was a millinery contest. "It said that strange creations adorned with everything but the kitchen sink made their appearances. Paper, cloth and ribbons weren't enough—fruit and vegetables also added that stylish (?) touch. And they talk about women creating funny looking hairdos . . .

IS THERE A DOG HEAVEN? . . . If there is, Hutch, the pet of the Pinner family on Mayfield avenue, ought not to have trouble with St. Peter—or at least he wouldn't have until recently. For some time now he's been a loyal Presbyterian at church every service regularly. "Upon our other day, there came a test of faith—after all, the little kitty was an intruder who must not be allowed to interrupt, so Hutch sent him off. Sunshine Shiao, somewhat of a hurry, Dutch hasn't been back and is now considered a backsliding Methodist though he has undergone Baptist immersion also. There are fears, however, that he may have permanently wandered from the fold. Al, almost persuaded—almost—but lost.

54 YEARS YOUNG . . . It's the Enterprise's birthday anniversary today and the old gal is half a century plus four years old. It's a long time that she's been serving her community but she's still going for a long time to come.

Parents-Teachers Hear Carl Horn

Carl Horn of the vocational department of public instruction was the main speaker at the second meeting of the Farmington Parent Teacher Association Tuesday evening in the school cafeteria.

Vocational guidance and its increasing importance to the child was the subject of Mr. Horn's talk. He urged that vocational guidance begin in the kindergarten and be carried beyond school age to better prepare the child to cope with his problems and live a more successful, happy and useful life. He was introduced by Principal E. V. Ayres.

Mrs. A. T. Beal, president, presided. Mrs. J. DeVrient reported that the membership committee has placed 96 names on their list. A. T. Beal, chairman of the budget and financial committee, submitted a budget which was unanimously accepted.

Members were reminded of the Parent Education Institute to be held in Ann Arbor, November 5, 6 and 7. Mrs. Leighton Motter was in charge of the program. Mrs. Warren Joy's Girl Scout troop No. 5 presented a clever and amusing shadow play. Participating were: Sally Gildemeister, reader, Doris Lathrop, Carol Joy, Nancy Smith, Jean Anderson, Elizabeth Johnson and Betty Hunt. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

REV. BUSCHING NAMED TO DISTRICT OFFICE

The Rev. Howard Busching, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Farmington, was elected director of Christian education for the Methodist Churches of the Ann Arbor district at a meeting of the district committee Friday, October 17, at Ann Arbor.

Fifty-nine churches are included in this district. Rev. Busching will have supervision of all educational work for all the churches in the district including work with children, youth, adults, leadership training, vacation church schools and the like.

Working under him will be a staff of five, one person each in charge of children, youth, adults, missionary education, and finances. Rev. Busching will hold his office until next June. He is succeeding the Rev. Harry Lord of Newville, who has moved out of the district and is now in Flint.

Ahrensfield Bound To Higher Court

Various Charges Bring Many to Court

Herman E. Ahrensfield, charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Elizabeth Roth on the 25th of July, was bound over to Circuit Court, as the result of a hearing in Justice Court in Farmington, with Judge John J. Schulte presiding. Ahrensfield was the driver of an army truck which crashed into the automobile driven by Miss Roth, when the truck failed to stop for a red light at the corner of Telegraph and 13 Mile Road.

Other persons appearing before Judge Schulte this week included Roy A. York, 6046 Buckwood, Detroit, who was charged with making an improper left turn at the intersection of Northfield Highway and Telegraph Road, thus causing an accident. He pleaded guilty to the charges, and was given a suspended sentence. He paid costs of $3.50.

Roy B. Wright, 17321 Murray, Detroit, was charged with speeding at 45 miles per hour within the limits of the City of Farmington, in violation of the City ordinance. He was given a suspended sentence.

Charged with violating the City ordinance by tripping 60 miles per hour within the City limits, Adolph Faldin, 525 Elizabeth, Milford, pleaded guilty and was fined $10.00, or sentenced to spend five days in jail.

Don Eimer Heichman, 19000 Woodring, Farmington, was charged with parking a motor vehicle in the second lane of a four-lane highway. Because of failure to appear, the matter was turned over to the State Police.

Edward R. Kutschke, 30809 Ten Mile Road, Farmington, was charged with parking a motor vehicle without an operator's license. He pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay $3.50.

SERVICES FOR MRS. HARRINGTON TO BE FRIDAY

Mrs. Nora Harrington, wife of Harry Harrington, 21625 Jackson street, Farmington, passed away early Tuesday morning in Pontiac at the age of sixty-one years. She had been in poor health for a number of years and had been in the hospital for the past several months. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington were married in November of 1917 in Pontiac, Michigan, but had lived in Farmington for a number of years. Mr. Harrington is the tile setter by trade.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. from the Thayer Funeral Home with the Rev. H. C. Busching of the Methodist church officiating. Interment will be in North Farmington Cemetery.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Harrington leaves a brother, Henry S. Myers of Pontiac.

City Erects Parking Signs

New parking signs were installed this week on Farmington Road and Grand River avenue in the city of Farmington.

These signs, like those used in the city of Detroit, are mounted on steel standards with white plates. Each sign is placed approximately 150 feet apart, and they restrict parking within the area they cover. Signs have been placed on Grand River avenue through the business section and on Farmington Road from Grand River north one block to Oakland avenue and south one block to State street. Seventeen signs will restrict parking to one hour between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m., while two signs were placed on Grand River opposite the Oak Pharmacy, restricting no parking due to bus stops and one sign was installed in front of the Post Office allowing standing only. An additional no parking sign has been placed on the west side of Farmington Road at Grand River avenue to keep a bus stop open there.

Girls To Attend Church For Opening of Scout Week

The observance of Girl Scout Week is held each year in honor of the memory of Juliette Low, who was born on October 21, 1890, and grew up to be mistress of an English manor and colorful founder of the Girl Scouts in the United States. Each year, Girl Scouts give pennies to sell the Juliette Low Memorial Fund, dedicated to the furtherance of Mrs. Low's noble international friendship and understanding.

In times of peace, the fund made possible at the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, at Adolfsberg, Switzerland. When the Chalet was cut off by the spreading flood of war, the Girl Scouts of the United States used their pennies to help innocent victims of that flood—the children of China and Europe.

The pennies—and they are literally pennies, for each girl tries to give a penny for each year of her age—of American girls, from seven to 18 have brought substantial help to the bombed children of Europe and Asia. The total, to date, includes an ambulance, a mobile canteen, equipment for air raid shelters, bales of shoes, underclothing, cloth, and knitting wool, supplies for the Girl Scout and Girl Guide hostel in London, special supplies for Polish refugee camps, and Chinese Girl Scouts. But the usefulness of the Juliette Low Memorial Fund does not stop with giving aid to war sufferers. Part of the money, for the past two years, has been used to help build a lasting peace on this side of the world. The fund has financed Girl Scout Western Hemisphere Encampments in August, 1940, and August 1941, bringing together for two weeks each year girls from 15 American countries besides our own. Many of the recommendations of the delegates to effect the new Western Hemisphere Girl Scouts' newly established Western Hemisphere Center, which has its headquarters in New York, and functions under an advisory committee of women from the three Americas.

Beginning this week, the navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have an opportunity to go to a navy trade school even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Navy men are a hand-picked lot. Candidates must be men of more than average intelligence and stature, of the moral character, and must have the written recommendation of at least two local townspeople," according to information received from the Navy Department.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN THE NAVY?

Farmington has a job to do, according to officials of the United States. A goodly number of men must be selected, 15,000 a month is the exact quotation from the Navy department. Farmington has been selected to do its part.

Inter Club Meet Held Wednesday

Approximately 145 members and guests of the Farmington Exchange and Kiwanis clubs met Wednesday evening in the Methodist Church in an inter-club ladies' night.

Mrs. F. J. Nash, 25735 Farmington Road, spoke on the trend of women's hats from their beginnings until the present day. The entire lecture was illustrated with chalk drawings. Following Mrs. Nash's talk, the men of both clubs turned their hands in hat designing. Using material made available to them by the committee, and models from the audience as subjects, the men gave their personal attention to hats as they believed they should come.

Vic Blakeslee, president of the Kiwanis Club, won the first prize, followed by John Schulte and Glenn Lenard respectively. Other gentlemen participating in the contest were: Max Hulet, "Doc" Grosche, Dick Taylor, Howard Busching, and William C. O'Leary. Emily Hatton and Carl Schultz. Those women selected for models were: Mrs. Jim Warner, Mrs. Lloyd Cull, Mrs. Walter Coon, Mrs. Leo Gildemeister, Mrs. Kenn Looms, Mrs. Henry Trombey, Mrs. Lois Gildemeister, Mrs. DeLois Hamlin, Mrs. Lee Halsted, and Mrs. Roy Plunton. Judges' were: Mrs. Don McCracken, Mrs. Robert Stewart, and Ruth Bacon.

The final half of the program was turned over to a mixed group of singers from Redford High School. They represent a group of approximately 50 voices selected from the regular music group at Redford. Furnishing a broad variety of musical selections, with considerable individual work, this group entertained its audience for half an hour.

Following the program at the Methodist Church, the group went as a whole to the Civic Theatre where they were special guests.

Kiddies Cartoon Party At Civic on Saturday

In addition to the regular features at the Civic Theatre on Saturday, all the children will have the privilege of enjoying the special cartoon party. There will be games, songs and prizes, and all the hour cartoons that will make you laugh until the tears run down your cheeks. Manager Hober assures all parents that their children will be perfectly safe, though, for there will be free medical attention for those who laugh themselves sick.

Health Department Sponsors Clinics For Care, Prevention of Venereal Diseases

"Syphilis is all the more insidious because often those suffering from it are not aware that they have it. They may be a constant source of danger to others and because they do not know that they have been infected, they fall to get the treatment that would check the ravages of the disease or effect a cure.
