

American Legion

Notes

Since the last meeting of the Groves-Walker Post of the American Legion, war has been declared, recalling to every member of this post the years of 1917 and 1918 when they responded to their country's call. Now it is again time for every member to again come to the aid of our country. We have a definite job to do, and we will do it. It is the duty of every veteran of the last world war to do his or her part again, for the defense of our country.

It was good to see so many at the last meeting, and it is hoped that there will be a greater number at this meeting, December 11. We ask that members who have not attended recent meetings, please come now. There is work to do, and we need you.

William Carpenter is keeping up the good work on securing employment for veterans.

Seen at the Mid-Winter Conference in Pontiac were Carl Goers, Alford Smith, W. E. Gamble, Frank W. Lowrie and Joseph DeWendt. But where were Leon L. Church and Commander Fordon Niles?

I heard a yell for helping the Captain of the Bowling Team. Seems as though some of the bowlers have dropped out, or something.

Not oaks alone are trees, nor roses flowers;
Much humble wealth makes rich this world of ours. —Lolph Hunt.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Carrying on with their Red Cross work, the girls of Troop 4 are concentrating on finishing up their assignments of blankets, sweaters, and layettes. The troop also is making plans for an invitational service, to be held during the Christmas holidays, when Marian Gately and Dorothy Pustelton will become members. The Girl Scout mothers will be guests at this event. Last week the girls were hosts to a troop from Redford, led by Mrs. Andrew Carrothers. There were 36 present, and the program included a play staged by the Farmington girls, a pantomime presented by the Redford troop, and a group songfest. Lunch was served, and the girls wound up their highly successful party with a hilarious session of square dancing.

Parents and members of the Girl Scout Council are invited to attend the Court of Awards, to be held by Troop 5 on December 18, from seven to ten o'clock at the Scout hall. The girls now are finishing up their badge requirements under the direction of Mrs. Richard Erickson and Mrs. Ed. Smith. The girls of Troop 7 are working very hard on their badge requirements needed to attain their present class scout rank. The troop meets on Wednesday after school, and will welcome visitors at any time.

At the impressive "Fly-Up" ceremony, scheduled for Friday, December 12, by Brownie Troop 4, four Brownies will fly up to troops 7 and 8. The four girls are: Anne Faulkner, Kathryn Beals, Margaret Maas, and Catherine Gregor.

Brownies of Troop 9 and girls of Troop 5 are learning Christmas carols, and plan to go carolling on December 22 and 23, from six to 8:30. Troop leaders Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mrs. Michael Plautz are accompanying the carollers.

Clarencville Scout News

Four girl scout troops have been organized in Clarencville. For the present they are holding their meetings at the new High School and the Clarencville, G. R. d. School, each Tuesday, following classes.

The following women have completed an eight weeks' training course under the Detroit Council: Mrs. Wild, Mrs. Outright, Mrs. L. Har, Mrs. Balfour, Mrs. Enyo Goodfellow, Mrs. Lindahl and Mrs. Sinclair. The scouts are being sponsored by the Clarencville Parents' Club.

GARDEN CLUB TO SPONSOR GREENS MARKET

On Saturday, December 20, the Farmington Garden Club will sponsor a Greens Market in the shop of the Civic Theatre building. Mrs. Julius Kripka, in charge of the market, announces that there will be holiday wreaths, garlands, table arrangements, suitable for Christmas, already made up, as well as materials for those who wish to make their own decorations, such as ribbons, candles, evergreens, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Hamlin and family went to Clare Sunday where Mr. Hamlin and son Fred went hunting.
