AT THE REDFORD THEATER

Wallace Beery goes romancing to the accompaniment of assorted grips, giggles, and guffaws in "Barnacle Bill" in which he adventures through waterfront trials and tribulations galore at the Redford Theater, beginning Friday and continuing through Monday.

Teamed romantically with Marjorie Main, who played the "lady blacksmith" in "Wyoming," he has quite the funniest romance of his screen career in the new picture, his first appearance as a waterfront character since "Min and Bini."

He plays a waterfront loafer who suddenly finds himself in love, and at the same time is faced with the care of a small daughter he hasn't seen in years, enacted by Virginia Weidler. So he goes to work on a tuna fishing boat. The catch comes in and he gets into a dispute with the owner of a refrigerator boat who has organized a price-fixing combine. There is a thrilling fight. Beery becomes a hero and champion of the tuna fishermen and all ends, happily.

From the moment he steals a fish to raise "drinking money" for himself and Leo Carrillo, who plays his partner, Beery's role is crammed with laughs. His love-making reaches a hilarious climax in the absurd duel he and Miss Main sing to the accompaniment of a wheezy reed organ.

One of the most comical episodes occurs when Miss Main finds Beery in the company of Connie Gilchrist, playing a rival charmer. There ensues a hair-pulling scratching feminine battle that rivals any recent feminine fracas of the screen.

Richard Thorpe, who directed "Wyoming," directed "Barnacle Bill," which was filmed mostly on location at picturesque Fish Harbor, seat of California's tuna fishing industry.

Players include Donald Meek, Barton MacLane, Sara Hayden and others. Intimate details of the operation of a tuna fishing fleet add interest to the medley of thrills, heart interest and laughter. Clyde DeVinna, who photographed "Trader Horn," "White Shadows" and other famous location pictures, contributed specially effective photography in the fishing fleet sequences, and Bronislau Kaper composed an interesting musical score.

Civilian Defense Director La Guardia said in a press conference that indifference had vanished but Americans must show a willingness to obey rules. The Office of Civilian Defense issued official instructions on field medical units, further changed its relations with the Red Cross, and warned against using old gas masks.

Mr. Farmer: Start The New Year RIGHT!

Avoid Income Tax Trouble In 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Enterprise has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agricultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookkeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes a week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.
