troit on October 30 and 31. The Farmington Girl Scout organization has been asked to assist the Pontiac council in providing ushers and pages for the conference.

The investment service of Troop 7 was held Thursday, January 15, at the Scout Hall, with parents of the girls as guests. The truly beautiful and imposing ceremony began with the flag service, followed by the solemn candlelight service, wherein the Girl Scout laws and the meaning of the trophies are explained. The girls united in the singing of "The Golden Sun", a Girl Scout song. Dorothy Gustafson and Marian Gately, the girls invested in the troop, received their pins and gave the Girl Scout promise, and then were given the hand of welcome into the troop. Refreshments were served. The troop is now working on the leather work badge, and at the meeting this week, the girls made bracelets, coin purses, billfolds, and card cases. A number of the girls are participating in the Kiwanis show to be held next week.

Marian Gustafson and Caroline Farmer will be taken into Troop 7, transferring from Troop 7, next week.

Some of the girls of Troop 7 are starting work on their second class requirements. Others in the troop are learning first aid, and in line with these instructions, will also be taught safety in the home by Mrs. John Huht, who leads the troop.
