

AT THE REDFORD THEATER

"Navy Blues," a story of reckless gobs and gorgeous gals frolicking on and off a battleship in Hawaii, and starring Warner Bros. cinema clowns, Ann Sheridan, Jack Oakie, Martha Raye and Jack Haley, will start at the Redford Theater on Friday.

In this Potpourri of comedy, sailors Jack Oakie and Jack Haley try to flich their shipmates' pay checks and pawn their battleship's troubles with almost disastrous results; Ann Sheridan both hogs calls and hog collars her man Herbert Anderson; and Martha Raye chasing her ex-husband gets thrown into jail accused of being an international spy.

The plot revolves around Gobs Oakie and Haley who go to great lengths to see that their battleship, the Montana, wins the fleet gunnery championship, and they go to even greater lengths to see that they win the bet which they have made at 15 to 1 with the tarts of the U.S.S. Wisconsin.

Music and dancing by the Navy Blues Sextette, dressed in hula skirts and lei feature the production's softer moments. "In Walked," "You're a Natural" and other song hits of the show were written by Johnny Mercer and Arthur Schwartz.

The picture was directed by Lloyd Bacon and produced by Hal B. Wallis from a story written by Arthur T. Horman.

Mr. Farmer: Take Advantage Of This

Avoid
Income Tax Trouble
In 1942

Keeping adequate financial records is the surest way to avoid tax difficulties. Not only does the federal law require the farmer to keep ample records but experience and common sense point the wisdom of such practice.

With the importance of farm financial records in mind, the Enterprise has been able to complete arrangements to furnish, in combination with a year's subscription to the paper, a copy of "Agricultural Records," the easy accounting system for farmers, at a special price of $1.79.

The regular price is $5.50 and only by offering the record system to you with a year's subscription to your newspaper can we supply it at this remarkable special price.

Here is how the offer works. If you are a subscriber to this paper, you merely extend your subscription for one year at the usual price and are thereby entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" at the special price of $1.79. If you are not a subscriber now, you may subscribe to the paper for one year at the regular price and become entitled to buy one copy of "Agricultural Records" for the special $1.79 price.

If you think of trouble when you think of making income tax returns, you need a copy of "Agricultural Records" because it:

1. Requires no bookkeeping knowledge.
2. Takes only a few minutes a week.
3. Makes a permanent record of your income and expense.
4. Shows how to figure farm income and deductible expense for tax reporting.

We'll be glad to show you a copy of "Agricultural Records" and explain just how to use it. The whole thing is so simple that the explanation will take almost no time.

Stop in at the office next time you're in town and talk it over.

War Measures Adopted
Michigan's Republican legislature made good its agreement to co-operate closely with Democratic Governor Van Wagener in the matter of war legislation. The Governor's 10 war bills, dumped into the hopper at the opening of the special session, were speeded through both houses, with a minimum of delay. Practically everything Governor Van Wagener asked received unanimous approval.

At the end of the second day of the session, but one important bill was still in committee. That was the $5,000,000 war emergency appropriation bill, held in the Republican dominated Ways and Means committee, by Chairman John Eaple to determine the breakdown of items with earmarking as a possibility.

It had been previously decided that the big war-chest was not to go through as a blank check for the Governor, but will be administered by the evenly divided state administrative board.

A war measure, which in its original form would have established sweeping censorship over news publication by the State Council of Defense and given the Governor unusual removal powers, was quickly amended and modified to remove objectionable features. Once the legislative committee, the Defense Council and administration representatives got together, there was no trouble reaching an understanding. The storm subsided before it got a fair start and the measure was approved by the legislature.

Law Protects Women

Women may work but their hours must still conform to the state law. John W. Gibson, Department of Labor and Industry chairman, has notified employers that the state laws cannot be set aside because of the exigencies of war time production. The 1938 statute, limiting working hours of women to an average nine-hour day and a 14 hour week, still stands.

"Even if it were desirable," Gibson said in a released statement, "I have no authority to abrogate a state statute by administrative order."

He had been asked concerning the matter by employers having government contracts.

Upsets Tradition

The Michigan state senate upset a tradition more than a century old, when it voted in open session to confirm 19 appointments submitted by Governor Van Wagener. To abolish the executive session in which approval of appointments have hitherto always been considered, the senate voted 19 to 9, to revise its rules. The new rules provide that secret sessions may be held only when two-thirds of the body so vote. Transcripts of such sessions will be printed in a secret journal not to be published until the close of the senate. Heretofore the senate went into executive session on a majority vote.

Republican Senator Joseph A. Baldwin of Albion was the champion of tradition-smashing change.
