War Activity Speeded By Scientist Workers

It has been announced from Boston that "The relief work carried on by The Christian Science War Relief Committee is to continue for people abroad regardless of the entry of the United States into the war, and the Committee is prepared to extend its work to provide immediately for any possible need in this country of its possessions." The local Christian Science War Relief Committee meets every week from 10:00 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Beckett, 20548 Delaware Road, and is in charge of Mrs. Beckett as chairman. Those interested in helping in this activity are invited to meet with the group or to call Mrs. Beckett at Redford 1794 for information. The local group is increasing its efforts to supply knitted garments and other articles. The need in Britain is increasingly great because of the clothing which growing children wear out, and also because the clothing with which many persons started the war must now be replaced. Our own service men which were sent to Iceland were outfitted before they left the U. S. with 42 sweaters, 20 scarves, 17 helmets, 150 pairs of socks, and 100 pairs of gloves. Other army groups have been supplied with similar articles where needed.

Michigan Still A Fur Producer

Like a picture out of Michigan's pioneer past is this display of one man's catch in a 30-day season. Trapper Houghton King proudly points out to Larry Dayne some of the best catches of the year. The take includes pelts of 40 muskrats, 15 mink, six foxes, four raccoons, two skunks and a weasel. About 20,000 persons are licensed to trap in Michigan each year.

Letters To The Editor

February 3, 1942 Farmington Enterprise, Farmington, Mich. Dear Sir: A special meeting of the City Commission called by Mayor Goldmeister was held at the City Hall Thursday evening, January 29, 1942 at 9:30 o'clock p. m. You will recall that at the last regular meeting, held Wednesday, January 14, 1942, the resignation of Charles Kowalski as Chief of Police of Farmington was presented for the action of the Commission. The Commission accepted said resignation as of February 1st, 1942. The Commissioner of Police advised the Commission that, in anticipation of such action, he had interviewed several prospects to fill the vacancy and that he had two men under consideration, one of whom was a Farmington resident with considerable police patrol experience, but who was so situated that he could not accept the position for less than $2100.00 per year, while the other man, also qualified by many years of police experience, though not at the present time as a resident of the city but was willing to move here, would take the position at a salary of $1800.00 per year. The budget allowance for a Chief of Police is $1500.00 per year, so that the salary requirement of each of these men was in excess of the budget. In view of the fact that the City would be without a Chief of Police on February 1st, some two weeks prior to the next regular meeting of the City Commission, the Police Commissioner requested that the Commission grant him the authority to make further investigation and hire a man for the vacancy as in his sound judgment seemed to be to the best interest of the City. A motion to that effect was offered by Commissioner Griffith, Commissioner Otis proposed an amendment that a special meeting be called that the Commission might approve of any person hired by the Commissioner of Police. In accord with such motion a special meeting was called and held Thursday evening, January 29, 1942, with all the Commissioners present. You did not have a reporter at said meeting so that you were not in a position to apprise the public, through your publication, of the proceedings of said meeting. The Mayor announced the purpose of the meeting and asked the Commissioner of Police for a report. In the course of his remarks the Police Commissioner stated that he had not been entirely satisfied with the candidates that he had mentioned in the previous meeting; that subsequent to that meeting he had interviewed a number of eligible prospects and had given the matter considerable thought, study and research; that he had become convinced as a result of his survey that any man aimed should have the following qualifications: 1st. He should come from outside of Farmington. 2nd. He should be a man with considerable police work background, and 3rd. He should be able and willing to accept the position at the salary of $1500.00 provided in the city budget.

The Commissioner of Police then informed the Commission that beyond his hope and expectation, he had succeeded in locating a man that filled all of the requirements; that the man he had hired had resigned from the Police Department in Detroit after 27 years of very creditable service; that he had had wide and extensive experience in and knowledge of police problems; that he came highly recommended by the Detroit Police authorities; that he is a man a little over sixty years of age, vigorous, active, well understood, and with a very likeable personality. He was known on sight by several of the Commissioners since a few years back he had been chosen by the Exchange Club as a guest speaker at one of their meetings.

The Commissioner of Police further stated that he had sought the advice of accepted authorities and men who had more experience in running Police establishments than he, and had been strongly advised that it was most desirable to employ a man as Chief of Police who in the enforcement of our ordinances was not restricted by old friendship ties, and committed to no person or group of persons, and with no affiliations that would hamper or influence him in the exercise of his sound judgment and impartial and impartial administration of the office. The Commissioner of Police further informed the Commission that the man he had selected had no acquaintance in Farmington and that he was not only eminently qualified but that he was willing to accept the position at a salary of $1500.00, the amount allocated in the budget, since he would not be entirely dependent upon the salary of the office, and furthermore that he was willing to move to Farmington and make his home in the community.

After the open and frank statement of the Police Commissioner it became apparent that four members of the Commission solidly supported a candidate that is now a resident of Farmington and engaged in Police patrol, but whose salary demand was $2000 in excess of $2100.00. These four Commissioners had had picked this man without consulting the Commission, and tried to force his selection by the Commissioner of Police in spite of the fact that his salary demand was $500 in excess of the budget allowance, and in the face of the report and recommendation of the Police Commissioner. This procedure was ruled out of order because the Commission, by unanimous action at its regular meeting, had given the Commissioner of Police the authority to investigate and employ a Chief of Police to fill the vacancy subject only to the approval of the Commission. The meeting was then adjourned, and the City of Farmington at this time is without a Chief of Police. To meet the emergency the Commissioner of Police, at the request of the Mayor, has appointed Edward Thayer to temporarily act as day Police patrol officer. He was sworn in by the Clerk on Monday, February 2nd, and will continue to act as day Police patrol officer until that all acts of the servants of the people and official proceedings of governmental bodies should be published, and therefore Mr. Editor, it is requested that you print this letter in your columns. Yours very truly, Max Hays, Commissioner of Police.

To the Editor Farmington Enterprise Farmington, Michigan Sir: I have read a great deal lately about the heroes of Wake Island. In my humble way I would like to add my cheers to the thousands who have said something for these boys. Just think—out there alone; no bands playing, no one to cheer them on, but a job to be done—and they did it! Surely they will go down in the history of the nation as real men! And while we're at it, let's not forget those workmen there, who pitched in and helped the soldiers in their defense. I read where they worked day and night building shelters which helped the soldiers to keep going longer. Now we read these Wake heroes are prisoners in Japan. We should trade them out of that horrible captivity as soon as possible. However, since one American is worth 10 Japs as a fighter, probably the Japs would want 10 to one in trade for our hard hitting heroes.
