WARNING!

Persons are warned to be careful when burning off fields that the fire doesn't get beyond control. According to Fire Commissioner Adolph Nacker, fields become dry tinder in no time during this period of the year and fires can whip out of control before you know it.

trol before you know it.

Fires of this nature are very costly, Nacker added, and can so easily be eliminated. "We ask everyone to be more careful in burning off their fields and cut down the Frest loss experienced through this menace," the Fire Commissioner stated. Don't start too large a fire; don't leave the fire at any time and never start a fire when the wind is strong enough to whip it out of control, are three don'ts laid down by the Commissioner for everyone to adhere to.
