THE STORY: was not complete last week about the chicken that laid the 5½ oz. egg. Furtheri developments occurred Friday morning when a telephone call: brought us the information that the chicken belonging to Mrs. Damon, had been purchased from Ernest Ham. That makes that egg a truly Farmington product, for it works out that it came from a chicken owned by a Farmington woman, who had purchased her baby chicks from a Farmington; chick dealer, and they had been fed on Farmington produced feed. If you can understand all that, you're doing better than we are. License
